

POISONING BOLL WEEVIL PAYS $32.10 ACRE

Profit from cotton depends on the cheapness with which it is produced. Proper fertilization and cultivation are important factors in the production of cotton for a low cost, but early poisoning and standard dust poisoning to control the boll weevil are also necessary.

Poisoning to control the boll weevil has been tested in South Carolina for eight years under practically every condition to which a farm can be subjected. In these tests average profits per acre from early poisoning was $12.64 and from standard dust poisoning $32.10. Early poisoning prior to standard dust poisoning has consistently given about $12.50 profit per acre over standard dust poisoning alone.

Cotton is up to a good stand in many fields in Lee county, and it will not be long until it is time to apply the early (per Square) poison. Therefore, every cotton grower should secure molasses and calcium arsenate for the pre-square poisoning and Calcium Arsenate for later applications of the standard dust. During leisure time mops for early poisoning should be made by tying strips of burlap bags on the end of a thin board which is about two inches wide and two and one-half feet long. Dusting machines should be purchased and have them ready when eight to ten per cent of the squares are punctured.

It is important that growers become acquainted with the proper procedure to follow in poisoning as improper methods do not produce profit. The early poison, which is a mixture of one pound of Calcium Arsenate, one gallon of molasses, and one gallon of water, should be applied as soon as a few small squares appear on the cotton before they are large enough to be punctured. This mixture should be applied at the rate of one gallon per acre by means of a home-made rag mop, taking care to reach all growing tips of the plants. Later in the season if taking to ten per cent of the squares are punctured the standard dust poison should be applied with a good dusting machine that will blow the dust over all parts of the cotton plant. Three applications of the dust at five day intervals will be necessary. Dust should be applied when the air is still, preferably early in the morning or late in the evening.

BIG CELEBRATION THIRD DEGREE MASONRY

Two Local Fellowcrafts To Receive Symbolic Rite.

On Tuesday, May 27, the Sanford Masonic Lodge will confer the sublime degree of Ancient Free and Accepted Masonry, in ancient form, upon two Sanford Fellowcrafts. Many will recall the splendid degree work of the Sanford team last fall at which time visitors were present from various parts of the state and to which several Grand Lodge Officers were in attendance.

The Sanford Lodge degree team, composed principally of members of Sanford Masonic Club is reputed to be one of the best teams in the State. The degree team will carry out all the ancient usages of Masonry in conferring the degree and the members will be arrayed in costumes such as were used by the Craftsmen in the building of King Solomon's Temple in Jerusalem.

The team has already begun rehearsals of this work, their first rehearsals having been held at the last meeting of the Masonic Club in lieu of the regular program of that organization. Interest in the work is running high to the end that this degree shall surpass in beauty and craftsmanship the last exemplification of the sublime degree of Masonry.

The same team will work out the degree that appeared last fall, at which time nearly three hundred masons were present. The local lodge anticipates a larger crowd at this meeting and suggests to all visiting masons from out of Sanford, who have never been before, to be present early at this meeting so their examination can be completed before the meeting starts. This will be extremely important to visitors.

The meeting will open promptly at seven thirty P. M.

FARRELL-GAYNOR COMBINE DOES UKELELE NUMBERS

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell make their debut as ukelele strummers extraordinary in "High Society Blues," Fox Movietone romantic romance, coming next Monday and Tuesday to the New Temple Theatre. Neither Miss Gaynor nor Farrell ever have had a musical "double" and they made no exceptions when called upon to play ukelele.

Miss Gaynor took a course of ukelele lessons from the greatest native teacher on a recent trip to Hawaii. Miss Gaynor sings four songs and Farrell sings five. The musical score was written by Joseph McCarthy and James P. Hanley. McCarthy is co-author of "Rio Rita," "Irene," "Kid Boots" and many other famous productions; while Hanley has written scores of popular song hits.

The director, David Butler, also directed the Gaynor-Farrell team in "Sunny Side Up." Others prominent in the cast include William Collier, Sr., Joyce Compton, Heida Hooper, Louise Fazenda, Lucien Littlefield, Brandon Hurst and Gregory Gays.

MCIIVER BUILDING SOLD

The Express is informed that the McIiver building on the corner of Moore and Carthage Streets, owned by Mrs. D. E. McIiver, has been sold to Mrs. Harriet K. Butler, wife of Howard Butler, who is connected with the coal mine at Coal Glen. The sale was consummated within the past few days and the new owner is now in possession of the property.

WILRIK HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

The Express has information from a reliable source that it has changed hands within the past few days. Barrow-Chapman Hotel Corporation, of Norfolk, Va., which operates hotels in a number of towns, has closed a deal by buying an option which was held by Mr. J. C. Williams, who operated the hotel for the past few months. It is said that they now have a 10-year lease on the property and will take charge of the hotel the first of June. This concern is said to be financially strong. No doubt they plan to push the hotel business in Sanford and do everything possible to pull the tourist travel over Federal Highway No. 1. A link of this road is being hard surfaced in South Carolina and when two-thirds of this road is hard surfaced in this State, there will be a hard surfaced road all the way from the Canadian line to Miami, Fla. This is the shortest route South and should draw heavy tourist travel.

Juniors Entertained. The Junior Class of the Jonesboro High School numbering thirty members was delightfully entertained last Friday afternoon when their attractive little mascot, Gloria Stuart Campbell was hostess at a delightful outing. Cars were provided and the young people drove to Paradise Vista near Goldston, where for an hour or two boating and swimming were engaged in. Games and contests were also enjoyed. Just before returning home, Mrs. W. H. Campbell, mother of the hostess, served a delicious supper in cafeteria style with cold drinks. The above outing proved to be one of the most delightful of the spring season.

Progressive Farmer Absorbs Southern Ruralist

The Progressive Farmer, a North Carolina corporation, with offices in five principal Southern cities, has announced acquisition of the Southern Ruralist, of Atlanta, Ga., thus becoming not only pre-eminent in the South, but the largest strictly farm paper in the world. The two publications forming the merger now has a circulation of over 600,000 and the estimated combined circulation, eliminating duplications, will be 1,135,000 copies. The merger will become effective on September 1, and beginning on that date the publication will become a semi-monthly under the name of The Progressive Farmer (consolidated with the Southern Ruralist). Offices in Raleigh will remain as now and Dr. McIver will continue to head the organization.

A STILL AND BLOCKADER CAPTURED WEDNESDAY

Sheriff Sam Womble and Deputy Sheriff J. M. Thomas made a raid Wednesday afternoon and captured a small galvanized still and complete outfit in the home of Luther McLucas, colored, of Highway No. 50 between Sanford and Conway, also a new copper water boiler, and 75 pounds of sugar, and three quarts of liquor. They placed McLucas under arrest charged with making liquor and in default of bond placed him in jail to await a hearing at the next term of Recorder's Court.

CARDON NEWS

There will be a Presbyterian church on the fourth Sunday morning in May.

Miss Clara Chas. Wilcox has completed the seventh grade and received her diploma for school life. She deserves praise for her efforts and dependability and also her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Wilcox, who did so much that caused her perfect attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Harrington, Mrs. Annie Gasser, Catherine, E. M. Jr., and Willson Harrington returned to Plainsville, Ga. Friday after a week's visit with Mrs. Mamie McLeod.

Mr. J. E. Poe, of Mt. Gilead, spent the week-end here with his father, Mr. J. D. Poe.

Mrs. J. A. Ausley and little daughter, Josephine, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilcox. Glad to say Mr. Fred Tally is able to be out again after several weeks of sickness.

Carleton Woman's Club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. G. Poe.

HERE'S A FACT Worth Remembering because it will save you money. When you buy at the A&P Food Store you do not have to give 5c of every dollar for profit—nor 4c for profit—not even 3c. A&P, unlike other food store systems, deliberately cuts its profit to less than 2 1/2c on a dollar. Five million women every day find that the A&P's lower profit on a dollar results in lower prices on standard high quality foods sold by all A&P Food Stores. It is a saving habit to visit the A&P store first, when you need fine foods. A&P's low profit on a dollar—less than 2 1/2c—means food dollars go further at an A&P Food Store.
