BAILEY'S NOMINATION WOULD BE SURRENDER TO THE WETS

Democratic Wets in Washington from Northern States are Frank To Say That the Nomination of Bailey for Senator as Against Senator Simmons Can Have No Other Meaning at This Time Than the Complete Capitulation of the Solid South to the Smith-Raskob Faction of the Party.

(Washington Correspondence)

Washington, May 26.—It is now recognized in Washington that so far as the national Democratic party is concerned a great deal depends upon whether the Democrats in North Carolina nominate Senator Simmons or J. W. Bailey for the senate in the June primary. It is well known here that the Simmons-Bailey contest had a good deal to do with President Hoover's selection of John J. Parker for justice of the Supreme Court.

But what now concerns Democratic leaders is that the result of the battle between Simmons and Bailey may become an important factor in deciding the issue on which the Democratic party may make its bid for the Presidency in 1932. There is a tremendous struggle in the ranks of both parties over the wet and dry issue.

The wets have succeeded in getting their side of the issue before the country through congressional hearings, lobby investigations and the Literary Digest poll. The senate lobby investigations show that the wets are collecting and expending huge sums of money for propaganda and other means for influencing the public mind in order to capture congress and eventually repeal the 18th amendment.

The Literary Digest poll has had no little to do in encouraging men like Dwight W. Morrow, of New Jersey, to come out flatfooted for the repeal of the 18th amendment. It emboldened the wets to stage a state and senatorial ticket in Pennsylvania and although the Republicans nominated a bone dry in the person of Gifford Pinchot for governor, the wets will probably put an independent ticket for governor in the November election.

Senator Simmons was the outstanding leader of the insurgent dries of the party in that struggle and he remains the outstanding insurgent leader for the struggle of the dries to prevent the party from repeating the fatal blunder of 1928 for the cause.

Make no mistake about the fact. Mr. Bailey may be as dry as a stone in the desert. He may if elected a senator, vote in the senate to uphold prohibition, but his nomination by the Democrats in the primary for senator means only one thing for his party, and that is, that it has surrendered to the wets in their national organization and control of the party.

Democratic wets here from Northern states are frank to say that the nomination of Mr. Bailey for senator as against Senator Simmons can have no other meaning at this time than the complete capitulation of the Solid South to the Smith-Raskob faction of the party.

the North. On the other hand if the senator is chosen there will be no abject surrender of the South to the wets at the next Democratic National Convention.

According to the poll of the Literary Digest North Carolina is one of the five dryest states in the country. Four of these five states, North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma are Democratic and a majority of the other states having dry pluralities are Democratic.

Of course no one can predict with any certainty what will be the upper most political issue two years hence. It half of what the staunchest opponents of the Smoot-Hawley tariff predict will be its effect—that is if the bill is passed and this week will probably decide its fate—the pockets of the consumers may be so rifled that they will forget booze. But prohibition is now the only issue the people are really interested in and what is more the Republicans are now fast coming to realize that their party may be as badly split on prohibition as are the Democrats.

SENATOR SIMMONS THE FARMERS' FRIEND

There has never been a piece of legislation presented before Congress in the past thirty years favorable to the interest of the farmer that did not find Senator Simmons working for it, voting for it. Every agricultural bill recognized by the farm leaders of the South as being calculated or designed to aid or promote the welfare of the North Carolina farmers was championed by Senator Simmons in the United States Senate.

Senator Simmons' interest in the farmers of his State has continued down to date. No longer ago than the fall of 1928 when the tobacco market was pitifully depressed and the farmers of North Carolina were crying aloud in their great distress over the fact that tobacco prices were shot to pieces, Senator Simmons, with statesmanlike courage, risking the displeasure of those who might have profited by such distressing conditions, called for conference between the tobacco growers and manufacturers and presented the appalling conditions so forcibly that the justice of the demands of the farmers of this State were promptly recognized.

Again, in the beginning of 1930, when large numbers of farmers in the South were unable to raise crops of the low cotton prices and had crops of the previous year, to pay their indebtedness and buy fertilizer for the crop year of 1930 Senator Simmons succeeded in getting an appropriation of six million dollars for advancements with which to buy fertilizer and seed.

The foregoing two instances are only illustrative of Senator Simmons' promptness in rising always to the defense of the farming class.

12,000 GALLONS OF LIQUOR DESTROYED IN HAMLET

Rockingham, May 23.—Whiskey with a potential value of around $250,000, which was seized Thursday on the Seaboard Air Line freight yards at Hamlet by Sheriff J. S. Braswell, this morning was consigned to flames and destroyed.

The whiskey was shipped in two Seaboard freight cars, with more than 5,000 gallons estimated in each car. It was loaded on a siding about 16 miles from Charleston and billed to Brooklyn. The contents were listed on the bill of lading as moulder's clay and weight given for each car at 66,000 pounds. This, at 11 pounds to the gallon, would make the seizure nearer 12,000 gallons than 10,000.

Deputy Sheriff Lawrence McLean for some reason "smelled a rat" Thursday and notified Sheriff Braswell of his suspicions. A search warrant was secured and the two cars opened. At the entrance of the cars were piled big sacks of moulder's clay—and after these were removed, there was disclosed hundreds of cases of bottled in bond whiskey, each case neatly packed in gunny sacks. Six quarts and 12 pints were said to be in each case, the bottles bearing a label "Made in Montreal." The name of the whiskey was "Golden Wedding."

The officers sealed the cars, set a guard over them for the night and this morning proceeded with the work of destruction. The cars were shifted to a siding on a steep hill, a huge fire made at the bottom and the cases dumped on to this fire and consumed. Gathered around with watery mouths and hungry eyes were scores of spectators viewing the onslaught and slaughter—and consumption by fire of around 10,000 gallons of whiskey which in the course of business would probably have sold for a quarter of a million dollars in Brooklyn and New York.

For twenty years I took soda for indigestion and stomach gas. Then I tried Adierika. One bottle brought complete relief.

Adierika relieves GAS and sour stomach in TEN minutes! Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels, removing poisons you never knew were there. Don't fool with medicine which cleans only part of the bowels, but let Adierika give stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel.

Goes to Town Alone First Time in Months

MRS. ALICE BRADLEY

"I don't know what there is in Sargon, but it is the most wonderful medicine I ever took in my life! Today is the first time I have been able to come down town alone in six months and it is due to the wonderful strengthening effects of this remarkable medicine!"

"For months my nerves were upset and I was so rundown that I was unable to do any housework, and hardly able to get out of the house. I was so weak I spent most of my time in bed. My appetite was poor, the light eat foods disagreed with me and I suffered continually with constipation. I am on my fourth bottle of Sargon, my appetite is splendid, my digestion is perfect. I am strong and energetic, my nerves are strengthened and my housework is a real pleasure. Sargon pills have rid me of constipation for the first time in years."—Mrs. Alice Brady, 855 Clapp St., San Francisco, Cal.
