SEABOARD

PEACHES WILL SOON BEGIN TO MOVE.

Within the next week or two the peach crop will begin to move in a large way. Much of the crop will be moved to the Northern markets in the way that the dewberry crop was handled by truck. It seems that the fruit is in better shape after being hauled to the market by truck than by rail. Large trucks carry about as much at a load as railroad refrigerator cars. There is a good crop of peaches at the Wilkins orchard near Lemon Springs.

Plans are now being made to gather and ship the crop, which will be ready for gathering in about two weeks. Growers experience no trouble getting all labor they need this season. More pickers went to the dewberry fields than were needed.

The New Ford Panel Delivery....

Always Ready for the Daily round or a flying trip

The new Ford Delivery car has the same chassis as the Model A Ford car. Its speed, power, reliability and economy are a result of careful design, and high standard of materials and workmanship. Safety is equally important. Many features of the Ford Delivery Car combine to make it unusually safe under all conditions.

Alert performance is one feature. It means instant and certain response to controls—to brakes, to the steering wheel, and to the accelerator. The fully enclosed six-brake system of the new Ford is quiet and effective. Extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the steering-gear and front wheel spindles makes a quick turn of the wheel easy. Aluminum-Alloy pistons in the engine, large diameter valves, carburetor, manifold and cylinder head special design—all help to give rapid acceleration. Still another feature increases safety. The new transverse springs not only lessen jolts and shocks, but add to stability and balance. Four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers improve spring action. Sturdy construction and special steels mean both long life and small likelihood of failure in emergencies. The use of Tri-plex Shatterproof windshields prevents injuries from flying glass.

Come in today and see the new Ford Light Delivery Car. Let us show you other unusual features of its design.
