

INFANT ABANDONED AT PALMER'S FILLING STATION AT LIBERTY

Discovered by Mrs. Palmer On Sunday Morning; Cradled in Box; Apparently Doped—Is Probably Month Old; Theory Is That Child was Abandoned by Party or Parties Driving Ford Automobile

A beautiful black-eyed, black-haired baby boy, apparently five or six weeks old, was found abandoned at the I. C. Palmer filling station, about three and one-half miles from Liberty by Mrs. Palmer, wife of the proprietor, as she opened the door of the establishment Sunday morning about 7 o'clock.

Numerous theories have been advanced about how the child happened to be left at the service station, but the general opinion is that a Ford automobile, which is said to have been pulled into the service station, had some connection with the abandonment. It was stated by several that they heard a car roll into the service station, and then pull away, and current belief is that occupants of the car deposited the human cargo on the doorstep of the service station, and departed.

When discovered by Mrs. Palmer, the infant was found to be in a box about a foot square and another box, containing clothing, was close by. The child, perfectly normal, apparently had either been drugged or exhausted by its effort to leave the box, for one of its hands was badly bruised, seemingly from contact with the cement. When found, though, it appeared to be doped and it was several hours later before it appeared to regain its normal mental faculties.

Mrs. Palmer reported the affair to Officers J. W. Moore and J. H. Dixon, who, after a consultation, decided to bring the baby to Asheboro for final disposition. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. T. Underwood, member of the Woman's club of Liberty, who never loses an opportunity to be of service.

There being no other place, Welfare Officer T. F. Bulla arranged with Mrs. Brookshire to care for the baby at the jail until final arrangements can be made. The Woman's club of Liberty has contemplated adopting the baby and others have been looking him over, with a thought of adoption. It is the opinion of many that the wonder is how anyone could abandon him.

Police are investigating several clues in the hope of finding the party or parties responsible for the abandonment. One of the most tangible pieces of evidence points to Jonesboro as figuring in the episode, as the box containing the baby also contained a piece of wrapping paper, bearing the label of Aven & Thomas, mercantile establishment of Jonesboro.

Anyway, the homeless one has had plenty of attention and he enjoys his food and cares little who is responsible for his comfort.—Asheboro Courier.

Officers received a tip that Dr. Bob Palmer attended the woman who gave her name as Helen Roberts. It turns out that the child was born at the home of Wes Carroll near Sanford. After revenue officers visited the home and saw her and the child in an upper room, she returned to the home of her parents in this county. Sheriff Sam Womble and Deputy Paul Watson of this county, and Sheriff Milliken, of Randolph, went to the McLendon home and found it locked. Admittance was refused, but members of the family finally consented and permitted Deputy Watson to enter and interview the young woman. She at first denied that the child belonged to her, but finally confessed that it was her child. Her story to Watson was that a strange man and woman came to the home and asked if she did not have a baby to give away. She said she gave it to them and they carried it off. After being further questioned about the matter, she finally acknowledged that she had Walter Fields and Aubrey Walters, of Greensboro, to carry it off. It is stated that she left the Carroll home with them. It is reported that Walters has been arrested. Deputy Sheriff Watson has a warrant for Fields.

HAROLD MAKEPEACE LEASES CAROLINA HOTEL

Harold Makepeace, son of Mr. O. P. Makepeace, who built and opened the Carolina Hotel in 1927, has leased the hotel from the Sanford Sash and Blind Company, the owners, and will operate it after August 1st. He has been connected with the hotel since it first opened and has proven his ability to handle the business and keep things going. He plans to make great improvements in the hotel during the next few months. The interior of the building will be redecorated from bottom to top and other improvements. This hotel has been drawing a good patronage and plans are on foot to make the service more efficient than ever.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Mr. J. G. Boone, who is farming this year on the Stephens place below Jonesboro, presented The Express yesterday with a basket of beautiful Georgia Belles and Elbertas raised by him this season. The flavor of the peaches was unusually fine and they were clear of worms. The sandy soil of Lee county will produce as fine peaches as can be raised in the world.

While coming into town Tuesday afternoon a Ford driven by Harold Gilmore struck the car driven by Rev. A. J. Groves, who was moving out of the parking place on Carriage street. The Ford turned over, but fortunately the driver escaped without injury. The cars were damaged very little.

The State Highway Patrol in addition to performing the duties of law enforcement produced last year a profit of $10,000 for the State. The 37 members of the Patrol, carrying out their work of enforcing highway laws and promoting education and safety of the highways, warned 146,966 drivers of road violations and arrested 4,437 offenders. Of these arrests 539 were for reckless driving; 454 for drunken driving; 394 for failure to return cards showing that faulty equipment had been repaired; 142 for not observing signals; 133 for minor offenses, and 2,025 on miscellaneous charges. Patrolmen traveled 1,172,724 miles in performance of their duties.

It was stated in The Express last week that Mr. C. E. Teague had resigned at superintendent of the city and county schools; that his resignation was accepted at a joint meeting of the county board of education and the board of trustees of the Sanford Graded Schools and a committee appointed to recommend a man for the vacancy. The Express is informed that the committee has received applications from a number of men who are now engaged in school work, but who would like to make a change. Some of these men are prominent in school work in the State and the committee feels that it has some good material to select from. A joint meeting of the board will probably be held in a few days so as to hear the report of the committee, and elect a superintendent.

DROUGHT PREVENTED BY RAINFALL HERE HITS MANY STATES

Drouth that had begun to grip this section during the recent unusually hot spell was definitely, even if temporarily, broken during the past week. Rains beginning in this section a week ago yesterday kept up daily through Friday the generous showers in many sections of Lee county and the Piedmont section generally. On several days and nights gentle rain fell for hours at times, extending over a rather wide area.

The streams in this section have not been materially raised by the rainfall which during the week totaled several inches the daily flow was somewhat affected. This county was visited by a number of showers during June, which held off the drouth that has scourged nearby sections to the west.

Friday the United States weather bureau chief at Washington announced that some twenty states are suffering from an unusually prolonged drouth, among them Virginia, which borders this state on the north. Kentucky, Ohio, Maryland and West Virginia were other states named as particularly hard hit, having been short of rain for eight months. Twelve other southern and middle western states are also short of moisture.

J. B. Kincer, chief of the Weather Bureau's Division of Agricultural Meteorology, calculated that in one State alone—Ohio—the shortage of rainfall on the basis of normal precipitation has actually amounted to 140,000,000 tons of water a day for the past 137 days.

If this deleted moisture had to be carried into the State for use by farmers, municipal water plants, and water power companies, Kincer said, it would mean 25,000 trains of 100 cars each would be needed every day. Each car of every train he said would have to carry 50 tons of water.

During the period from March 1, to July 17, Dr. Kincer continued, only 64 per cent of normal rainfall has been experienced throughout the "Buckeye State" while other brouth-clutched states have been in an even worse plight.

In Kentucky, from March 1 to June 1, he said, there has been only 50 per cent of normal rainfall, while over a seven-months period starting with December, Virginia has had only 65 per cent and West Virginia only 66 per cent.

Warning already has been issued in parts of Maryland that unless rain falls inhabitants will be forced to curtail their water consumption.

Miss Maggie Wicker has returned from Moore's Creek Battle Ground where she has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore.

(Section 50, World War Veterans' Act 1924.)

BUSES REFUSE TO STOP HERE

The following announcement was received here Wednesday morning: "Raleigh, North Carolina, July 22, effective immediately, and until further notice buses will not stop just outside the city limits of Sanford and will make no stops in the city. We indeed regret that this is necessary, but it has been forced on us as some of the city officials will not permit us to make what we consider adequate stops in Sanford. Safety Transit Company, by H. Pierce Brawner, vice-president, and general manager."

This follows an ordinance passed Tuesday afternoon which prohibited buses stopping at any point in the city except at the union bus station. For several days the buses of the Safety Transit Company have been stopping to discharge and take on passengers at the Wilrik hotel. This was objected to by the management of the Carolina and Sanford hotels and as the Safety Transit Co. declined to stop this practice, two of their drivers were placed under arrest for violating the city traffic laws, by cutting too sharply across the street intersections. Bonds were given for their appearance for trial on Friday afternoon. The announcement of the Safety Transit Company that they will discontinue stopping their buses in Sanford has been brought to the attention of the State Corporation Commission by the city officials for their ruling in the matter. In the meantime, passengers going to or from Sanford on this line are going outside the city limits in order to use the buses. The Safety Transit Company operates a bus line four times each way daily between Charlotte and Raleigh in addition to their through New York Miami buses. The bus line from Greensboro to Sanford, Sanford to Fayetteville and Durham to Rockingham which is known as the Greensboro-Fayetteville bus line, is not affected by the orders.

"THRIFT REWARDED ONCE AGAIN"

Semi-Annual Financial Statement of the Sanford Building & Loan Association Made at the Monthly Meeting of the Board of Directors—Pleased to Note That Shares in the 14th Series Would Mature as of August 1st in the Usual Time, Six Years, Five Months.

The board of directors in their regular monthly meeting held on July 17th, reviewed the semi-annual financial statement of the Sanford Building & Loan Association as of June 30th, and were pleased to note that the shares in the 14th series would mature as of August 1st, in the usual time, six years, five months.

The financial statement shows that the Association has made some progress despite the so-called financial depression, yet this is no surprise if history can be relied upon to repeat itself. During the Cleveland panic of 1893 and the Roosevelt panic of 1907 the Building and Loan Associations of the United States held their own with fewer failures than any other class of financial institutions.

Secretary Brinn advises The Express that he expects to pay out a nice little sum of money to holders of matured stock August 1st. Thrift rewarded once again.

To others who hold shares in the 14th series and have borrowed on them to buy or build a home there will come unique pleasure and happiness when the family can gather around the table and see the old mortgage which has been sticking like a plaster, torn to thread.

The board of directors is composed of W. A. Crabtree, O. P. Makepeace, J. H. Monger, E. M. Underwood, T. S. Cross, W. R. Hartness, Dr. J. I. Neal, A. M. Hubbard, and A. H. McIver, who succeeds the late W. H. Fitts.

PEACHES SELLING AT GOOD PRICES

The Orchards in the Sandhills Now a Hive of Industry—Thousands of Dollars Worth of Peaches Go Through Sanford Daily by Both Rail and Truck—Local Market Well Supplied With Delicious Fruit—Six Cars Shipped This Season From the Wilkins Orchard To New York.

The movement of peaches from the Sandhill section has been gaining momentum for the past ten days. The early varieties brought good prices, owing to the light crop over the South, and it is expected that Elbertas and Georgia Belles will bring considerably better prices than for several years past. The first Elbertas moved on the 15th and for the next two weeks the orchards will be a hive of industry.

The fruit is mostly of good quality, except in the cases of few orchards that were not so well cared for as in the past. The variety is so far short of the average yield, however, that numbers of the Georgia and Florida packers who come here from year to year are moving on further North, as local help seems to be sufficient to harvest the crop.

The Mountain Ice Co., located at Aberdeen, is icing around twenty-five cars daily. The general average of prices for peaches now is around $2.00 to $2.50, f. o. b. shipping point. If you wish to see the crop gathered packed and shipped with perfect system go out to the Wilkins peach farm near Lemon Springs. It will pay one to make a trip to the orchard to see the laborers at work and to see the trees loaded with the beautiful ripe fruit. This is one of the best orchards in the peach producing area and the Wilkins peach has the reputation of being the best raised in this State. No trouble is experienced in selling the fruit from this orchard to the peach dealers in the Northern markets. The first shipped from this orchard this season brought good prices. Six cars of peaches have been shipped from this orchard this season to New York. It is estimated that the crop will amount to 18 or 20 cars. The first car shipped contained 398 bushels which sold for $1,000.00. Sanford is now well supplied with peaches from the Wilkins orchard. They are also brought in from many other orchards. Some of the growers in Lee county are now raising fine peaches for the local market.

Senior B. Y. P. U. Social is "Old-Fashioned" Social.

One of the most original and delightful social affairs of the season was enjoyed by approximately thirty-five young people of the Senior B. Y. P. U. of the Sanford Baptist church when on Friday evening at 7:15 they gathered at the church dressed as school children carrying their books, pencils, and buckets of lunch. The costumes recalled various ages and styles of the past, some being dressed as probably their grandmothers did when children; while others appeared as very modern youths. The "children" enjoyed games such as "Ring Around the Roses," "Hop Scott," etc., the stern Professor Ichabod Snodgrass, (James McIver) met the "children" in the door ringing the bell for books. Classes began promptly after the pupils were seated and the new members enrolled. Reading, spelling, arithmetic, and drawing lessons were held with Tildy Ann Grabber (Katie Yates) declared the best artist. Solomon Socks (Ralph Groce) was presented with a prize for being the "best dressed" boy at school; the judges were unable to decide who was best dressed among the girls, Samantha Fiddlesticks (Luna Yates) or Lucretia Onionskin (Floy Rivers). In drawing for the prize, however, Lucretia won. Mrs. Amos Onionskin (Mrs. F. B. Van Sant) visited the school in order to see that her "children" were properly started off in these parts. Rev. Ezra Grabber (F. C. Hawkins), a minister of the community, together with his family, visited the school and cracked wise jokes. After classes, the members of the school spread their lunches together in a room in the rear of the school building and enjoyed a sumptuous feed. The roll revealed that the following members were present: George Washington Doolittle, Nathan Bartholomew Punksseed, Tumpy Punksseed, Malinda Cabbagehead, Spooky Hogwallow, Peggy Jane Hogwallow, Maria Slickback, Pinkie Redtop, Liza Ann Clodhopper, Alfred Tennyson Onionskin, Lucretia Onionskin, Stonewall Jackson Onionskin, Marandy Soapstick, Tildy Ann Grabber, Liza Sugarbowl, Suzanna Gobble, Samantha Fiddlesticks, Sweetie Spookendike, Susie Culpepper, Sallie Ann Fishbone, Annie Bet Hodgepodge, Abner Tiptoe, Solomon Socks, Pollyanna Socks, Ezekiel Whiddietree, Ambrose Fishbone, Deliah Jenkins, Cattie Honeycutt, Mrs. Amos Onionskin, Absolom Onionskin, Joe Etta Cornstark, Serena Ann Toplow, Peorie Raindrop, Professor Ichabod Snodgrass, and the Rev. Ezra Grabber and family.

MESSRS. BRINN AND ANDREWS TALK TO KIWANIS CLUB ABOUT CO-OPERATION

Mr. Brinn Appealed to the Members of the Club to Pull Together for the Success of the Schools of the Town and County Under Management of the Superintendent that will be Named in a Few Days—Frank Andrews Made a Strong Appeal to the Club to Co-Operate and Work for the Upholding of Sanford and This Section.

Kiwanian J. E. Brinn had charge of the program at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Carolina Hotel last Friday night. He made a most excellent talk in appealing to the members of the club to pull together and work for the advancement of the schools of the town and county under the management of the new superintendent who will be named in a few days to succeed Mr. C. E. Teague who recently resigned to take school work in another city of the State. "Give the committee a chance to get a good man and give the man your hearty support for a year before passing judgment," said Mr. Brinn. He was impressed with the spirit which was shown by the Greensboro people who attended a banquet recently held at the Wilrik Hotel in honor of bank officials of Sanford and Greensboro.

Kiwanian Frank Andrews, formerly of Greensboro, who was recently made cashier of the Greensboro Bank and Trust Company, of this place, made a very timely talk on the subject of co-operative spirit that enabled it to become a city in a few short years. "When I left Greensboro and came to Sanford I made up my mind that from that time on I would be for Sanford 100 per cent." He expressed the opinion that Sanford has the spirit that will make things go. He thinks that Sanford's splendid location together with its wonderful back country will do much to make it a city in the years to come.

A feature of the program was the music—two solos by Kiwanian Jarvis Brooks—to the accompaniment of Miss Blanche Godfrey, of Jonesboro. Miss Godfrey and Al Coleman were guests of the evening. A contest was held on signing the members of the club to give the names of the members of the board of county commissioners, board of aldermen of Sanford, new hospital board, county school board and Sanford school board. President J. U. Gunter, Secretary D. B. Teague and J. C. Pittman tied for the prize.

Following is the names of the members of the different boards: County Commissioners—R. E. Marks, chairman; D. C. Lawrence, Tom Matthews, B. C. Kelly, J. M. Wilcox. Board of Aldermen—W. R. Makepeace, E. M. Underwood, J. T. Ledwell, T. A. Riddle, Mayor, W. R. Williams, chairman. Hospital Board—J. R. Ingram, chairman; J. U. Gunter, J. R. Jones, Sr., R. L. Mann, G. T. Chandler. County School Board—D. E. Shaw, E. R. Buchan, J. C. Watson, chairman. Sanford School Board—O. P. Makepeace, chairman; J. W. Stout, A. E. McIver, T. E. Ussery, R. B. Wicker, J. E. Brinn, P. J. Barringer, Dr. Lynn McIver, N. A. Johnson.

The egg breaking stunt pulled off by Kiwanian J. W. Kirkpatrick made one forget for the time being that the weather was hot. Blindfolded he thought he was walking on eggs, but was relieved to discover that he was making flour out of soda crackers. Kiwanian T. A. Wicker gave some facts about his past life.

The following paragraphs are quoted from the weekly letter of Secretary Teague:

THE GOVERNOR COMING: Not referring to O. MAX GARDNER, but to ALLISON HONEYCUTT, Governor of the Carolinas District—a real Governor. He expects to be with us for the meeting this week. June and the rest of us are anxious to have a full house to greet him. He has a high opinion of our Club, and he will bring us a fine spirit and inspiration. Louise may possibly be with us also. If she gets here, we may "Row" some more, "Work on the railroad" and do some of those other familiar stunts that enlivened the meetings so much during the winter months.

THE THERMOMETER: About all one can say about the weather is: As a rule, man's a fool. When it's hot he wants it cold. When it's cold he wants it hot. Always wanting what is not.

AT THE CAROLINA: You may count on Harold's having a bevy of electric fans singing for us Friday night at 6:30, thus making the dining room "The coolest spot in town." So don't stay away to keep cool. Harold will cool you, Allison will warm you, Louise will soothe you, and you will go away happier than you came.
