Courts requiring that the derendant maintain his invalid daughter who is confined in a tubercular sanitarium, during the period of banishment, was the judgment rendered Tuesday in the case of the State vs. John Gilmore, convicted of possession of liquor for the purpose of sale.

The case against Gilmore, colored keeper of the lodge room of a fraternal order in the colored quarters of the city, grew out of a recent raid on this place by local officers who found a large quantity of whiskey and a collection of empty bottles and jars in which it was assumed the contraband was vended. Both John Gilmore and his brother, Dave Gilmore, were tried upon the same charges, the former pleading guilty while the latter plead not guilty.

A few weeks ago a story appeared in some of the daily papers to the effect that J. W. Bain, formerly of Sanford, but who for the past few years, has made his home in Fayetteville, had brought suit against Dr. J. H. Norman, physician of the North Carolina State prison at Raleigh, for lamage to the amount of $50,000 for alleged alienation of the affections of the plaintiff's wife. The defendant, in filing answer, affections of the plaintiff's wife. The defendant, in filing answer, through his attorneys, Briggs and Broughton, of Raleigh, to the charges, contends that any and all relations between him and the plaintiff's wife were proper, respectful, and free from any wrongful intent, purpose or suggestion." suggestion.

The answer admits that the defend-ant carrien on long-distance telephone ant carrien on long-distance telephone conversations with Mrs. Bain but claims they were entirely proper and related solely to the condition of the latter's father, who is an inmate of the State Prison and in ill health. Mrs. Bain was very solicitous about her father and made frequent trips to the prison to see him, it is stated, and the meetings between her and the defendant hinged solely on the fact it is stated in the answer.

The answer makes one other administration of the stated in the state of the st
