

DREAD TOBACCO DISEASE RIFE IN LEE COUNTY

County Agent McMahan Reports Prevalence of Tobacco Blue Mould Here.

Downy mildew, known scientifically as tobacco blue mould, has made its appearance in Lee county, according to County Agent E. O. McMahan.

This disease, states the farm demonstrator, has been found on the tobacco plants on the farms of E. H. Wilson, Lemon Springs; C. H. Fields, near White Hill church; and on the Never Fail farm at Pineview.

The dread disease has been recognized in at least two other North Carolina counties, Green and Robeson, says S. G. Lehman, plant pathologist for the North Carolina experiment station.

The disease may be in plant beds of other counties but as yet has been unrecognized. "Growers should watch their beds closely for the appearance of a bluish mould on the leaves of the young plants," says Dr. Lehman.

"When this is seen, prompt measures should be taken to prevent further spread. Usually the disease appears in spots. Under conditions of rainy weather, or under cool dewy nights alternating with warm days, the disease spreads rapidly through a bed killing the plants about the time they are ready to set in the field.

All plants in the diseased spots should be destroyed. The best way to destroy the affected areas is to soak the plants and the soil in the disease area and a few feet around it with a solution of one part of formaldehyde to 25 parts of water, recommends Dr. Lehman.

Cover this area with soil. Next spray the entire bed with Bordeaux Mixture, made up by making 2 pounds of Copper Sulphate and 2 pounds of Stone Lime in 50 gallons of water.

Dr. Lehman says this protective spray should be applied daily during the rainy weather and every two or three days when it is not raining.

Also give the young plants plenty of air and sunlight and transplant to the open field as soon as possible. However, no diseased plants should be put in the field.

RESULTS OF MEETING

As a partial result of the special services held at the First Baptist church with Dr. A. Paul Bagby, as the preaching, the following have been received into the membership of this church and were baptized last Sunday night: Ruby McManus, Helen McManus, Ernestine McManus, Durema Vestal, Carl Latimer, Jr., Edwin Gavin, Jr., Catherine Seignor, Marie Spivey, Cummings McManus, Jr., Virginia Dowdy, Felix Bernard, Theresa McCormick, Blanche Williams, and Sarah Griffin, the latter joining the Baptist church at Pittsboro.

Donald Vick, Billy Wood and Hobson Cooper, Jr., joined also and will be baptized at a later date. Those joining by letter are Mrs. Ada McManus, Mrs. Ralph Womble, Mrs. C. T. Latimer, Mrs. E. H. Frazier, Mrs. S. W. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McManus.

AGED BROADWAY MAN DIES MONDAY

Mr. W. A. Sloan, aged 80, died at his home in Broadway Sunday night following a long illness. The deceased was one of the pioneer citizens of Broadway and until his retirement a few years ago had been engaged in the mercantile business.

Funeral services were held from the Broadway Presbyterian church Monday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. E. B. Carr, officiating.

Two sons, Will Sloan, of Connecticut, and Frank Sloan, a druggist at Cameron; and one daughter, Mrs. A. W. Huntley, of Wadesboro, survive. One son, Henry Sloan, a popular druggist, preceded him to the grave.

Interment was in the Jonesboro cemetery. He was married with Masonic honors, having been a member of the Sanford lodge for many years.

LAKEVIEW IS READY FOR ANOTHER SEASON

Famed Watering Place to Again Be Under Management of Mr. and Mrs. Worth W. Miller—Will Attract Many Visitors During Summer.

Lakeview, the famed watering-place of Moore county, instead of remaining closed for this summer as was erroneously reported to this newspaper sometime ago, has already opened for the present season, Henry L. Graves stated while in Sanford Tuesday.

The resort, Mr. Graves said, will again be under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Worth W. Miller, the popular host and hostess of last season.

Lakeview, famous as a gathering place for Moore and adjoining counties for the past thirty-one years, will this year present all of the manifold attractions for which the place has gained note in the past. There will be bathing, boating and dancing. The beautiful park about the lake will be available for church and family picnics at greatly reduced rates, states the management.

MAY 23rd NATIONAL POPPY DAY

American Legion Auxiliary Will Sell Poppies Here For Disabled Veterans.

Auxiliary members all over the country will again offer them the privilege of wearing the little red poppy in memory of our boys living and dead.

The poppy sale is really a continuation of the work of mercy and relief which the women did during the war. Through the sale of these little memorial flowers the auxiliary raises funds to carry on its activities for the welfare of the disabled veterans, their dependents and the dependents of the men who have died.

The need for this service instead of growing less as the years pass, has become heavier each year. Veterans are dying every day leaving families. Others are breaking down from results of war injuries and sickness, and losing their earning power.

The Legion Auxiliary has a constantly growing roster in looking after the welfare of these unfortunate victims of the war and the Auxiliary is very grateful to the organizations which are helping it fulfill its responsibility.

The poppies which the local unit of the auxiliary will offer were made by disabled veterans at Oteen Hospital. They are exact replicas of the wild poppy of France and Belgium which grew on the battlefields.

Second price will be asked for the flowers, each purchaser being allowed to contribute any amount he desires for his poppy. The bulk of the money which the citizens of Sanford will pay for their poppies will remain here in the city and will be used for the relief of disabled veterans and needy families of veterans during the coming year.

Right here in our own town of Sanford we have men, women and children who are still paying the price of America's World War victory in suffering, hardships, and blighted opportunities. The poppy money is for them.

If every one could understand the needs of these could be few persons in this city without a poppy on "Poppy Day," Saturday, May 23rd.

BAPTIST WOMEN HOLD ALL DAY SESSION HERE

Greensboro Division of Women's Missionary Union Met Here Last Friday—125 Delegates In Attendance.

Approximately 125 delegates and visitors from the churches of the Greensboro division of the Women's Missionary Union met in an all day session here last Friday at the First Baptist church.

The meeting was opened by devotionary services by Rev. Frank C. Hawkins, pastor of the First Baptist church. Mrs. John W. Freeman delivered the address of welcome to which Mrs. J. G. Tingie, of Burlington, responded.

Reports submitted by Mrs. M. J. Whitted, Durham district superintendent, and the association superintendent, indicated that the accomplishments of the societies of the district during the past year were very satisfactory. The treasurer's report, given by Mrs. J. M. Cates, showed that the finances of the Union were in excellent shape, the contributions having been almost up to normal.

Miss Pearl H. Johnson, of Pittsboro, returned a mission report from China, delivered an interesting address in which she told of the work that is being carried on there. Mrs. Edna Harris, of Raleigh State Missionary Study Secretary, spoke of the church's mission work at home and abroad. An interesting history of the Sandy Creek Baptist Association was read by Mrs. E. D. Nall.

This association is said to be the second oldest in the United States, having been founded in 1758 at Sandy Creek church, Randolph county.

At 1 P. M. the members of the Sanford society of the Union acted as hostesses to the gathering, serving a delicious luncheon in the dining hall of the church. This was followed by an afternoon session at which reports of the work of the Union were heard, including the young people's leader, Mrs. J. C. Canipe; Missionary Secretary, Mrs. A. Kern; Advanced Course, Mrs. R. N. Rumble; Stewardship, Mrs. J. G. Boorhour; Personal Service, Mrs. R. L. Wilborn; Conference, Mrs. Edna Harris, and of committees, Mrs. R. N. Rumble.

During the afternoon session the history of the Sanford Missionary Union was given by Mrs. P. H. St. Clair. The local society was organized in 1903 and has grown until it now has a total membership of 96 members. The members of the Union are members of eight associations, centered in Lee, Chatham, Durham, Caswell, Person, Orange, Guilford, and parts of Wake are embraced in the Greensboro Division.

IMPORTANT MEETING LEGION ON MAY 21st.

The regular meeting of Lee Post No. 18, American Legion, will be held in the Armory at Sanford, N. C. Thursday evening, May 21, 1931, at 8:00 o'clock. This is going to be one of the most important meetings of the year as plans are to be made for Memorial Day, which is May 30th, and also the Legion's Fourth of July Program is to be gone into at this time.

It is the intention of the local Post to stage a celebrated Fourth of July this year and in order to make it a success the cooperation of every legionnaire is necessary and your presence is necessary at this meeting if our program is to be a success.

Every legionnaire and veteran of Lee county or the adjoining counties who rightly belong in this post is urged to attend this meeting. There may be refreshments—don't fail to come and see—Thursday, May 21, 8:00 P. M. in the armory.

Duncan St. Clair is at home from the University to accept a position with the Sanford Express.

GROCERY CHAIN HAS BIG GROWTH

Progressive Stores, Inc. Started Two Years Ago, To Open 16th Store Next Saturday.

The Progressive Stores, Inc., a North Carolina chain of grocery stores, with headquarters in Sanford, will open their sixteenth store in Clayton Saturday. Although this progressive Tar Heel concern has been in business less than two years, having opened their first store in Sanford July 1, 1929, it has had a remarkable growth.

So popular have these stores been with the public in the towns in which they are located that one by one the links in the chain have been opened. Saturday they did the six Springs, the seventeenth link will be added.

Appeals to Carolinians. This concern now has three stores in Sanford and one each at Jonesboro, Siler City, Lillington, Varina, Apex, Pittsboro, Dunn, Troy, Liberty, Mt. Gilead and Ashboro.

These stores make a strong appeal to the average Tar Heel buyer for it is a distinctly North Carolina concern; operated by natives of the State, every one of its stores is located within the State's borders.

It is a large buyer of Carolina fruits, vegetables and other native products. Ability to meet competition on an equal footing and provide its patronage with first class service has been a large factor in the continued success of Progressive Stores, states Mr. R. E. Bobbitt, secretary-treasurer and manager.

The officials of Progressive Stores, Inc., are: R. T. Howard, president; Marion W. Beckwith, vice-president; and R. E. Bobbitt, secretary-treasurer and manager.

Bobbitt Active Citizen. Mr. Bobbitt, who is in active charge of this fast-growing business concern, is a native of Nash county, this State. He came to Sanford in 1914, and with the exception of a few months during the war, he has been in the employ of the Progressive Stores, Inc. He has been actively connected with the business and social life of this city for a number of years.

He is in the employ of the Howard Grocery Co., but on September 1, 1919 became secretary-treasurer of the new firm of Howard-Bobbitt Co., a position which he now likewise retains in addition to his connection with Progressive Stores, Inc. Mr. Bobbitt's rise has been steady in the business world; the company with which he is connected has been successful and are still vigorously pushing ahead. He is a young man, full of energy and pushing his business and social life to the limit.

He is a member of the Citizens Corporation Commission and reasons given why the service should be continued in the interest of the traveling public and the people who in one way or another patronize the road.

Thousands of tons of fertilizer were shipped over this road to sale agents in Sanford during the past few weeks. In the fall much of the tobacco sold on the Sanford market is shipped over the Atlantic and Yadkin. The section of the Atlantic and Yadkin from Mt. Airy to Sanford is owned by the Southern Railway and the section from Sanford to Wilmington by the Atlantic Coast Line.

To discontinue the passenger service on this road would affect them very little as most of the passenger traffic is of a local kind. This would be the first time that the passenger service was discontinued on the road since the first section of it—known as the Western road—was built from Fayetteville to Egypt, now Cumock, many years ago. The Western road was built more than 50 years ago.

MEMORIAL SERVICE IS HELD AT SHALLOW WELL

Forty-Second Annual Memorial Service Observed By Lee Christian Church.

With several hundred people in attendance, the annual memorial service, a custom inaugurated forty-two years ago, was held at Shallow Well Christian church Saturday. Rev. George R. Underwood, a former pastor of the church, to whom is due credit for having inaugurated this annual custom more than forty years ago, delivered a most interesting address to the large meeting.

Rev. Mr. Underwood spoke on "The Origin of Memorial Services," relating how the idea of honoring the memory, and paying tribute to those whose exemplary lives had wrought a good influence upon posterity, gained inception with him. Rev. Underwood, though retired from active work in the ministry, is still hale and hearty for one of his years. He is beloved by friends in all denominations.

Others delivering addresses on the occasion were Rev. T. Fred Wright, pastor of the church, Rev. S. A. Cotton, pastor of Steele street Methodist church, and Rev. Frank Hare, pastor of the Jonesboro Baptist church. Beautiful music was rendered by the church choir.

Prior to the services flowers were placed on each grave in the church cemetery. At noon a beautiful picnic dinner was served on the beautiful lawn surrounding the church.

GET YOUR AUTO LICENSE TAGS NOW

Citizens of Sanford must have their new city auto license tags now later than May 31 if they are to avoid payment of the penalty set by law. The price of the tags is $1.00 but unless they are purchased by the aforesaid date citizens must either keep their cars at home or pay the penalty.

WILL A. KELLEY PASSENGER TRAINS BE TAKEN OFF

Movement Inaugurated by the Railroad People to Have the Service Discontinued—To Discontinue the Service Would be a Great Inconvenience to Traveling Public—People Who Patronize the Road Have Rights That Should be Considered—Merchants Will Oppose the Movement to Take Off Trains.

A rumor seems to be in circulation to the effect that a movement has been inaugurated by the railroad people to take the passenger trains off the Atlantic and Yadkin Railroad which runs from Mt. Airy to Wilmington. This would leave the road without passenger service of any kind and would be a great inconvenience to people who travel by rail.

The Express is informed that the railroad people claim that a heavy loss was sustained by the operation of passenger trains on this road last year. But the people who patronize this road by having freight shipped over it, and who would sustain a loss of business by train crews losing their jobs, despite some consideration in the handling of this matter.

The heads of some of the best families in Sanford would be discharged from the service and be forced to leave the town to get work. The town would sustain a serious loss.

While the passenger business on this road has been hit hard by the operation of cars and buses on the highways, the passenger trains are still carrying express and mail, and also a lot of perishable stuff such as fresh fruit and vegetables. Some of the grocery merchants of Sanford have strawberries and other fruits and vegetables shipped over this road from the coastal section of the State almost daily at this season of the year and in the fall they have apples and cabbage shipped from the mountains. It is true that some of this stuff is now shipped by truck, but not all of it.

Mr. A. K. Kelly, secretary of the Sanford Merchants Association, has become interested in the matter, and proposes that organization to see what can be done to prevent these trains from being taken off the road.

He is a member of the Citizens Corporation Commission and reasons given why the service should be continued in the interest of the traveling public and the people who in one way or another patronize the road.

CARY E. KELLEY SUCCUMBS HERE

Heart Attack Fatal To Prominent Sanford Citizen; Ill Only Three Days.

Cary Eugene Kelley died at his home at Moore street here Friday morning at 6 o'clock after an illness of only three days. The deceased, who was 62 years of age, had not been in good health for sometime but had been able to follow his daily routine until Tuesday afternoon, when stricken by a heart attack while serving as a first ward poll holder in the municipal election. Mr. Kelley never rallied from the attack, growing steadily worse until the end came.

The funeral was held from the home at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. S. A. Cotton, pastor of the Steele Street Methodist church, of which the deceased had been a member for many years. Rev. Mr. Cotton was assisted by Dr. G. T. Adams, a former pastor, and Rev. Frank C. Hawkins, pastor of the First Baptist church. In eloquent terms these bespoke a glowing tribute to the life of loving service that had been led by the deceased.

The interment took place at Shallow Well cemetery, the last rites being performed by the Sanford and Jonesboro council of the Junior Order. Many beautiful flowers were offered as a last tribute to this good man. The pallbearers were O. E. Makepeace, R. B. Wicker, E. T. Buchanan, S. B. Riddle, K. E. Seymour and A. H. Melver.

The deceased, an only child of Alexander and Decie Brewer Kelly, was born in Orange county on May 2, 1869. He was united in marriage to Miss Nannie Buchanan, of Orange county, in January, 1893, and of this union seven children, all of whom survive, were born: Mrs. W. H. Walker, Mrs. E. V. Neal, Mr. Harvey Kennedy, Miss Olive and Worth Kelly, of Sanford; Clyde M. Kelly, of Durham; and Otis C. Kelly, of Los Angeles, Cal. Three grandchildren survive.

An early life of Mr. Kelly joined the People's Spring Methodist church, but upon moving to Sanford transferred his membership to Steele Street Methodist church, of which he was a loyal and faithful member for thirty-five years.

A number of years Mr. Kelly held a position with the C. H. Smith Lumber Company; later becoming connected with Wilkins-Ricks Co., for whom he worked for seventeen years. Several years ago he took a position with the Sanford Building Loan Association and was with this firm at the time of his death.

The deceased was a man of sterling character, a devoted Christian and a loyal friend. He was ruggedly honest, a hard worker and led a life of simplicity. No man could have lived a life in which devotion toward family and friends was more marked than in that of the deceased.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kelly, of Durham; Mr. N. P. Horner and family, Mrs. Clarence Nance and Messrs. Alfred Hinson Wicker and Matthews, of Greensboro; Ernest Kennedy, Reidsville; Mrs. Laura Morgan, Pittsboro; Mr. Bud Kelly and family, of Fayetteville.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Kelly, of Callington, the former a son of Mr. Kelly, left through the country for Sanford Friday upon learning of Mr. Kelly's death. They are expected to arrive here to-day.

WILL SANFORD GET A DISTRICT PRISON?

Representative Seawell Thinks It Can Be Had If the People of the Town and County Want It—New Road Law Calls for a Number of These Prisons in the State.

The Express is informed that it is possible for Sanford and Lee county to get a district prison if the people want it. Representative A. A. Seawell thinks there is a chance of getting one located here if the people of the town and county will make application and work to secure it. The Express has talked to a number of people in the town about the location of a prison here and they all seemed to favor it. It is suggested that it would not be objectionable if located in an isolated section some little distance from the town.

The new road law divided the State into a number of districts and each district will have a prison where convicts will be kept for working the roads. Each district will embrace a number of counties. The families of superintendents, foremen and guards will be located near the prison which would probably house several hundred convicts. The cost of feeding these prisoners will mean quite an outlay of money annually. It is suggested that the farmers in the surrounding country will be able to supply the prison with provisions and thereby procure money in circulation in the community. Should the convicts give trouble Sanford has an artillery unit that can keep order.

The new road law goes into effect the first of July at which time the county districts will be closed and the prisoners turned over to the State. There is also a movement on foot to abolish the County Home. Mr. Seawell has succeeded in getting a bill through the lower house making it optional with the County Commissioners as to whether or not the County Home shall be abolished. Should this be done the building could be used as headquarters for those in charge of the district prison.

S. C. Moffitt has returned to his home in Elizabethtown after visiting his son Steadman Moffitt here. Mr. Moffitt, who formerly resided in Goldston, is well known here having visited here on a number of occasions.

TOWN EMPLOYEES CHOSEN AT ALDERMANIC MEETING

Selection of Town Attorney and Successor To G. E. White Deferred Until Later Date.

All present town officials and employees with one or two exceptions were reappointed at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen held Tuesday night. Mayor Warren R. Williams presided at this session.

The officials and employees elected are as follows: Town Clerk and tax collector, Harvey Kennedy; Chief of Police, superintendent of Streets and Water department, John T. McKernan; Superintendent of water plant, E. P. Wicker; night police force, E. L. Covert and R. S. Kelly; city mechanic and electrician, J. F. Gregson; mechanic and fire department helper, Dr. J. I. Neal; town treasurer, A. C. Thomas; milk and meat inspecting, Miss Judith M. Ross; assistant clerk's office, Miss Elizabeth York.

The selection of a town attorney was deferred until a future meeting. This office is at present held by J. C. Pittman. While several applications are in for the place on the local price force recently vacated by G. E. White, no action was taken on it at the Tuesday meeting. An assistant will be given E. P. Wicker at the water plant but this position, too, is yet to be filled.

E. M. Underwood, mayor pro tem in the past administration was again elected to this position by his colleagues. Standing committees, the personnel of which are composed of members of the Board have not been announced.

Regular meetings of the Board will be held on the first and third Tuesday night of each month. The Board extended the date on which the citizens of the town may pay their taxes without the imposition of a penalty, moving it up to May 31.

MEETING SANFORD AND RAEFORD KIWANIS CLUBS

An inter-club meeting of Sanford and Raeford Kiwanis clubs was held at the Carolina Hotel last Friday night. Both clubs were well represented. The occasion was a most enjoyable one for all present. In a few appropriate words President A. A. Overton welcomed the visiting Kiwanians and turned the meeting over to President Charles Upchurch, of the Raeford club. The program was and Paul Watson recently found two large whiskey stills, answered charges against the Raeford club, beaten path according to the officers, after stating that a secret of the success of Kiwanis international was the fact that Kiwanians do not get into the time of the discovery of the stills one was in operation and a stick of whiskey corresponding to the size of a lead pencil was officers. Fifteen gallons of whiskey and three thousand gallons of beer were found near by.

The evidence in the case indicated, however, there were others concerned in the operation of the stills and Judge McPherson reserved his decision with reference to McCormick until next Tuesday.

AUTO AUCTION SALE

On Monday, May 18th there will be an auto auction sale of used cars and trucks at the Three W's Warehouse, on Wicker street. These cars, which are the property of the Wilrik Chevrolet Co., are splendid bargains and will be sold rain or shine. An automobile and many other valuable prizes will be given away free at each sale. The first will be held at 2:30 p. m. and the second at 7:30 p. m.

SEAWELL INTRODUCES BILL

Representative A. A. Seawell on Wednesday, would permit the Lee county Commissioners to sell the county home.

MERCHANTS TO ATTEND ASSOCIATION MEETING

Merchants From All Over State To Gather At Greensboro For Annual Convention Next Week—A Number From Sanford Will Go There.

A large number of local merchants are expected to attend the annual convention of the North Carolina Merchants Association, which will open in Greensboro Monday and continue through Tuesday. It is not known how many of the local group will be on hand for the meeting but A. K. Miller, secretary of the local association, states that Sanford will be well represented.

Featuring the meeting will be an address by Senator Josiah William Bailey who will deliver an address on "By-Products of Depression." Other speakers of national reputation are scheduled to speak to the gathering.

Dispatches from Greensboro indicate that the convention is being arranged not only to provide for the consideration of the more important problems which are likely to arise but also for the pleasure and entertainment of the merchants and their wives.

The Durane style show is expected to be one of the more elaborate features of the convention. This will begin Tuesday morning at 10:45 and continue through 11:45. The headquarters of the convention will be maintained at the King Cotton Hotel.

Among the subjects to be discussed are: "Advertising and the Retail Merchant," by S. O. Lindeman. "Window and Store Lighting," by Roy A. Palmer.

"The Relation of the Merchant to his Community," by John T. Burrus. "Modern Merchandising," by Lewis Hahn.

WHISKEY CASES ABSORB COUNTY COURT TUESDAY

Violation of Prohibition Law and Chicken Thefts Most Common Charges.

The usual charges of violating the prohibition law and stealing chickens were again to the fore in the Lee county recorder's court Tuesday and several defendants against whom these charges were brought were meted road sentences by Recorder McPherson.

The State vs. Alonzo McKinnon and Water Heck, colored, charged with the possession of five pints of whiskey, was the first case called. Officers found the contraband in the kitchen of McKinnon's house. Heck, answering the charge, stated that he happened to be passing McKinnon's home and made a friendly call. While there on this friendly mission the officers appeared. In the meantime McKinnon had taken flight leaving Heck with the bag to hold. McKinnon was given a suspended sentence of six months and fined $10 and costs. Heck was fined $10 and costs.

Charlie McLeod, over whom there has been hanging a charge of manufacturing and possession for four years, was sentenced to five months on the roads.

Major Hockaday, colored, pleaded guilty to the theft of seven chickens from the "roost" of W. B. Medlin, who lives near the city standpoint. Paul Raeford, alleged to have been connected with the theft, resisted the charge. They were sentenced to four years on the Lee county roads with the alternative of having the sentence suspended provided they should leave the county within twenty-four hours after the passing of sentence.

Ennis Womack, colored, was charged by his landlady, Florence Tucker, on whose farm he resides, with having trespassed on her property by cutting down a prized peach tree. Womack resisted the charge contending that his mother and father, who live in his home, were at the point of death and that he was unable to leave the premises for fire wood. He was taxed with the cost and charged to reimburse the plaintiff for the tree.

Daniel McCormick, colored, near his home deputies John Thomas Raeford club. The program was and Paul Watson recently found two large whiskey stills, answered charges against the Raeford club, beaten path according to the officers, after stating that a secret of the success of Kiwanis international was the fact that Kiwanians do not get into the time of the discovery of the stills one was in operation and a stick of whiskey corresponding to the size of a lead pencil was officers.
