INDEPENDENCE DAY MEET

S. J. Husketh Relates History Of Declaration Of Independence.

The Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly meeting at the Carolina Ho-tel last Friday night. Saturday be-ing the fourth of July patriotic songs were rendered by the members of the club with Miss Annie Laurie Overton, daughter of President J. A. Overton, of the club, at the piano. Mr. Frank Moffett, a member of the Gauensboro Kiwanis Club, who was present, in-vited the club to attend an inter-club meeting of 14 clubs in that city. At the conclusion of supper President Overton turned the meeting over to H. C. Renegar, chairman of the new program committee who put on the program. So, in the Continental Congress on June 7, 1776, Richard Henry Lee introduced a resolution that the "Colonies are and of right ought to be free and independent states." Two committees were ap-pointed, one to prepare a plan of con-federation and the other to draft a declaration of Independence. Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman, and R. R. Livingston composed the latter com-mittee, though the Declaration of In-dependence was drafted by Thomas Jefferson, and very few changes were made before its adoption on July 4, 1776. 1776

TO ESCAPE FROM LEE COUNTY Some times we hear it said that a woman will not show the courage of a man when it comes to facing great dan-ger. We are not here to argue this question, but if it is true there are certainly exceptions to the rule, as was demonstra-ted here in Lee county last Monday night. Sheriff Arthur Rives acts as jailer as well as sheriff and the front part of the building is occupied by the sheriff and his family as living quarters. Last Monday night about 6 o'clock mem-bers of the family discovered that the prisoners were out of their cells and that there was danger of their making their escape. Supper was ready and after ringing the bell Mrs. Rives sent some one to lock the back door to the hall on the lower floor as she expected that they would come down and try to escape at that door-Visitors often enter the jail at this door so as to not pass through the living quarters of the sheriff's family and the prisoners knew this. Rives, armed himself with his father's shot gun and loaded it with five shells. Mrs. Rives with her automatic Colt, joined him and when four des perate negro prisoners came down from the upper floor and attempted to escape from the front door of the hall they suddenly found themselves looking down the barrels of the pistol and shot gun in the hands of Mrs. Rives and her hands of Mrs. Rives and her brave boy. They saw in their faces that they meant busi-ness. The leader of the gang throwing up his hands said, "Don't do it, don't do it." Mrs. Rives ordered them back to their cells and they seemed glad to go back. In giving the facts of this attempted jail delivery Mrs. Rives stated to The Express man that she had to back up her son, who was determined in the absence of his father that these prisoners should not escape. Mrs. Rives thinks they picked the lock to the cell door after filing in two a small piece of iron that had been put over the lock. They concealed the file as it could not be found.

Of the $233,000 tax levy for 1930 in Lee county, $182,000 of 77.6 per cent has been collected, according to a statement issued recently by E. A. Griffin, county tax collector. A total of $51,000 remains yet to be collected, states Mr. Griffin, who adds that of this amount, $10,000 will probably be collected between now and when the property is advertised for sale. The percentage of collections will be greatly enhanced, the Collector stated, when cullection of $16,000, the amount due the county by the Sea-berrow is unad.
