SANFORD CHOSEN ON ACCOUNT OF IDEAL LOCATION

Corporation Moves Home Office From Aberdeen To Sanford.

SEVERAL BRANCH OFFICES F. H. Urner, President of Corporation, Will Make Home In Sanford.

Selection of Sanford as the home office and headquarters of the Page Corporation, has been announced by officials of that organization.

Centrally located among the Company's eleven branches, easily accessible by rail or motor, good telephone service, opportunities for the promotion of every type of insurance—these are but a few of the factors that led the insurance company to choose Sanford as headquarters.

The Corporation has already opened offices here, the offices formerly occupied by the insurance department of the Page Trust Company having been taken over.

Ten branch offices in addition to the headquarters here constitute the Page Corporation's representation at present. It was indicated by officials of the Company yesterday, however, that additional branch offices would be opened in other North Carolina cities.

Mr. Urner, a native of Baltimore, Md., practiced law at Frederickburg in his native state for a number of years, later abandoning the law to become a traveling representative of the United Building and Guaranty Co. in which capacity he covered the entire United States.

Sports

Manager Ike Sadler's local semi-pro baseball team, the class of North Carolina have won to date 27 games losing but 6 for a percentage of .778.

Yesterday the locals trimmed Erwin 7 to 4 after a thrilling contest in which Erwin used three pitchers.

It was too bad the locals had to lose Saturday's game to Erwin. Brooks, pitching for Sanford, did good work in this game allowing but three hits; the breaks, however, were all against him.

Few pitchers ever pitch a no-hit, no-run game. Done once in a life-time it places one achieving the accomplishment among the immortals of baseball history.

But back to the no-hit, no-run game. Fans attending this game say it was one of the best games they ever saw. Siler City got, perhaps, the worst drubbing a Siler team ever received.

Manager Sadler announced today he would carry the war into the Piedmont section. He expects to carry his team to Badin, Newton and Concord in the next few days.

Wednesday Mrs. E. M. Underwood had as her guests her mother, Mrs. N. F. Barber, sister, Mrs. E. B. Bynum and two children, of Goldston.

TILLEY SCOUTS INTIMATIONS OF ONLY TWO WAREHOUSES

Rumors floating around among the tobacco growers of this and adjoining counties to the effect that Sanford is to have only two warehouses and that the Tilley Warehouse is not to be in operation this fall, were roundly scouted Tuesday by A. J. Tilley, of Westfield, Surry County, who, with his brother, J. W. Tilley, ran the Tilley Bros. Warehouse here last season.

Mr. Tilley said he had visited a large number of the tobacco farmers in Lee and adjoining counties since coming here on a visit several days ago and that he found many of the farmers under the impression that Sanford is to have but two warehouses and that Tilley's is not to be in operation.

Mr. Tilley announced the following personnel for his warehouse this year: Auctioneer, Mr. Barrett, of Kentucky; Clip man, Clarence Barrett; Book-keeper, F. N. Simms, of Timmonsville; Pay off man, M. M. Tilley, Mt. Airy; Representative, D. L. Hancock; Floor manager, George Hancock.

OLD CYPRESS CHURCH SCENE 100TH ANNIVERSARY EVENT

PARROTT SPEAKS NURSE'S FINALS

Central Carolina Nurse's Graduation Exercises Held Tuesday Evening. Addressing the graduates of the Central Carolina Hospital on occasion of the final exercises of that institution Tuesday night, Dr. James M. Parrott, of Raleigh, secretary of the State Board of Health, warned the class that ambition is not worthwhile without the employment of spiritual factors.

The profession of a nurse, Dr. Parrott told the young women, is one of the most worthwhile in the world. A woman may engage and one that offers great avenues of service to suffering humanity. But those who adopt the profession, he told them, must be willing to undergo great sacrifices and to give up many of the things of life that might be theirs in some other capacity of life.

Dr. Parrott paid a high tribute to Dr. John P. Monroe and to the late Dr. W. A. Monroe, who were founders of the Central Carolina Hospital. He said they were among the most noble medical professions has produced in this State and that they were called to give up many of the things of life that might be theirs in some other capacity of life.

The exercises which opened in the Sanford High school building at 8 o'clock began with the invocation, tendered by Rev. Frank C. Hawkins, pastor of the First Baptist church. This was followed by a violin solo, given by Joe Lazarus. Next on the program was the reading by Mrs. J. P. Monroe of the "Hospital and Training School." This paper, prepared by Mrs. Monroe, was heard with much interest. It will be reproduced in its entirety in next week's Express.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. J. M. Parrott, was presented by Dr. F. L. Knight. Diplomas were presented to the graduating class by Dr. R. G. Sowers. Those to whom diplomas were given are: Misses Ollie Harrington, Betsy Gunter, Wilma Poe, Bessie Poe, Ella Harris, Vera Underwood, Jennie McDonald, Beatrice Thomas, Minnie Webster and Vera Cox.

The benediction was spoken by Dr. R. G. Sowers, pastor of the Presbyterian church. A brilliant reception at which the nurses and their friends were guests of honor was staged following the graduation exercises.

The twelve-hour old child of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark died at their home Friday and was buried in Buffalo cemetery Saturday, with brief burial services.

Not only will he and his associates be on hand to cooperate to the fullest extent with the farmers in the marketing of their tobacco this fall but plans are in effect for the enlargement of his warehouse, stated Mr. Tilley.

Old Cypress Presbyterian church, which is located near the point where Moore, Harnett and Hoke counties join, was organized by the Scotch who settled in this community, suggests "the Little Brown Church in the Vale," so celebrated by the song.

A little over a hundred years ago numerous Scotchmen came over and settled in this vicinity. Among them were the Smiths, McCrains, Lamers, McCreains, McKays, and others. For several years they attended church at Barbecue, which had been a preaching point since 1756.

AGED LEE COUNTY MAN UNDER HEAVY BOND FOR ALLEGED SECRET ASSAULT

MAKE BUCHANAN BEATS GRANDSON WITH HOE-HANDLE

Preliminary Hearing Given Lee County Farmer At City Hall Yesterday.

SANDERS ALSO INVOLVED

Make B. Buchanan, 75-year-old Lee county man and a former U. S. deputy marshal, was yesterday placed under a bond of $1,000 to await trial at the next criminal term of superior court when probable cause was found in a secret assault charge lodged against him by his 18-year-old grandson, Elvin Buchanan.

The preliminary hearing was held at the City Hall and was heard by Mayor Warren R. Williams.

Joe Sanders, who is charged with having held the younger Buchanan while the grandfather assaulted him with a hoe handle, was placed under a hundred dollar bond on this count, and under a second bond of $100 on a charge brought by Wicker.

The younger Buchanan stated he had started to work at the Sanford Ice and Coal Co., where he is employed at night, shortly after 8 o'clock Monday evening.

Other witnesses to testify were Dr. Hayden Fulton who stated he examined the boy's wounds, owing the affray; Luther Atkins, who testified to seeing Mr. Buchanan and young Sanders sometime before the occurrence on the street corner at which the assault took place; and Wallace Atkins who says he passed by the place of the assault shortly before and saw Sanders. Atkins said after passing Sanders he met Elvin Buchanan going in the direction of where he had seen Sanders.

The penalty for this crime is from one to fifteen years. Judge Cranmer was lenient, making the sentence 18 months.

Roberson was ably defended by Kenneth R. Hoyle and Glenn Edwards, of the local bar, while the prosecution was conducted by Solicitor Clawson L. Williams.

The defendant claimed that the Black girl, upon whose person he was charged with having committed the crime of rape, approached him on the Seaboard Air Line Railway track, several hundred yards above the Sanford Cotton mill, holding her dress above her waist.

ANOTHER TERM AS U. S. ATTORNEY IS SOUGHT BY GAVIN

Sanford Man's Term Of Office Will Expire In 1932—Has Made Good.

IS BELIEVED UNOPPOSED Has Served In Capacity Since Creation of New Middle Judicial District.

When questioned on the matter Monday by the Greensboro Daily News reporter, E. L. Gavin, of this place, United States District Attorney, stated that he is a candidate for reappointment to the post which he has filled since January, 1928.

The four-year term, for which Mr. Gavin was appointed, expires on January, 1932, and it is thought that the incumbent will be unopposed for re-appointment. The Daily News man further says:

"The office of District Attorney Gavin has established an enviable record for efficiency, and is regarded by the department of justice and attorney general's office, as well as other governmental agencies, as a model. A member of the Hoover law enforcement commission has referred to District Attorney Gavin's office as the most efficiently conducted in the country.

"One factor that has contributed largely to the efficiency rating of the district attorney's office of the middle district has been the large percentage of convictions. Another important factor has been the dispatch with which the criminal and civil work has been executed.

"The work of the district attorney's office has increased greatly since 1927 when the middle district was created. During the past year the civil work that the district attorney and his assistants have been required to handle for the government has increased largely to the number of war risk insurance actions filed against the government. At the present time there are 244 of these suits pending in the district, and it usually requires two or three days for the trial of one such action.

"Due to the strategic location of the piedmont section which comprises a large part of the middle district, government officers handle a big number of criminal cases, in which violations of the narcotic and laws and the Dyer motor theft act are predominant.

"At the time of his appointment in December, 1927, District Attorney Gavin was engaged in the practice of law in Sanford, where he had been located since 1919. Prior to moving to Sanford, he practiced law in his native county of Sampson, and was state senator from the district, composed of Sampson, Johnson, Harnett and Lee counties, during the sessions of the general assembly in 1918 and 1920.

"After his appointment as district attorney, Mr. Gavin continued to make his residence at Sanford, where he is prominently identified with the community life. In addition to an active participation in the affairs of the Republican party, Mr. Gavin has been prominent in fraternal circles of the state.

"Although it is not definitely known that reappointment of Mr. Gavin will be unopposed, it is presumed that such will be the case. For it is customary for an incumbent who has satisfactorily discharged the duties of office, to be appointed for a second term, which would be for four years.

"The work of the district attorney's office is in the hands of Mr. Gavin and four assistant district attorneys. The assistants are Miss Edith Hawthorth, of this city; A. E. Tilley, Mt. Airy; Thomas C. Carter, Burlington; and Hobart Morton, of Albemarle.
