

LOCAL EXPRESSIONS.

Miss Ann Johnson, of McNeill's township died Sept. 25th.

Mr. John Perks has charge of the school at Jackson Springs.

John Robinson and his ten great shows are in North Carolina and the devil is happy.

Mr. M. L. Jones of Troy, Montgomery county will build a sash and blind factory at West End.

Twenty-five miles of the C. F. & Y. V. rail road on the Wilmington extension have been completed.

Our travelling man is now presenting subscribers their accounts, and they are expected to pay as promptly as possible.

Mac Hunter a desperate negro, shot a negro in the thigh, while in difficulty at West End a few days since, and has escaped.

Mr. J. W. McPherson has sold his interest in Hadley Peoples & Co's. store at Siler City and is sojourning now in Sanford.

John Woniack, a respectable colored man of this place has gone to Charlotte to become chief cook at the Buford House.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Harrington are attending the meeting of the Fayetteville Presbytery at St. Paul in Robeson county this week.

We are due Bro. Charlotte of the News thanks for a complimentary ticket to the Siler City Fair, which occurs Oct. 23rd, 24th and 25th.

Mr. E. T. Hawley a merchant of Cameron died on Thursday from neuralgia of the brain and was hurried on yesterday with Farmers' Alliance honors.

The News and Observer copied three news articles from the Express, and gave the Carthage Blade credit. Our Raleigh contemporary is due both papers an apology.

C. Mason who has been living on the plantation of Mr. M. H. Melver near Sanford, died on Monday in Fayetteville where he had been recently employed in a bucket shop.

Mr. H. M. Wicker has gone to Norfolk by boat on his own account. The Express hopes this young Moore county man will be eminently successful in his new business.

We concur with our well informed exchanges in their words of appreciation of the Sanford Express, which we esteem as an excellent newspaper, fearlessly outspoken and exceptionally well posted on matters of interest to its readers.—Greensboro Workman.

Prospect has been present for several mornings but has not damaged the immature crops. The cackle hens were not caught napping, they were ready. They are wise, they know when death will come, and they are always prepared to die.

We have received the first number of the Farmers' Exchange, edited and published by Messrs. J. and O. Evans of Fayetteville. It is a 27 column paper, well printed and contains good matter. It is devoted to the best interests of the Farmers' Alliance and Cumberland county. We hope our friends will meet with success.

A. Y. Dockery is at Washington this week, hoping to change post masters in Moore county. He has had some Democratic removed, among them the Democratic post master at Jackson Springs and in his stead W. R. Thomas was appointed. At Sulphur Springs, Montgomery county, Mary Ewing.

Rev. Mr. Doub will commence a protracted meeting on tomorrow in the Steele St. M. E. Church South at Sanford. The services tomorrow morning will be the first, in the new church, which is not yet finished. After tomorrow, Mr. Doub will be assisted by Revs. Messrs. Chaffin, Townsend and perhaps Rider and Hornaday.

Deer have been discovered in the Deep river section of Moore county. That is a sign that the civilization of our friends up there is going backward. But the presence of deer in those woods is an accident, and they will not long stay in a community where such clever marksmen as J. G. Foshee, Jr., J. H. Jones and Joseph L. Knight exist.

John Jones (col.) entered Mr. Ed. Byrd's store at Winder on Sunday night last and was discovered by Mr. G. M. G. Harrington who succeeded in having the store surrounded with men before the negro could escape. The negro made a rush for liberty and was shot and knocked in the head with an axe before he could be captured. He was tried and jailed as our Carthage correspondent relates.

We were pleased to receive a call from A. M. Clark the post master at Southern Pines. He is a Pennsylvanian and a Republican, but is very fond of North Carolina. He is so much attached to the Southern people that he is going North soon to persuade his friends to contribute their means in behalf of the building of a Confederate Soldiers' Home in the South.

Each day as time goes on, we are learning of the increasing energy and preparation going on at Fayetteville for the coming Centennial on Nov. 28th, 29th and 30th. At a meeting this week the Centennial committee elected Julian S. Carr, of Durham chief marshal and he has accepted. One of the chief events of the occasion will be the Centennial ball complimentary to Miss Western Davis, the daughter of the Southern Confederacy. Military companies from Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia will be present, and every one else that we have heard of in the News by Postal.

The Sept. storm is here. Miss Emma Phillips, of Jonesboro is visiting at Fair Haven.

The turnip crop is a failure in this section, caused by sea-bugs and other insects.

The burning of the court house has gotten things in a muddle. The taxpayers were burdened enough before and surely if the racial is ever caught he will suffer the full extent of the law.

Mr. Geo. P. Hunt and Miss Candis Love were married by M. M. Frye, J. P., early last morning in front of Mr. Frye's house, in Mr. Hunt's buggy. Where is the Justice of the Peace that can beat this marriage. Mr. Hunt was 60 years of age and Miss Love was 50.

Messrs. A. D. Muse and A. C. Kelly left for the Northern markets Wednesday to purchase their fall stocks.

John Jones (col.) was brought from Winder this week and lodged in jail for having broken open Mr. E. D. Byrd's store at that place. He was discovered in the store at night and many shot were lodged in his body.

Report in town Thursday was that Mrs. Catherine Stone had made confession, as to the murder of Bettie Johnson. General opinion is that Mrs. Stone's confession that Christopher Medlin was the guilty man is correct.

Notwithstanding the court house was burned, our lawyers seem to have much business to attend to. Some of them are travelling somewhere every week.

Many visitors from the surrounding counties, Moore, Chatham and Harnett were present Tuesday and Wednesday of the session of court at Jonesboro. The usual amount of horse trading has been in progress on back streets.

Notwithstanding the large audiences, most remarkably good order was kept in the court room. The commodious Cole building on Trade and Fayetteville streets was used, but by the next session of the court it is hoped that the court house, the site for which has been secured and contract for building put into the hands of the committee, will be completed.

In addition to the work of the local bar, we were on Wednesday of this term, pleased with the brilliant effort of Capt. Jas. D. Melver, ex-Solicitor of this judicial district, in an important purjury case; but the weight of testimony being deemed contra, he did not succeed.

D. A. McDonald, Esq., who as C. S. C. Moore county, is rapidly adding to his large popularity, is among the visitors.

The Judge presiding is dignified in bearing, and as he unites great decision of character with learning in the law, holds the proceedings well in hand.

The business of the court is rapidly transacted, four cases having been disposed of Tuesday and seven to-day (Wednesday), all of importance.

The term which was for the trial of state cases only, closed Wednesday evening.

The town shows every evidence of thrift and enterprise. The cotton factory is being run till 10 o'clock at night.

Rev. A. R. Shaw at Lumber Bridge. The absorbing incidents of our place now are the great revival and the Sunday School Convention, last Friday night Rev. A. R. Shaw, of Carthage, who is here assisting the Pastor, Rev. A. McQueen, began a series of sermons, and has been preaching nightly and daily ever since. A most glorious revival is the result, and the good work is still going on. Old christians are becoming re-dedicated, backsliders are reclaimed, and sinners are converted. Old and young, large and small, learned and unlearned, are swept by this great tidal wave of spiritual blessings. Mr. Shaw is a second Pearson and reminds very us much of the great Evangelist in style, in manner of illustrating and in presenting ideas. This writer has heard Mr. Shaw preach seven consecutive sermons, and does not hesitate to say—and he voices the general sentiment—in declaring that Mr. Shaw is one of our greatest preachers, and a born evangelist.—Fayetteville Observer.

Let the Road Run to Sanford. Mr. W. E. White of Mebane, the secretary and one of the directors of the proposed Danville, Mebane and Pittsboro and Southern railroad, writes The Register that an error crept into the article in Sunday's paper in regard to this road. Say: "The road from Pittsboro to Monroecore on the Seaboard Air Line or Robinson's system, is already built. We can also connect at Sanford, ten miles from Pittsboro, with the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley, and also the Robinson system. We are not confined to the route outlined in Sunday's Register but go, after leaving Mebane, by Swepsonville and Saxapahaw, two of the largest cotton factories on Haw River, besides running right by several fine unimproved water-powers on that stream."

In Memoriam of Sweet Wee Bessie. This lovely little blossom only gladdened the earth for six short months; then God's angel spirit the beautiful, tiny flower, plucked it and triumphantly bore it to its Maker!

"And the mother gave, in tears and pain, The dower she most did love; She knew that she would find it again, In the fields of light above."

Kind friends God cultivates many flowers, seemingly only for their exquisite beauty and fragrance. For when planted in soft sunshine they have budding into a tiny blossom, then the divine hand gathers them from the earthy fields to be kept in crystal vases in the pleased mansions above. L. D. M.

Our Neighbors.

The new postal amendment has made it a penal offense to refuse to pay for a newspaper and the subscriber may be imprisoned for fraud.

We were told in Sanford last week that the men who were spoken off in the Express as surveying that road to Jonesboro were doing so with an eye towards making a good highway to the new court house!

The C. F. & Y. V. road is putting the Janney coupler on its new freight cars. This coupler does away with the necessity of a brakeman's getting between the cars for coupling or uncoupling, and will greatly reduce the danger of that work.

The last Sanford Express has in it a column article on Moore County's Resources, written to compete for the ten dollar prize to be awarded at the Industrial Display and State Fair at Raleigh Oct. 14th to 19th, and signed "W." We are very glad to see that somebody has decided to try for the prize; not for the reward alone, but for the honor of the county.

Mr. Rob. Spivy encountered a large rattlesnake in C. B. McNeill's lane near Broadway a week or so ago. The snake was four feet long, about two inches in circumference, and had thirteen rattles and a button. Three days later Mr. Spivy killed another rattlesnake near the same place. And by way of variety, Atlas Rogers killed a large horn snake near the same locality a few days ago. (So long as the reptiles don't get into people's boots, it is all right.—E.S.)

Chatham Record. Mr. Manly Durham, of this county, who was carried to the Morganton asylum several months ago, died there last week and was buried at Brown's Chapel.

A volunteer watermelon vine grew this year on the farm of Mr. I. S. Upchurch, of Williams township, that bore fourteen melons which weighed 195 pounds.

A prisoner was brought here to jail, a few days ago, and before going to jail, he went to the barber's shop and had his hair trimmed, his beard shaved and his mustache dyed.

An old negro woman named Maria Haughton, died here last Saturday, who was probably the oldest person in the county. She was a former slave of Mr. L. J. Haughton's father, and he says that she was fully a hundred years old.

Our young townsmen, Messrs. W. E. Headen and John H. Loudon, went to Baltimore on last week, the former to attend lectures at the medical department of the Maryland University, and the latter at the Baltimore Dental College.

The fall term of the superior court of this county will begin next Monday, and while the legal duration of the term is two weeks, yet all the business will probably be disposed of in one week. There are 40 cases on the civil docket, 19 on the appearance docket, and 42 on the State docket, and none of them are of much interest of importance. It is about as light a docket as Chatham has had in many years. The presiding Judge will be the Hon. Jesse F. Graves, of Surry county, who held court here in 1881.

McVeyers are having a very flattering trade. New goods are going off rapidly. The "Diamond Shirt" for $1.00 and the "Runfused" for 50c, and the prettiest line of gent's neckwear in town at McPHERSON & WEATHERSPOON'S.

Buy your fall and winter shoes of McPHERSON & WEATHERSPOON. They pay special attention to this line and have a big stock of all new goods to select from.

The verdict is that McPHERSON & WEATHERSPOON have the handsomest stock of ladies dress goods in town. They have studied the wants of their friends, and are determined not to get left on styles and low prices. GO AND SEE FOR YOURSELVES.

Sanford Cotton Market, To-day. Middling $10.40.
