

T. MIERHDITTH, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.]

Devoted to Religion, Morality, Literature, Agriculture and General Intelligence.

Rev. J. N. Mamt.

VOLUME XV. NO. 34.

RALEIGH, SATURDAY, AUGUST 24, 1850.

ANIELD IEILIBILITO ALL IRIEOOIEIDIEE A Religious and Literary Paper: Published weekly at Raleigh, N. C., at $2 00 per annum, payable in all cases IN ADVANCE. OC For further particulars see last page. (gast paid), to the Elitor, at Ra igh, N. C.

command, as to go to Concord to have the vol-umes bound, there being no book-binder at the establishment. It is bound in yellow, when he would have inherited the blessing, b according to the divine command. The book was rejected; for he found no place of repen appears to contain some passages from Scrip- tance, though he sought it carefully with tears ' ture, altered, amended, enlarged, or curtail- And you are now acting under the same decep ed, with original additions and amendments tion. Sin blinds and deludes you, and makes as they are deemed necessary, to suit the you call evil good and good evil. You cling fondly

The Family Altar and its Influences. peculiar notions of the disciples of Ann to that which will destroy you, and turn away At no time does the family below present to Lee. It is a very curious volume-even more in disgust from that which would prove an inmy mind so faithful and striking a type of the remarkable, though of less pretended antiquity, finite blessing to your soul. Do you suppose that family above, as when with one accord they have than the Mormon Bible. A copy is ordered to God wishes to harm you by the offers he makes met in one place, to offer united praise to the Fa- be sent to every king or potentate in Christen- you in the gospel? Can you believe that he is ther of mercies. True it is with this, as every dom-and one sent to the Government of Cana plotting against your peace and happiness much imperfection is mingled. A large share of Lowell Courier.

our devotional excretises consists of confaction of sin and supplication for strength against the time of temptation, besides which, wandering thoughts so sweetly, to the hearts of all men, in all ages. I have been led to these remarks, by review- "Oh ! very well," said Abraham, "I will." moved from the place of its erection.

distant city.

this spell which now fascinates you, you will be Honor thy Father and thy Mother, DID you ever hear the story of little Tommy ? of sin. You will wake at last with the dread tiptoe. and the fatigue of jaded spirits too often mar our Abraham Croft was Tommy's father. Abraham ful conviction, that you have suffered yourself worship, and render our solemn service vain .- Croft had a father who was very fond of him, to be borne along by this deception, until there Yet, nevertheless, the family has been repeatedly and very kind to him. One day the old man remains for you no place of repentance, though used by God himself, as an emblem of his trium- said to his son, "Abraham, I wish to give you you may seek it carefully and with tears .- Conphant Church ; and scarcely could one have been this house and garden, and these acres of land. gregationalist.

elected which would appeal so forcibly, because and all I will ask of you is, that you will let me live with you, and take care of me while I live."

ing some of the occurrences of a varied life, and When Abraham got the house and land, he contemplating the vast power the domestic altar thought himself a great man. He married, and retained over me in my youth, even when far re- had cows, and horses, and carts. The old man went out every morning to the garden, and work-

The residence of my father was inland, and re- ed all day for his son, as long as he had streng th mote from facilities for acquiring a commercial and was always very glad to see his son happy education. After mature reflection, my parents Abraham had, after a time, a son, whom his consented that I should follow the bent of my parents called Tommy. As he grew up, he be own inclination, and sock such advantages in a came very fond of his grandfather ; in the even- up the populace and brought down on his head a and laughing in that corner of the house, while ing he climbed his knee, as he sat by the fire storm of opposition such as he had never before the brother was preaching, think that I'm going

The history of my first year was similar to that and asked him to tell him stories. In the day, been called to encounter, and which affected him to talk about them. Well, it is true that it If you have not the creative faculty of geniof many other ambitious youths. I was acquiring he went to the garden, where his grandfather was deeply. On the night before his death, while carnest, affected extraordinary friendship and looks very bad, when well dressed young men. us, you may at lest enlivate a power of appresympathy, and was most enthusiastic in his a knowledge of mon and manners, but the narra- digging, to watch the little worms as he turned walking up and down the room and speaking of who you would suppose, from their appearance, ciating genius in others, which is; in itself, a rhapsodies of sentimental love. Voltaire had them up with his spade, and to look at the ro. troubles, he said, "I believe these things will kill belonged to some genteel, respectable family, cource of great enjoyment .-- Your mind retion how, is not material. no cant, but Rousseau was full of it. Voltaire About this time a fit of sickness rendered it bins picking them ups The old man caught a me." He then knelt down (says the letter) come to the house of God, and instead of rev- quires to be strengthened by diligent and judiwas the father of Danton, but Roussess of Renecessary for me to seek maternal care, under bad cold, and coughed very much ; he was not and prayed earnestly for his enemies. During grencing the majesty of Him that dwelleth there- cious study and training; otherwise, however bespierre, that sentimental murderer, who as a whose blessed influences health soon returned .-- able to work, so he was obliged to remain in that evening he said frequently that "his heart in, or attending to the message of his everlasting deisirous you may be of doing will, you will be judge, was too conscientions to hang a criminal. The day before I again left home, to plunge more the house, in bed, or at the fire, to keep himlove, get together in the corner of the house,' found characterless and insufficient when called was breaking," an exclamation which proved to but sufficiently unsarupulous to destroy a king. extensively than I had hitherto to done into the self warm. Tommy's mother soon became vebe nearer the truth than was supposed. On the bis finger all this time pointing straight and upon to act. The absurdities of Rousseau can be traced in whirl of business, I was sitting by my mother, and ry cross to the old man : he gave, she said, so following day he was taken suddenly very ill, steady as the aim of a rifleman,) 'and there If fortune so favors you, and no necessity for the ravings of the ultra transcendentalists, in the pouring into her willing ear some account of my much trouble, and took up so much room ; getthrough the whole solemn service, keep talking, active exertion arises, this study and training and died within a few hours. It was immediate stravagance of Fourierism, in the mock philcares and annoyances. She heard me patiently, ting his breakfast and dinner took up so much tittering, lausing, giggling-thus annoying the will still be required; for what is the young ly reported that he had committed suicide by authropy of such apoetles of light as Eugene Sue and when I had concluded my story, put her arm of her time, and that he was good for nothing. minister, disturbing the congregation, and sin- zirl's obvious destiny? When she leaves the poisoning himself; but a past mortem examinaand Louis Blane. around my neck, and kissing my forehead, said, His son also became very cold in his manner. home of her childhood, where it was her right tion made by Dr. Nott and others soon reveal. ning against God. the attended on the state of the The whole mental and physical constitution " My son-my dear son, never think yourself for- and did not speak to him; and one day when "'I am sorry for the young men. I am sor- to be cherished with sheltering love-where she ed the true cause of his sudden disease. It was f Rousseau was diseased, and his actions wore gotten by us. Your father mentions your name something annoyed him, he said to his old fath. ry for their parents. I am serry they have done has stood as a guardian angel in the path of a ound that he had died of an aneurism of the angely inconsistent with his neutropyte. He er, "How can people be bothered with you here? heart; and that his death was caused by the so to-night. ' I hope they 'll never do so again. Brother tempted to sin, or cheered and a night and morning." gave the kiss of friendship, and it proved the to-But, however, that's not the thing that I was and blessed the hearts of beloved parents, she I understood this perfectly. From my earliest You ought to go to the workhouse." The old bursting of that vessel; so that his heart was ken of treachery; he expatiated on simplicity going to talk about. It is another matter, and goes to a home of her own, where her very presinfancy I had heard fervent petitions offered at man felt his son's words cutting him to the heart; indeed literally broken. He died at the house and carmestuces in most bewitching languag so important, that I thought it would be wrong ence is to create happiness. Her husband looks such times, for the temporarily absent one, and he was very uncomfortable ; horose up from of Major Chamberlain, about three miles from out was a hypocrite, seducer and Har. He to suffer congregation to depast without ail- to her for the charm which is to brighten his now as I was going out into the world-perhaps the fire, took his stick, and tried to make his always breathing the raptures of affection, yet Mobile, and his funeral was attended by an imministering a suitable rebuke. "Now,' said he path of life. When the world frowns on him, never to return - the remembrance of this circum- way into garden. He sat down in an old house mense concourse of citizens. Dr. Hamblin asver succeeded in keeping a friend; he was alstretching his hage arm, and pointing in another, and disappointment presses like an incubus on stance was a comfort to me. I knew the paths of that was cold and damp ; he got a fit of cough - preached an eloquent discourse over his remains, ways depounding the selfishness and vanity of direction, 'perhaps that man, who was asleep the active mind, is not the wife's privileges to youth were slippery, for I had seen sufficient of ing, and became sick, and was pained in heart. from the words chosen and designated by the the world, an yet was miserable without its reon the bench out there, while the brother was sympathize with or cheer her husband a most the world, even in a year, to be well aware of the Tommy went out after him, and when he saw deceased, contained in the 1st verse of the 57th sa daand prises : but no man was more depenpreaching, thinks that I am going to talk about precious right? fact, and in some degree realized the privilege of him he was very sorry. "Go in, Tommy," said chapter of Isaiah. He also read the 31st Psalm dent on society, yet no man ever professed to Would any true minded woman intermeddle the old man, "and bring me out the quilt that Mr. Maffit's son, Frederick, who resides in aim. Well, I must confess, it looks very bad being so remembered. sold it in deeper contempt ; no man ever had a for a man to come into a worshiping assembly, with public affairs, or voluntarily devote heraelf Years rolled on-business nearly engrossed the is on the bed, and I will put it about me and go Texas, was accidentally with him during his prouder spirit, yet no man ever affected a more to pursuits in which she can only acquire exceland instead of taking his seat like others, and whole of my secular time, but I never forgot my to the workhouse." Poor little Tommy went brief illness, and did everything that a son could listining to the blessed gospel, carelessly stretch lence by relinquishing her domestic avocations and mother's impressive speech. Occasionally, anx- with a heavy heart, sobbing all the way, and he do, for him. himself out on a bench, and go to sleep ! It is privileges ?-Who is willing to forego even her iety would prevent me from offering more than thought his heart would break. As he was go We believe the church was right in calling act only a proof of great insensibility with regard enjoyments of the graceful refinements of life. the merest form of prayer myself-then would I ing for the quilt he met his father. "Where Mr. Maffit to an account for his alleged delinaned the weak and the susceptible by pouring to the obligations which we owe to our Creator in a quiet and intelligent home circle-refinethink of my father's earnest petition, offered for are you going ?" said he, "I am going for grand quencies; but it was wrong, uppardonably wrong, and Redeemer, but it shows a want of genteel ments which are perfectly consistent with my me that morning, and in strength granted, in an father's quilt to put about him, as he says he is in allowing him for many years to wander irregbreeding. It shows that the poor man has been theory of usefulness, for the eclat attending a swer to it, rise beside the trial, if not immediately going to the workhouse." "Let him go." said ularly through its limits, idolizing him, flattering his own soul and revealing his own sorrows. utfortunate in his bringing up, as not to have life of publicity ? If a woman pursue only the victorious over it ! Sometimes pleasure would Abraham ; "the workhouse is the proper place his weaknesses and petting his very faults till been taught good manners. He does'nt know more accessible paths of literature she need not lure by her syren voice to a participation in un- for him." Tommy got the quilt, and brought they grew into obnoxious peculiarities, and then generousity, and yet seldom bestowed a charity. what is polite and respectful in a worshiping as- forfeit the advantages of a home sheltered from holy amusement, but the charm was powerless, it to his father, and said, "Father cut this in two seizing on them as the means of his disgrace and sembly, among whom he comes to mingle. I the public eye; but a desire for FAME is often when I thought of ny father's prayer. for me." "What for ?" said the father. "Be overthrow. A painful and, to generous min ls, au sorry for the poor man. I am sorry for the aroused, which deafens the ear to the music of I have been young, and now am old yet those cause," said he, "half of it will be enough for an affecting example has he been of the caprice what is corrupt, and glossing over what is imfamily to which he belongs. I are sorry he did love, and hardens the hearts to its influence words still ring in my ears, and influence my con- grandfather, and the other half will do for you and futility of popular favoritism. The Church oure. The great moral effect of his writing was notknow, better. I hope he will never do so ag 1 .. which renders her unable to discern distinctly duct. The lips which then supplicated for me when I am a man, and turn you out of my may well learn a salutary lesson from his melan to make men commit crimes under the name of But, however, that is not what I was going to her allotted task and its rewards, while it prehave exchanged supplications for everlasting prai- house." "What !" said Abraham, "my own choly case, and cease to belittle its dignity and patriotism, and permit men to indulge in selfish sents to her a vision of deceitful beauty in the es, yet, in times of sorrow or perplexity, I feel son to turn me out ! But I am turning my spoil its youth, by licensing eccentricity, and talk about.' assion under the name of love.-Rev. John "Thus Father Axley went on, for some time, crown to be won by ittellectual achievements, my mother's lips on my fevered brow, and her father out !" He hung down his head, and tears turning its holy solemnities into antic games of Lord. ' boxing the compass,' and hitting a number of I would beg of any woman, however well qualiwords are a cordial to my heart. In times of joy fell from his eyes. He went to the garden, and extravagance .- Zion's Herald. persons and things that he was ' not going to fied she may be for a public sphere, to con-Nelson's Playful Decision and prosperity I remember them, and they act as said, "Oh, father, will you forgive me, and all tak about,' and hitting them hard till the atten- sider if she is willing to resign her pe-Lord Nelson's manner, apart from duty, was a moderating agency to the sanguine restlessness the days of your life I will be a kind son to you? A Public Rebake. universally kind and even playful to all tion and curiosity of the audience were raised culiar charms and her usefulness as a wo-Come and take your seat at the table, and your of ambition. ANECDOTE OF JUDGE WHITE. him ; an annising instance of which, as well as of to the highest pitch, when finally, he remarked, man. Parents throw around the hearts of your chil- own place at the fire." His good old father 1 pity the delusion of those who see no beauty his extreme quickness, occurred during his cruis The late lamented Judge Hugh L. White The thing which I was going to talk, is chewdren a similar indestructible chain. At the fam- forgave him, and kissed him. Tomury's heart Tenneses, became conspicious, at a very early ing tobacco. Now, I do hope, when any gentle- in domestic life-who regard with contempt in the Mediterranean. One bright morning, when by altar, teach them, by suitable petitions, that danced when he saw and heard what had passed. period of life, as a jurist and a statesman. H man comes here to church, who can't keep from these whose time is frequently occupied in at- the ship was moving about four knots an hour you sympathize with them, in their feeble attempts The old man came in, and tried to be cheerful; fixed his permanenthome near Knozville, amidst chewing tobacco during the hours of public wor- tending to their households .- They forget that through a very smooth see, overything on board to do right, there let confession be made for but he did not live long; unkindness had bro- the scenes of his youthful sports and the companship, that he will just take his hat and put it contributing to the happiness and well being or being orderly and quiet, there was a sudden ery family sins, and grateful praise returned for fami- ken his heart. He went to his bed : his little ions of his boyish days. Rarely has a young before him, and spit in his hat. You know we those they love ennobles the most menial of "man overboard !" ly mercies ; then may you hope for a reunion of Tommy was always at his bedside. The last man, continued in his own country and his own are Methodists-You all know that our custom is services, and that unselfish devotion to Flinn, a good draughtaman, who had been sitting your dispersed families, in a better country, even thing the old man saw was Tommy weeping, and kindred, so soon attained such literary and poto kneel when we pray. Now, any gentleman to such a purpose, when it is required, elevates, on deck comfortably sketching, started at the a heavenly .- Family Journal. may see, in a moment, how exceedingly incon- rather than degrades. It is true, much more ery, and looking over the side of the ship, saw his the last sounds he heard were words of kindness litical preminence. From his youth, the Judge ist be for a well dressed Methodist time is often devoted to such employments than own servant, who was no swimmer, foundaring in from Tommy's lips. He gave Tommy his bles- was characterized by profound reverence for the Lon Rible be compelled to kneel down in great pud- is necessary; with some house-keepers exces- the sea. Before Flinn's jacket could be of sing, and closed his eyes in death. Dear chil- ordinances of the gospel. He was a regular the body the nuic-Dom-t its sive neatness ceases to be a virtue, when the time captain of marines had thrown the man a chair We had a glimpse a day or two since of a dren, pray to God to make you always kind to attendant at the house of worship .- And whil lle of tobacco spit !? shaker Bible, a book not often allowed to be your parents, who are so good to you. "Now," said Judge White, "at this very davoted to its attainments is taken from more through the port-hole in the ward-room, to keep he was a Presbyterian, that being the Church of seen by the " world's people." It is entitled. bis fathers and the Church of his choice, he wa time, I had in my mouth on uncommonly large important pursuits. Others, again do a great wrong to families, as himself overboard, and was swimming to the res-"A Holy, Sacred, and Divine Roll, from the You are Deceived. benevolent and generous towards others of the quid of tobacco. Axley's singular manner and well as themselves, by spending their time in pre- one. The admiral having witnessed the whole READER, if you are living in impenitence, con- great Christian family. He gave to the Meth Lord God of Heaven to the inhabitants of the train of remark had strongly arrested every one's parations that pamper the appetite -degrading affair from the quarter deck, was highly delighted earth, revealed in the Society at Lebanon, vinced of your duty to God, yet putting off the odist Church at Knoxville, the ground on which attention. While he was striking to the right them to a level with the brute creation by making with the scene ; and, when the party, chair and County of Columbia, State of New York, United work of repentance and reconcilation to him, on their house of worship was built ; and occasion uch sensuality their highest pleasure-enfeebling all, had been hanled upon deck, he called Mr. and left, hitting those ' things' that he was not States of America." This edition was published the supposition that His service is hard and gloo- ally he would appear in the congregati and on not going to talk about, my curosity was rous heir minds and ruining their health. Those Flinn, praised his conduct and made him Lien. even years since, at the Shaker establishment at my, you are deceived. It has a chilling effect upon join with them in their worship. sd, and conjecture was busy to find out what who thus waste their precious hours ; of life, tenant on the spot. A loud hours from the mid-Cinterbury, New Hampshire, and the publishers your feelings, to think of giving up the world in Now, in those days, there was a noble presi he was aming at. I was chewing my huge quit tre truly deserving of censure; but not " the shipmen, whom the incident had collected on dock, sy that as they have no regular printer among exchange for Christ, but you are deceived. The ding Elder in that region, called Father Axley with uncommon rapidity, and spitting and look woman who attendeth diligently to the ways and who were throwing up their hats in honor of them, "It may not be perfect in all its parts." deception of sin is upon you. The whole do- a pious, laborious, uncompromising preacher ing up at the preacher, to catch every word and Flinn's good fortune, arrested Lord Nelson's at-We imagine, however, that some printer had a minion of sin over the soul is one of deceitful- the gospel, who considered it his duty to rebuk of her household." very gesture ; and when, at last, he pounced or The noblest right of woman claims our atten- tention .- There was something significant in the hand in it, from its neatness and accurcy; unless ness and fraud. You are made to believe that sin wherever it should presume to lift up its de the 'tobacco,' behold, there I had a great pud ion last, To the mother is committed a trust tone of their choor which he immediately recog-" was printed by inspiration. It pretends to be a it would be a kind of death-blow to your happi- formed head within the limits of his district .lle of tobaco spit ! I quietly slipped the qui or immortality. Look at the young child : aired; and putting up his hand for silence, and evalution -- so I the testimony of eleven mighty ness, to give up your worldly pleasures for a life And while Father Axley was a man of respectabl ovely it may be in person, in developments of leaning over to the crowd of middles, he said with seart, in the gleamings of a brillianr intellect a good natured smile on his face, "Stop, young out of my mouth, and dashed it as far as rangels is given, who attended the writing of the of religion, but rest assured, you are deceived. talents, undoubted piety, and great ministerial could under the seats, resolving never again t toll. One of the angels is named Console You are under the power of an alluring spell, fidelity, he had, moreover, a spice of humor be found chewing tobacco in a Methodist church What higher trust can there be, than to rentlemen. Mr. Flinn has done a gallant thing tene-Jah-mon-shue, and another Pre-line-fi-nan- that will soon break and vanish for ever. Esau, oddity, and drollery about him, that rarely fail ratch over that beautiful being, and to shield to day-and he has done many gallant things be. -Western Sketch Book. ten-va-ren-va-na. According to the angelie for a moment of self-gratification, sold his birth- ed to impart a characteristic tinge to his perfor or from the evil with which the world abounds for which he has got his reward ; but mind on, the book must be printed and bound right. You read the story, and say within your- mances. The consequence was, that amusin hat her spirit may be returned to its Maker 11 have no more making licutements for servants A Magnificent Present. y the Shakers themselves to prevent its saored- self, "Fool that he was, to give up so much for anecdotes of the sayings and doings o numbled and made more glorious by the moth- alling overboard !"-Mensir of Dr. Sect 1, Nel-By a letter just received from M. Vattema, form being polluted by profane hands, so little !" But pause a moment. Are you not Father Axley abounded throughout the coun says the Albany Argus, and dated at Washington ays the Albany Argus, and dated at Washingto: anobled and made more giorison of the same folly? He was deceived try. asys the Albany Argus, and dated at Washingto: anobled and made more giorison of the same folly? He was deceived try. and on far neacesary to deviate from the divine when he made that bargain. His reason was de- On a certain day a number of lawyers and on 2d inst., we are informed that he has just re- er's judicious care-by her carnest and well wa's Champlain. the printing was done at Canterbury, but it was re-enacting the same folly ? He was deceived try.

her in the town of Knoz- ceived advices from his agent at Paris, stating directed love. Is it not a boly right to guard ary men were too and the conversation turned on the subject that the French Government have made a dona- that little heart till'is becomes a well spring of asching and preachers. One and another tion to the New York State Library of a copy all pure and faithful affection? It is your right expressed his opinion of the performances of the celebrated Gallery of Versailles-a work to teach your shild to know and recognize the is and that pulpit orator. At length, Judge containing several thousand historical engravings, hand of God in every event of his Providence ite spoke up-" Well, gentlemen, on this " To give you an idea of this magnificent present to show her, in the exquisite delicacy of the set each man is, of course entitled to his (adds Mons. Vattemare) I need only say, that smallest flower, the bandiwork of the same Beopinion ; but I must confess, that Father each copy occupies a case three feet square by ug who hurls the thunder, and directs the lighty brought me to a sense of my evil deeds- two and a half high." ning's flash-to explain to her the store mechanism of her own little frame-to make ast a portion of them-more effectually than eacher 1 have ever heard." At this every and car was turned : for Judge White was wn never to speak lightly on religious subad respectful in his remarks concerning

he most urgent desire that the Judge would or the shackles of foolish custom are delured on to death, through this deceitfulness give the particulars, and expectations stood on

"I went up," said the Judge, " one evening to the Methodist church. A sermon was preach d by a clergyman with whom I was not acquain ted; but Father Axley was in the pulpit. A the close of the sermon, he arose, and said to the congregation, I am not going to detain you by delivering an exhostation. I have risen A Brooklyn paper contains a letter from its simply to administer a rebuke for imprope

Mobile correspondent who attended this unfor conduct, which I have observed here to-night." tunate man in his last illness, and from whom I'his, of course, waked up the entire assembly: we learn that anguish of mind had much to do and the stillness was most profound, while Axwith his sudden end. While temporarily supply loy stood and looked, for two or three seconds ing the pulpit of Rev. Mr. Milbourne, in Mobile, over the congregation. Then, stretching out he was assailed from every side, and the papers bis large, long arm, and pointing with his finger supplied with abundant materials from New steadly in one direction, ' Now,' said he 'l calca. York, teemed with the vilest abuse, which stired a'e that those two young men, who were talking

Woman's True Sphere of Influence. familiar to her delighted gans the stars of heaven Oh ! I wish I could put into my words half the in their nightly course-to point out before earnestness that fills my heart, when I think of her the glorious path her spirit may purs, and moreover, he was habitually cau the young girls springing up around us into sue. beautiful womanhood-fair to look apon, and of The proudest, rights of our sex are vested in of their rights. Young sister, your soul has a his "crown" of happinest and slore. She right to knowledge ": why will you submit to have who " teaches her son to be good "-- who trains it withheld from you? Why will you neglect up high-minded daughters to exert their vivileyour opportunities for acquiring it? Your ing influence over the world, fulfills ber m hearts were formed to be filled with intense, and as a woman; exercises her highest right, and holy, and self-sacrificing affections. Will you " her children shall rise up and call her bless wrong yourself by wasting such capacities in ed."- Southern Literary Messenger. vain triffings, or by weakening them with your Rousseath selfish indulgence? Do propose to yourself a Rousseau was not a mocker, or levelsr, "or a be almost vain. Exert yourself to-day, and satirist, or an atheist. He resembled Voltaire every day, to do good to others, and to make only in one respect-in rg tism -Be was not se learned as Voltaire, did not write so much, was Thank God for your intellectual powers, not so highly honored or esteemed. But he had on posterity. His influence was more athtis and dangereus, for he led astray people of generous impulses and enthusiastic dispositions, with but little intelligence or experience. He abounded in extravagant admiration of unsophistingted nature, professed to love the simple and abject humility. He dilated with apparent rapture on disenterested love, and yet left his own children to cold neglect and povarty. He peisout streams of possion in eloquent and exciting anguage, under the pretence of unburdening He was always talking about philanthropy and No man was ever more eloquent in paradox, or sublime in absurdity. He spent his life in gilding worthy aim, without which your existense will them happy.

INSUT SERIE

WHOLE NO. 1008.

and improve them to the utmost as He gives you more genius, and exercised a greater influence opportunity-

"for in the depth Of glory, in the attributes of God, Will measure the capacities of mind ; And as the angels differ. will the ken Of gifted spirits glorify him more."

him floating, and the next instant Fling had fung