RAIES TO THE BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.

All the main lines of Railroad in the State have agreed to pass delegates and visitors to the Baptist State Convention at three cents per mile each way, except the Seaboard and Rosnoke Railroad, which offers return tickets at two and a half cents per mile each way. Delegates and visitors will take notice of this and ask their respective Railroad agents for Return tickets to the Baptist State Convention." JOHN E. RAY, Cor. Sec.

-Senator Vance states that the Senate committee, of which he is chairman, will resume its sittings on the 13th of this month at Morganton, and will continue its inquiries regarding the administration of the affairs of the Sixth Internal Rev enue District of North Carolina Senators Mitchell, of Pennsylvania, and McDill, of lows are the two other members of this committee, So says the Charlotte Journal.

-About three o'clock yesterday afternoon a considerable fire occurred to a cotton train at the Air Line Junction, destroying two cars, forty-nine bales of cotton. * * About thirty feet of cross-ties were burned, and the rails were warped and twisted so as to be worthless. The railroad company loses about $1,300 in the destruction of the cars. The loss of the cotton was estimated to be about $2,200 -- Charlotte Ob-

-The Reynolds tobacco factory one mile from Winston was burned last week. Says the Press: The factory was a frame building, and when the fire was discovered, had made such headway that everything was destroyed. The building was full of leaf and manufactured tobacco, valued at $25,000. Insurance covering about one-half. It was with difficulty that the dwelling and outhouses were saved. About thirty or forty hands are thrown out of employment. The fire is thought to have originated from the -Charlotte Observer (Nov. 2:) Among the arrivals at the Buford yesterday was the distinguished Irish land leaguer, J. M. Sullivan, whose tour of the United States is attracting wide-spread attention. Mr. Sullivan is a member of the English Parliament from Ireland, and has won an honorable celebrity by his manly and eloquent efforts in the interest of his native land. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter. The party left for New York on the after-

-On last Wednesday evening as Mr. Bryant Smith, Coroner of Duplin county, was proceeding on his horse to find his hogs, he was shot and instantly killed, a buckload of shot from a shot gun passing through bis heart and lungs. It was in Glissom's township, near Branch's Store. Suspicion rests on William Carter, a white man, who has been arrested and put in jail Carter suspected improper intimacy, as we learn, between his wife and Smith. A coroner's inquest was held on the body of the deceased by a special coroner for the occasion. Mr Smith was a widower and leaves several

REVOLUTIONARY RELICS.—The old Brooks homestead) now occupied by E. W. Brooks) is the oldest frame dwelling in this county, having been erected many years before the Revolutionary war. During that war the tories attacked its owner, who was Isaac Brooks. (grandfather of the present occupant,) and broke out the panel of the door to his room, and that door still remains with its broken panel. Gen. Greene and his army encamped there, in his pursuit of Cornwallis after the battle of Guilford Court House, the general himself occupying a room in the house. Mr. Brooks has many interesting relics that were picked up at the old camp and carefully preserved.—Chatham Record. -REVOLUTIONARY RELICS.-The old

-The Winston Sentinel gives the following account of a North Carolinian's tragic death: Judge L. L. Wood, a brother of our townsman W. W. Wood, was killed in the Chickasaw Nation on the 2d ult. by an employee of his, whom he had reproved for using profune language at the supper table. The man became incensed at the reproof and drew a pistol and fired on the judge, officting a fatal wound. The Judge was one-armed man, and after he fell, although mortally wounded, turned over and rested mortally wounded, turned over and rested bimself on the stump of his lost arm, drew his pistol and killed his slayer. Judge Wood was peaceable, quiet and gentlemanity and stood high in the community in which he lived. He is a native of this State and was about 35 years of age, and had held the office of district Judge of the Chickasaw Nation for a number of years.

-Henderson Gold Leaf: The entertainment given by the little orphans in charge of Mr. Mills, at the Baptist church last Friday night, was well attended, and as Friday night, was well attended, and as they always do, when deeds of charity and acts of kindness are to be performed, our people acquitted themselves creditably on this occasion. The house was full, even to the gallaries, and everybody was well pleased with the appearance and general deportment of the children, and the workings of the Asylum as explained by Mr. Mills. After the entertainment was over a subscription paper was circulated around among the audience and several donations of $5 and $10 were readily obtained. Then a collection was taken up, the entire amount including this being $160 11 raised for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, as the result of the entertainment given in Henderson by the ten little orphans who belong to that noble institution.

A little child of Mr. Dichtl, keeper of the national cemetery, met with a sad death recently. The News and Observer gives the following account of it: As Mr. Dichtl sat in his office, writing, he heard a scream from the nurse, who cried out that the child was drowned. Going out he was horrified to see that the baby had fallen head foremost in a large tub of water, which stands under the mouth of the pump of the cistern. The tub was nearly full, and it was assertained that Jimmis, playing with a rubber ball in the water, had fallen in unnoticed. Mrs. Dichtl was sick in the house, the nume had left the child, perhaps, but a few minutes, unnoticed, but in that brief time its little life went out, for all attempts at respectation, and many were made, were truites. The doctor who speedily came, A little child of Mr. Dichtl, keeper of the pronounced the case hopeless. The boy, as bright a little fellow as one could wish to see, was only eighteen months old. To his saddened parents, who in the loss of other bright children two years ago suffered so much, many hearts will extend ready sympathy.

The society places in every case to which it is allowed access a tray into which smokers drop the ends of their cigars which they have cut off before lighting them. The to-bacco thus collected is sold, and with the proceeds clothes are bought for poor chil-dren at Christmas. The branches of the society are steadily increasing in number, and have, in fact, doubled within the last three years.

—There is a small Nihilistic party in France. The Daily News has the following dispatch from Lyons: Troops are occupying the railway and all the strategic points in the city. The soldiers have been strictly forbidden to hold communication with civilians. The forts dominating Lyons are prepared at the word of command to lay any part of the city in ashes. If further explosions occur the city will be placed under martial law. Threatening letters abound. The archbishop and director of the postoffice have received such missives, and the persons of both are carefully guarded. Late on Sunday evening the police discovered and seized forty kilograms of dynamite.

-A fortnight ago a vulture was seen novering over the city of London and now and then perching upon one or another of the tallest buildings. A member of the same tribe was caught on the rocks near Cork Harbor in 1848, and in 1825 one was shot near Kilve, on the shores of the Bristol channel. These three vultures are the only specimens of their race which are known to have visited the British Isles for severa centuries. Just what portent may be conveyed by the appearance of the obscene bird at this particular time is not apparent, but it is to be hoped for the honor of the superstitious brotherhood that some expla-nation will be forthcoming.—News and Ob-

Architects and engineers are gay de ceivers. We have two conspicuous cases in point. The State of New York started out to build a new capitol, and the estimates called for $5,000,000 to complete it. $13,000 000 have been expended, and it is not yet completed, but a commission appointed to investigate it, has just reported that the roof of the Assembly Chamber, which is a very elaborate piece of iron and stone work, is in danger of falling, and must be taken down, lest it fall and break the heads of the assembled wisdom of the State. The other is the Brooklyn high bridge. The engineers estimated the cost at $3 000,000 but it has kept about even pace with the State house, -Architects and engineers are gay de kept about even pace with the State house, and is not finished although about the same amount has been expended upon it. We suppose there is not a government building of any magnitude but what has cost two or three times as much as the estimate, a good proportion of which is stolen. The people of Illinois built a capitol too. The amount of its cost is specified in the constitution, which it was not to exceed without a vote of the people. But the commissioners went on and spent half a million more, and still the work was not finished. The people have voted upon the question once and refused the appropriation. They are to vote upon it again at the coming election; with what results remains to be seen.—Ex.

PACE-HINTON.—In Durham, N. C., on Oct. 25th, 1882, by Rev. C. Durham, Mr. F. I. B. PACE, of Wake county, and Miss S. A. HINTON, DENTON-SATER .- At the residence of the bride's mother, near Raleigh, on the morning of October 31, 1882, by Rev. Thos. E. Skinner, Mr. N. V. DENTON and Miss K. R. SATER.

DIED.

FOWLER.—In Wake county, Oct. 29, 1882, VERTA C. FOWLER, daughter of W. B. and Amanda C. Fowler, aged 6 months and 16 days. Amanda C. Fowler, aged 6 months and 16 days.

RAMSAY.—At his residence in Northampton county, N. C., on the morning of October 29th, 1882, Mr. JOHN RAMSAY, in his 71st year. The estimation in which he was held by his friends and neighbors, and the general character he bore as an honest man and Christian gentleman, is a monument to his memory more lasting and more precious to his family than any eulogy his most ardent friends could pronounce upon him. He died in peace with God, and his fellow-man.

B. H. R.

STEVENS.—Near the Court House, Currituck county, N. C., Oct. 26th, 1882, little Rosa L. STEVENS, daughter of Joseph D. and Elizabeth S. Stevens, aged 3 years, 8 mouths and 26 days. As Autumn, with its changing blasts, approaches and admonishes us to prepare for the winter winds that chill the earth, little did we think that the blackening frosts of death would so soon and so precipitately nip this tender and lovely bud from the ties and fond affections of loving parents, to be transplanted in the garden of Eden. Sad, sad indeed, are the feelings of the writer of this humble tribute, in behalf of the bereavement of such an amiable and devoted mother, sincers and kind father. Yes, we solemnly and mournfully sympathize with our friends in this their darkest hour, but hope, that brilliant meteor, whispers "All is well," and albeit little Rosa has left us here to share the troubles and cares of this sin polluted world; she is with the angels in celestial blas, lisping gloty to the Lamb.

"While bending o'er thy little grave, With meek submission may we say:

"While bending o'er thy little grave,
With meek submission may we say:
God's will be done! Our Father gave,
Our Father took this child away;
His own it was his right to claim;
And ever blessed be his name."

Coinfock, N. C., Nov. 1, 1889. DUKE.—Departed this life Oct. 28th, 1882, in the 38th year of her age, at her residence in Nash county, N. C., Mrs. MOLLIE E. DUKE, wife of Rev. G. M. Duke, a greatly beloved minister of the gospel in the Tar River Association. Sister Duke, daughter of T. W. and Mary E. Avent, was born in Nash county, Dec. 4, 1844. She was reared by Christian parents and early in life united with the M. E. Protestant church, where she remained a consistent member till a few months before her death, when she, with her two oldest daughters, united with the Philadelphia Baptist before her death, when she, with her two oldest daughters, united with the Philadelphia Baptist church, where she was a consistent member till called away by death.

She was married to Rev. G. M. Duke, May 5th, 1868, and spent happily with her kind husband, just 14 years, 5 months and 23 days.

With sorrowing heart and tear-dimmed eye, we pen this record of a life so pure, so bright, and so beautiful. Endowed by nature with grace and beauty, gifted with the noblest qualities of mind and heart; she lent a charm to every circle in which she moved, and cast a radiance over every scene in which she acted. In her character were blended all the sweet graces and virtues that constitute a true Christian woman; as such she was faithful in all the relations of life. So kind as a neighbor, so affectionate as a friend, that those who know her best loved her most. She was the light and object of love of her home, a beloved and dutiful daughter, an affectionate and sympathetic sister, a loving mother, and a devoted wife. As a painstaking mother her reproofs were always with kindness. No murmur, no complaint, escaped her ciation and esteem by following her remains to their last resting place.

Looking upon her husband, whose breaking heart was entwined in her own dear life, and her seven darling children, the youngest an infant not two days old, but the utter ones realizing the loss of a kind mother, we are with them in the deepest sympathy, and out hearts are going up to a throne of grace. U, Lord, help them to bear up under circumstances of so much sadness. But, my dear brother in the ministry, you who are a father to all young ministers, oh let me console you and your darling children with the thought that your loved one has gone home to rest, and that while she can't come to you, you can go to her. Bless God for that.

DELICATE PERSONS

And all those whose systems have become debilitated, should bear in mind that Simmons Liver Regulator is not a drastic purging medicine, therefore does not weaken or deplete the system as all purgatives do; it induces daily natural evacuations without straining, griping or pain; therefore its action being so gentle invigorates the bowels and tends to make the habit of the body regular, assisting nature rather than forcing it, thereby preventing as well as curing constitutions. tion, and the many diseases arising therefrom, the most common of which are piles, which are produced by constipation and increased by purgatives. It will be found most appropriate for ladies and delicate persons; as they very frequently suffer from Sick Headache and Acidity of the Stomach, principally caused by costiveness. Owing to its mild action it can even be taken by the weak and debilitated at all times and under all circumstances with perfect safety. As a Medicine the Regulator is invaluable, by encouraging the prompt clearing out of the excess of bile which would undoubtedly prove injurious. From its gentle action as well as its pleasant taste it is most peculiarly adapted for Children, acting so soothingly, never irritating the stomach of the most delicate Child. Thereby saving them from the ravages of diseases so common to infancy and youth. The bed-ridden, the most delicate home-bound invalid need not hesitate to use the Regulator, and mothers and nurses may give it to children for their most distressing complaint with the utman confidence in its safety. We say, without fear of contradiction, that there is not on the whole face of the globe its equal at the present moment, or another medicine so far-reaching or that meets with such unerring, such invariable success in the cure of all diseases of the liver, kidney and bowels. Beware of Counterfeits; take only the genuine in white wrapper with red "Z" in front prepared by J. H. Zeilin & Co.
