AIDS SUPPORT WEEKEND

Last summer we at Trade Street Market were looking for a way to give something special back to our community, which had been so good to us. We decided on an AIDS Support Weekend. The concept was simple; all profits from sales and all tips would go to a special fund for AIDS related human service needs.

It took off! Volunteers offered their skills from all areas of the service and entertainment industries. They came from everywhere and everyone wanted to help. The weekend came and so did the people. It was an event! Everyone who showed up left with a rewarding feeling whether service or patron.

We at Trade Street are once again this year asking for your support and attendance at our second annual AIDS Support weekend. You'll never have so much fun for all the right reasons. I know I do.
