

Brief Review Of State, National And World News During The Past Week

SENATOR SMITH WAS BURIED ON SUNDAY

Washington — Funeral services for Sen. Ellison D. (Cotton Ed) Smith (D-SC), 80-year-old dean of the Senate, who died of a heart attack at his Lynchburg, S. C., plantation last week, were held there Sunday.

A delegation of his Senate colleagues attended. Burial was in the family plot at St. Luke's Cemetery.

Senator Smith died six weeks before he was to yield the Senate seat he had held for 36 years.

Death ended a tempestuous career devoted to "king cotton," thundering tributes to the sanctity of southern womanhood and States' rights, and vitriolic attacks against President Roosevelt's Administration.

Defeat at the polls already had snapped his span of 36 continuous years in the Senate—longer than any other member in history. He was bested in the South Carolina primary election last July by former Gov. Olin D. Johnson and was serving out the current session as a "lame duck."

FIRE SWEEPS BELK'S STORE AT BOONE, SAT.

Boone—Belk's department store situated in the heart of the business district here was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin which was discovered about 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. Loss was estimated unofficially at $75,000 to $100,000.

The blaze was prevented from spreading to the Crest 5 and 10 cent store on one side and the A. and P. store on the other by the Boone and Blowing Rock fire department, but both establishments suffered smoke damage.

The Belk store closed at 7 p. m. and clerks left at 7:30. About an hour later the blaze was discovered and at that time tables containing merchandise on the main floor were ablaze. The building contained a basement and two floors.

Patients were moved from the Haganan clinic a few doors away from the fire and spectators attracted by the spectacular blaze filled the streets. The store was

NO AGREEMENT FOR ARGENTINA IS REACHED

Washington.—A new round of conferences between United States officials and representatives of friendly Latin American nations began this week, but it appeared unlikely they would lead to any early rapprochement with virtually friendless Argentina.

Primary purpose of the conferences is to determine whether a formula may be agreed upon for convocation of a "consultative meeting of foreign ministers" under procedure established by the Lima conference of American states in December, 1938.

Argentina Took Initiative
Initiative for such a meeting was taken on Oct. 27 by Argentine Foreign Minister Gen. Orlando Peluffo, who proposed a conference of all 21 republics to iron out differences on the "Argentine question."

The Argentine request was circulated among all governments by the Pan American union, but the union disclosed tonight that no replies had been received. It appeared that the Argentine request had become virtually a "dead letter."

BISHOP SAYS PEACE MUST BE MORAL ONE

Washington.—Catholic bishops of the United States called this week for an international peace organization founded on moral law and repudiating power politics.

They said in a statement the security council planned at Dumbarton Oaks "must not be an instrument for imperialistic domination by a few powerful nations."

"It must not allow any nation to sit in judgment in its own case."

The Soviet Union has been insisting that major powers should sit and vote with the council, even opened here about eight years ago.

The fire is the second in the Boone business district in a month. Hunt's department store having been damaged several weeks ago.

WAVES Solve Jig-Saw Puzzle to Aid Navy's Fighting Men

These WAVES are working on a jig-saw puzzle—the most important jig-saw puzzle imaginable. On duty at the Navy Hydrographic Office, they are helping construct a chart by use of aerial photographs. In its finished form the chart will guide the Navy's fighting men in operations in the Pacific zone. In existence two years, there's still a need in the WAVES for thousands of patriotic young women—20 to 36, without children under 18—whose starting pay, counting food and quarters, will be $141.50 a month, plus many "extras" and post-war advantages.

Interest In Air Fields May Cause A Postwar Land Boom

New York.—It's a sign of the times that real estate operators are expecting that the airplane will revolutionize postwar land values.

They saw how the automobile and the bus changed farmland into suburban home sites; they recall the role of the railroads in making industrial centers out of rural towns. Now they are anticipating the effects of projected municipal airports and airparks, and national chains of utility landing fields.

The interest of real estate men lies not only in commercial aviation but in private flying.

Says Lee Thompson Smith, president of the lawyers title corporation of New York and former "oposs puorpu au jo juopisad" of building owners and managers: "Approximately 3,000,000 young men in the nation's air forces, plus more than 2,000,000 in the aircraft industry, will mean more enthusiasts for personal flying after this war than were familiar with automobile driving at the end of the last war."

Questions that might have seemed fantastic a few years ago are being asked in seriousness today in such practical precincts as the mortgage departments of banks: How will private aircraft affect population shifts? Will air travel mean new airport business centers such as have developed around railroad terminals?

There have been plenty of hints as to where the airplane may push the suburbs of the postwar city. Filene's department store in downtown Boston will make daily deliveries by helicopter from its roof to Springfield, 90 miles distant. Arthur W. Hill of the Atlantic Greyhound corporation says bus interests are planning helicopter service between the downtown districts of 1,000 towns and cities.

if themselves accused of aggression. This would permit a major power to vote international collective action against itself since it is proposed that no action be taken without a unanimous decision by the major powers.

Without mentioning any nation by name, the bishops gave this expression on their views on membership in the international organization.
