ANTS HARMFUL?—Yes, because they carry dirt and may contribute to various illnesses when they come in contact with food, reports Dr. Heber C. Donohoe, entomologist of the Pateman Laboratories.

Eisenhower Urges Support Of Red Cross Fund Drive

The following statement by General Dwight D. Eisenhower has been released by the War Department:

"During the current Red Cross Fund Campaign vast numbers of patriotic Americans have responded generously to the cause. Already the majority of chapters have reached or exceeded their local goals. In some communities, however, I understand the campaign is lagging, and I am surprised to learn that one of the reasons given is that complaints are being levelled at the organization's overseas operations by returning servicemen.

"For the most part these criticisms have grown out of a Red Cross policy of making nominal charges to our forces for food and lodgings in fixed Red Cross installations abroad. These complaints are distressing to me since this particular Red Cross policy was adopted at the request of the Army so as to insure an equitable distribution among all service personnel of Red Cross resources.

"I know the Red Cross. I have seen it in action. Overseas it performed with the precision of a well trained army. It would be a grave injustice to the splendid work of the Red Cross if its campaign should be retarded anywhere by mistaken criticism.

"In providing millions of pints of lifesaving blood plasma, thousands upon thousands of packages for prisoners of war, in relaying countless heart-warming messages regarding conditions at home, bringing comfort and entertainment and cheer to hospitals, leave areas and battle fronts, the Red Cross accomplished a prodigious task. In Africa, in England, later on the Continent, we learned how much it meant to find the companionship, the friendliness, the link with home the Red Cross managed to provide.

"The services of the Red Cross are as urgently needed today by our occupation troops, our men in hospitals, and our veterans as they ever were by our fighting forces in time of war. The Red Cross needs and deserves our continued support. At the moment it is in the closing days of its greatest peacetime campaign for funds. It stands now in the shadow of the goal posts. I hope to see it promptly pushed across by oversubscription of its 1946 Fund Campaign."
