The war years taught almost everybody something about | and home canning. Because of the emergency, emphasis was placed on basic spoilage-preventing rules and on quantity rather than individuality. Now the time has come when more thought can be given to selecting, preparing, seasoning, and canning foods as YOU, not someone else, may like them.

Canning rules cannot be ignored, but standardization of flavors and seasonings has no place in the food preservation program of the homemaker who extrcises the privilege of setting her own food standards. Naturally those standards should be high, furthermore the taste preferences of those who share the food must be considered.

Take the matter of soup. Once you get the habit of using your own brand prepared and seasoned as you like it, you will never want any other.

Nothing quite takes the place of a really wonderful home-made vegetable soup. Our favorite recipe for canning it contains no cabbage. no turnip, no onion, because we are like G.I. Joe-we don't like THAT canned soup taste and odor. But if that's what you like, put the cabbage in, turnips too, but if they go in, other things might as well stay out because these strong vegetables overpower all the more delicate flavors. However, a slice or two of onion added when the soup is put on to heat for about fifteen minutes for serving, gives a fresh out-of-the-garden flavor. The Vegetable Mixture may be thinned with n ilk or water before heated for serving, but is much better when thinned with meat stock or broth. Vegetable soup gets along all right without a garnish, but if it is to be the mainstay of a lunch or supper, you might like a piece of toast covered with grated cheese floating in each bowl. Crackers or bread sticks are usually served with vegetable soup but our choice is midget corn pones, about two inches long, crusty and hot. Gladys Kimbrough, editor of the famous Ball Blue Book of canning preservation recipes, gave us soup. It is: 5 quarts chopped tomatoes

2 quarts sliced okra or 2 quarts small green lima beans 2 quarts corn 2 tablespoons sugar 2 tablespoons salt

Cook tomatoes until soft, then press through sieve to remove skin and seed. Add other ingredients and cook until thick. Pour into hot jars. Process 60 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.

"Odds and Ends" Usable Miss Kimbrough also told us that many people like to put "all the odds and ends" they can find in the garden in the soup, and she thinks that's all right if that's the way one wants it. It seems that all you do is: prepare the vegetables and boil them five or ten minutes with water to cover or with tomatoes which have been skinned and chopped. Season with salt and pepper. Pour boiling hot into hot jars. Process for the time required for the vegetable (in the soup) requiring longest processing time. .

their perverted career in their youth. It is high time that many parents, "born thirty years too soon,' with a priggish and "hush-hush" attitude towards sex education, wake up to what is going on in this country, especially in our cities. Parent-teacher associations, church and civic clubs should make this a matter of study. Coronet articles tells of one instance in the South which il-

"The judge's statement is timeand important, for the question of sex education is an integral part of the sex-crime problem. It is high time that parents wake up to the fact that if they do not arrange for their children to have proper sex instruction, they will secure it in back alleys and wash-rooms, and it will be the improper kind. School boards should be encouraged to provide sex instruction in the school. But above all parents should wake up to the fact that the first job should be done at home. 1. Make your advertising copy easy to read, friendly and informative. People read newspapers for the news. Give them facts and news about your merchandise and services.

2. Advertise regularly. Do what successful salesmen do-call on customers and prospects consistently.

3. Protect your advertising investment by insisting on audited circulation reports that tell you just what circulation you get for your money. Guesswork is wasteful.*

*In order that you may know just what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper, we are members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. This is a national, cooperative association of more than 2000 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, the purpose of the Bureau is to establish and maintain definite standards of circulation, audit the circulation records of the publisher members and report this verified information to advertisers.

Rules for

Annually, one of the Bureau's large staff of trained auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation. The verified facts and figures thus obtained are issued in an official A.B.C. report.

Our A.B.C. report tells how much circulation we have, where the circulation goes, how it was obtained, how much people pay for it and many other facts that you should know when you buy newspaper advertising. Thus when you advertise in this newspaper your investment is in known and verified values.
