Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Truitt, of Galax, returned to their home a few days ago after having spent a month in California and the middle west. Of the trip, Mr. Truitt has the following to say: "Although great changes have taken place in San Francisco in the last 38 years, I found myself quite at home after spending eight years on her streets in the early 1900's with seven years as street car conductor.

Homecoming Is Planned At ASTC

Mountaineers To Meet High Point Saturday; Kick-off At Two O'clock

Boone — "Homecoming Day," one of the highlights in the year of sports at Appalachian State Teachers College, will be observed here Saturday as a powerful squad of High Point college grid-ders invade the Teachers' field for a game with Coach "Flucie" Stewart's Mountaineers at 2:00 o'clock.

Coach Ralph James' Purple Panthers, seeded near the top in the North State Conference, will be toughest customers the Appalachian aggregation has met this fall. The High Pointers finished second in last year's play, with Catawba's powerhouse leading the loop.

The Mountaineers, however, are also a potent contender in the conference this year and will be out to avenge the 13-12 defeat handed to them by High Point in last year's homecoming game. The Appalachian outfit opened their conference play last Saturday with a sizzling 40-0 victory over Elon College, while High Point took a 19-7 beating at the hands of Catawba.

Both of the teams have tough, hard-hitting forward walls, bristling with power from one end to the other. Tipton and Painter, two husky backs from last year, are the men to watch in the High Point backfield play, while the Mountaineers have two good scoring punches in "Spot" Spoltore and Johnny Hollars. Hollars, the fastest man on the team, weighing 205 pounds, set a new record in the North State Loop Saturday by intercepting an Elon pass in his end zone and running 103 yards to score.

WACS MAY REENLIST WITH FORMER GRADE

Fifteen former members of the Women's Army Corps with MOS number 213 for direct assignment to the Caribbean defense command are urgently needed, Sgt. F. M. Darcy, in charge of the Lenoir recruiting station, stated this week.

Under current regulation, it was pointed out that any WAC desiring this assignment will be reenlisted in the grade held at the time of discharge.

Applications must not be filed later than October 20. Further information may be secured from the recruiter at the post office building here each Wednesday and Thursday or at Lenoir.

ALLEGHANY WINS TOP HONORS IN SHOW

(Continued from Page 1) type; 42 were classified as red ribbon type; and only six were relegated to third place by Dr. John E. Foster, professor of animal husbandry at State College, judge of the event.

Notable in the show was the fact that Bobby Black's Grand Champion steer was a half-brother of the bull which J. H. Doughton, Laurel Springs, sold at auction dispersal sale Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fanjoy, of Statesville, for $10,000, one of the highest prices ever paid for a beef animal in this part of the country.

This calf was sired by the bull which Mr. Doughton sold in the same sale to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Webb, of Statesville, for $3,500. Entries from the various counties were as follows: Alexander, 3; Alleghany, 21; Ashe, 3; Caldwell, 1; Catawba, 4; Forsyth, 1; Iredell, 22; Surry, 30; Wilkes, 15; and Yadkin, 10.

The animals ranged in weight from 670 pounds to 1,235 each.

Officials besides Dr. Foster, judge, and Neil M. Smith, manager, were Sam A. Neaves, chairman of the agriculture committee of the Elkin Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the show and sale, co-manager; Oscar Pitts, auctioneer; T. C. McKnight, secretary of Elkin Y. M. C. A., supervisor of 4-H Club activities (housing and feeding of the exhibitors); Mrs. D. C. Davenport, assistant home demonstration agent; and Hugh D. Barden, assistant county agent.

This year's event, compared with last year's show and sale, showed tremendous improvement, both as to quality of animals shown and the prices paid for them.

The total weight of the 110 animals sold yesterday was 98,725 pounds. Money paid out was $31,524.92. This was an average of $31.93 a hundred.

Last year the entries weighed a total of 104,570 pounds, but brought only $22,306.35, or an average of $21.33 a hundred.

Nancy Gambill, Alleghany county, showed and sold the Grand Champion calf last year and got 62 cents a pound for him. The Reserve Champion last year, shown by June Morrison, of Iredell county, brought only 47 cents a pound.

Senator Clyde R. Hoey spoke to the group of young people, their parents and guests in the forenoon and officially opened the sale in the afternoon.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

As you can guess, plenty of folks went their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold speckling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!
