

Alleghany Teachers To Attend District Meeting

Several County Schools Are To Be Represented 100 Percent At Convention

A number of Alleghany county teachers will attend the Northwestern district meeting in Winston-Salem tomorrow when around 3,000 others will gather for the twenty-fourth annual convention.

An interesting program has been planned for the convention.

The first meeting of the convention will be the local unit presidents' luncheon scheduled for 12 noon in the Reynolds high school cafeteria. The first general session at 2 o'clock will follow the luncheon, and the second general session at 7:30 p. m. will conclude the convention. The general sessions will be held in the Reynolds Memorial Auditorium. Divisional and departmental meetings have been scheduled for the afternoon of October 25 in the Reynolds high school and the auditorium.

District President A. P. Routh will preside over the general sessions. NCEA President C. W. Phillips, Executive Secretary Ethel Perkins, and Immediate Past President Annie Laurie McDonald will discuss the work of the North Carolina Education Association.

Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who will introduce the featured speaker of the convention, Dr. Richard B. Kennan, associate secretary of the NEA Defense Commission, Washington, D. C. The report of the canvassing committee will be given at this session, and the newly elected officers will be introduced. The unopposed candidates are: President, W. D. Payne, Lexington high

The outstanding offensive play of the game was the 60 yard run made by Jack Osborne which resulted in a touchdown. Two touchdowns were scored in the first quarter by the first team, two in the second quarter by the second team and three in the third quarter by the first team. There was no scoring in the last quar-

Needs Cited By Congressman To Crowd Monday

Hundreds Crowded Courthouse To Hear R. L. Doughton Speak

West Jefferson — (Special) —

Before a record crowd, which filled the courthouse to overflowing, at the noon recess of court on Monday Congressman R. L. Doughton cited the needs of the country today and the importance of having government officials who understand these needs and can carry them out.

"What we need is world peace, prosperity and conditions kept safe so that individuals can work out their own salvation," he declared.

He reviewed the many bills which he had voted on to help the veterans and explained and stressed the importance of continuing to help them become re-established in civilian life.

He summarized briefly the record of the Democratic party in both the State and nation and cited the progress that had been made under this party. He modestly referred to his own record.

He was introduced by T. C. Bowie who recalled that Mr. Doughton began his long career in public life in 1909. He told briefly of some of the many things the chairman of the ways and means committee has accomplished for the State and nation.

Previous to Congressman Doughton's address, Wade E. Brown, candidate for the State senate from Ashe, Alleghany and Watauga was presented by W. B. Austin and spoke briefly.

Touchdowns were pretty evenly divided between the backs with Jimmy Davis getting two, Osborne two, Bill Reeves two, Tom Reeves one, and John E. Bryant, one.

Bennett and Joines, in the line, played well and the field generalship of Captain Jimmy Davis was outstanding as usual.

Of all sad words in sound or ink, The saddest are: "I didn't think."

heifers calved between January 1 and April 30, 1945; heifers calved between May 1 and August 31, 1945; heifers calved after September 1, 1945; champion and reserve champion female; two females bred and owned by exhibitors.

The Grand champion, out of a granddaughter of Real Prince Domino, was also the grand champion bull at the N. C. Hereford show held in April this year. He was recently sold by the owner for $10,000 to A. W. Easley of Statesville. Mr. Doughton reserved the right to show him in the State fair. He won third place in the Atlantic Rural Exposition held in Richmond this month.

The dispersal sale of Mr. Doughton's Herefords at Doughton Meadow's farm this month was one of the biggest and most successful ever held in the south and was widely attended by buyers from several states.

Mr. Doughton's herd included some outstanding individuals of Wyoming Hereford range breeding. In addition to the bull which sold for $10,000 at the sale held earlier in the month another sold for $3,500 and another for $1,700. The lot of 107 averaged $600.

Clyde R. Greene

Being an active merchant he understands the problems of the businessman and the restrictions, regulations and controls of the New Deal. He is opposed to them.

He taught in the public schools of Watauga, Wilkes and Cabarrus Counties for seven years. He knows the problems of the underpaid teachers and he believes that our schools should be improved. Teachers must receive higher wages to the end that teaching may be elevated to the status of a profession. A child in North Carolina should have the same educational opportunities as a child in New York, Illinois, or California.

He was reared on a farm and owns and operates one now. This gives him first hand information of the many problems of the farmer. He is President of the Watauga County Farm Bureau and is interested in everything to better the conditions on the farm.
