

Hunters Return With Big Game

Dr. P. L. Choate, of Sparta, Reed Sturdivant, of West Jefferson, and Persie Barker, of Thurmond, have recently returned from a most successful deer hunt on the east coast. The hunters reported that six deer were killed.

Sturdivant killed a nice buck with a fine shot with a 30-30 rifle. Barker shot one down twice with four shots but the deer was able to walk away from the scene of disaster. However the dogs caught the deer within a short time, according to the hunters, but as Barker did not return with the meat, all the boys got a "whack at his shirt tail."

Dr. Luff killed the largest deer since 1940, according to old deer hunters. They brought back to the county two deer, divided it up and distributed it among their you this sad, sad tale of woe I heard this week. It proves, for one thing, that there is always humor, even in tragedy.

"My sister and I bought an automobile together. She learned to drive. I didn't because I thought I was too nervous.

"First she ran into a tree and damaged the car over $200 worth. We had it repaired and the very day it came back, it was parked in front of the house and a man came along and smashed the tail light.

"A few months later my sister was driving in the rain one night and lost control of the car and ran off the highway in a nearby community. She had a field about as big as a block to turn around in but instead of putting on the brakes she stepped on the gas. She went through the wall of a filling station.

"The proprietor was sick and seeing the car zig-zagging across the field, and then coming through the wall, thought the world had come to an end and had a heart attack.

"There was a nickelodion which she drove into, scattering nickels all over the place and breaking every record except one, 'It Makes No Difference Now'."

Elk Creek, November 1 at 2 p. m., with Mrs. Lawrence Reeves; Whitehead, November 5, at 1 p. m., with Mrs. Lee Joines; Cherry Lane, November 6 at 2 p. m., with Mrs. G. P. Crutchfield; Turkey Knob, November 8 at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Lon Landreth.

Demonstrations on arts and crafts will be given at each of the club meetings.
