

Conservation Farming News

W. I. Fender, of Sparta community, is planning to improve his farm, and was assisted recently by the Soil Conservation Service in planning a conservation program on his entire place. He is planning to seed about 2 acres to ladino clover and orchard grass this spring.

C. P. Carico, of the Edmonds community, plans to seed some new pasture this spring on fields which are producing very poor grazing. He has already limed these fields and plans to apply 600 pounds of a high grade fertilizer mixture when the seeds are planted.

Julian Hyde, a student at Glade Valley school, represented Alleghany county in the Soil Conservation public speaking contest, held in North Wilkesboro last Thursday. Julian won 4th prize of $10.00. We are proud of this showing, and the interest shown in the county.

L. S. Tayson, who lives near Sparta, plans to set a badly eroded area in his pasture field to white pines. The Soil Conservation Service is working with Tayson in planning other conservation practices on his farm.

Joe Shoate, of the Pine Swamp community, has asked the Soil Conservation Service to assist him in getting soil samples on some of his fields. Joe feels that a better knowledge of the need of his fields can be had through soil analysis.

Obituary

HOWARD DEAN WILLIAMS

Howard Dean Williams was born Sept. 15, 1926; departed this life Feb. 3, 1947, age 20 years, four months, 19 days. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Williams, of Peden.

He spent almost two years in the U. S. Army, one year of which was spent overseas in Japan. He had just been home two months.

Dean, as we knew him, was always a good boy, quiet and never talked much. Was kind and considerate of his parents. To know him was to be his friend.

He was a peculiar boy, in as much as he never was known to speak short or unkind to either of his parents, nor to use any kind of unbecoming language. He leaves his father, mother, one sister, and one niece, a host of relatives and friends to mourn his passing.

Written by Rev. Willie Sturgill, Piney Creek, N. C.

CARD OF THANKS
