HENRY WALLACE NOW BACK IN AMERICA Marshall Home

Shannon Airport, Ireland-Henry A. Wallace, who has been telling Europeans for the last two weeks that a $50,000,000,000 reconstruction program will dis-solve international distrust, is now at home to tell Americans about his ideas in a coast-to-coast speaking tour.

He left Paris at 11 a.m. (5 a.m. e.s.t.) aboard the Trans-World Airways Constellation transport, Star of Madrid. The plane stopped here briefly and six passengers were put off so extra fuel could be taken on.

Just before he left Paris, he was asked about the refusal of Hollywood Bowl authorities to let him speak there on May 19.

"I have been telling the people of Europe that free speech is not dead in the United States and I still think so," Wallace said.

Price Cut Plan Gets By From Conference

Washington-Secretary of State Marshall flew home from Mos-cow and took off almost imme-diately for a quiet Carolina re-sort to draft important reports to Congress and the nation on the Foreign Ministers' Conference. These reports are expected to bear heavily on relations with Russia. And with the attitudes made clear at the Moscow meeting, which ended largely in disagreement.

President Truman interrupted a river cruise to meet Marshall. "I am most happy to receive you back with us," Mr. Truman told his top cabinet officer at the airport. "I am very well pleased with what you have been doing. I know when you make the re-port to the country, the people will also be pleased."

That report was broadcast from 8:30 to 9 p. m. (e.s.t.) Mon-day night, 24 hours after a private report to the President and Congressmen at the White House tonight.

In Newburyport, Mass., where the anti-inflation experiment originated, retail merchants reported Saturday's sales were 40 per cent above a normal Saturday, and attributed it to shoppers flocking in from surrounding communities.

The 10 per cent cuts originally were scheduled to run for 10 days in that city, but sponsors of the idea are considering indefinite continuance. Action on continuing the plan will be taken at a

Buildings not already protect-ed with fire extinguishers might be supplied with them, he said, pointing out that Spring is a good time to check extinguishers that are a part of the farm's fire fighting apparatus.

"Clean farms seldom burn," the agent said. "A clean farm is also generally free from disease, is safer, has a healthier atmosphere, and is a nicer place to live."
