CONTROL OF TOMATO LATE BLIGHT

Did you have fresh tomatoes for the table and for canning last year? If not you failed to get an ample supply of Vitamin C in your diet from tomatoes. Protect your tomato crop this year and be assured of tomatoes fresh for the table, for canning, and for marketing.

Late blight, which causes a firing of the leaves and a brown rot of the fruit took a heavy toll of home garden and commercial tomato plantings in 1946.

You cannot afford to lose your most important source of Vitamin C. Control late blight—Here's how:

1. Obtain reliable plants grown under disease control practices or spray or dust your own plant beds.
2. Dust or spray the plants in the field or garden.

MATERIALS TO USE
Either of the following materials can be used: Yellow Cuprocide, Tri-Basic Copper Sulphate, Compound-A Copper, 4-3-50 Bordeaux spray, or 20-80 Copper-lime (Bordeaux) dust.

When plants are being grown apply the treatment once a week in the plant beds. For plants in the garden or field: Start as soon as the plants are growing off well after transplanting.

TOPS
FOR HOME CANNING ZINC CAPS
Easy to use! Sure to seal! Used for generations, still have wide preference among housewives!

Compound-A: 4 level tablespoonfuls to 1 gallon water. Note: In preparing each of the above spray mixtures, first make a paste of the material then stir the paste into the amount of water required.

Dusts: Prepared dusts ready for use and containing 6 to 7 per cent metallic copper from Yellow Cuprocide, Compound-A or Tri-Basic Copper Sulphate or 20-80 Copper-lime (Bordeaux) dust.

Compound-A: 4 lbs. Compound-A, 3 lbs. wheat flour, 18 lbs. talc, pyrophyllite. Tri-Basic Copper Sulphate (53% metallic): 3 1/2 lbs. tri-basic copper sulphate, 3 lbs. wheat flour, 18 lbs. talc or pyrophyllite.

Copper-lime (Bordeaux) Dust: 5 lbs. monohydrated copper sulphate powder, 20 lbs. fresh hydrated lime. (Apply copper-lime dust only when the plants are wet—the other dusts may be applied at any time.)

When TO SPRAY OR DUST
When plants are being grown apply the treatment once a week in the plant beds.

WHAT EQUIPMENT TO USE
For Sprays: In gardens and other small plantings use the pressure tank or knapsack type sprayers.

DO A GOOD JOB
Apply dusts or spray thoroughly—get a good uniform coating of the materials on all parts of the plants.

Your Tri-County Health Dept.

By Robert R. Klag, Jr. District Health Officer

The cleanliness of our city streets and public highways is an aspect of public health that is often neglected but nevertheless important. Not only is it unsightly to see candy wrappers, cigarette packages, banana peelings, popcorn boxes, ice cream cones and cigarette butts scattered on the side walks and gutters and streets, but these items actually offer means of spread of contagious diseases.

Mayor Winkler of Boone recently issued an appeal to the people of that city to clean up their own yards, and Mayor Nichols of Sparta, at a meeting of the town board recently, decided to install rubbish cans along the main street of Sparta so that customers of the drug store, grocery stores, and moving picture theatre will have a place to dispose of trash.
