R. L. DOUGHTON IS HONORED BY GROUP

(Continued from Page 1) ly affected by the universal praise and appreciation spoken by the leaders of the district and state, grew reminiscent of the various campaigns through which he had passed, and he expressed deepest appreciation for the loyalty and friendship and confidence manifested by the people of his district. He warned that by overconfidence, and neglect "We could lose the district." Mr. Doughton made a ringing speech, showing the vigor, enthusiasm, and hope characteristic of a younger man. He said he was in fight for the good of the party as long as he was able. Some thought he might make a statement as to whether he would be a candidate to succeed himself in 1948, but on that point he was noncommittal. Hoover Taft, chairman of the Young Democratic clubs of North Carolina, brought greetings from his organization. U. S. Senator William B. Umstead made the closing address, paying eloquent tribute to his friend, Congressman Doughton.

Obituary

Rush Floyd Edwards was born August 20, 1885 in Alleghany county near Edwards X Roads, died in Pulaski, Va., hospital September 30, 1947.

Except for a few years which he spent in the western states when a young man, he resided in Alleghany county where he took an active part in county affairs, until February 1911, when he moved to Galax, Va., and remained there until his death.

His wife, Sarah Collins Edwards departed this life July 15, 1946. He leaves to mourn their loss, two daughters, Mrs. J. K. McKnight and Mrs. B. I. Collins, both of Galax, Va.; one step-daughter, Mrs. S. G. Lundy, Fallston, Md.; and one grandson, Pawnee K. McKnight, Miami, Fla.; one granddaughter, Jama Lee McKnight Sheffield, Galax, Va.; one step-granddaughter, Hazel Lundy Choate, Fallston, Md.; one brother, W. Smith Edwards, Walla Walla, Wash.; one sister, Mary Choate, Trinidad, Colo., and one half brother, Charles G. Cox, Sand Point, Idaho, besides a host of relatives and friends.

Floyd Edwards was loved and respected by all who knew him. He served on the town council in Galax, Va., for a number of years. At his passing we have lost one of our most beloved and highly respected citizens.

Attention Alleghany Milk Producers ARTIFICIAL BREEDING WILL BE AVAILABLE IN THE COUNTY JANUARY 1 — LIFE-TIME MEMBERSHIP HAS BEEN SET AT THREE DOLLARS IN THE COUNTY ORGANIZATION AND SERVICE FEE OF FIVE DOLLARS. HARRY LEE WINGLER OF GLADE VALLEY HAS BEEN EMPLOYED AS INSEMINATOR AND WILL BE TRAINED AT NORTH CAROLINA STATE COLLEGE IN NOVEMBER. Advantages Of Artificial Breeding 1—Receiving service of proven sires of desired breed, Guernsey, Jersey or Holstein which are far superior to any sires here in the county as sires of this type cost $2000 to $3000 and many times can not be purchased at any price. 2—The cost of keeping the average Dairy Bull is from $100 to $150 for a year, and a milk producer with 15 cows can have them bred for $75 and at the same time keep an extra cow which should pay $100 to $150 and not run a risk of getting killed or permanently injured with a Dairy Bull. SPARTA TELEPHONE NUMBER OF INSEMINATOR WILL BE ANNOUNCED LATER AND REQUESTS WILL BE PICKED UP AT SPARTA MILK RECEIVING STATIONS AFTER MILK HAULERS ARE IN AND FROM OTHER MILK ROUTES. Why Membership Is Necessary Purchase of equipment for inseminating work, postage on semen that arrives daily of each of the three breeds from Asheville, and other organization expenses. ANYONE DESIRING THIS TYPE OF SERVICE IN 1948 IS REQUESTED TO PAY IN THEIR LIFE-TIME MEMBERSHIP FEE TO THE ORGANIZATION DIRECTORS OR THE INSEMINATOR IMMEDIATELY. DIRECTORS J.
