Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up Campaign Starts April 17

MAYOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Public Is Urged to Cooperate in Helping to Make Town of Valdeese Beautiful.

A concentrated effort will be made within the next few weeks to get the people of the town of Valdeese to take a little pride in their community, and to join in making the National Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up campaign, which will be waged in this community from April 17th to March 31st, a success.

Stores and private homes are urged to do their best to keep their walks free from waste material, to clean up empty lots, the back of stores, and front yards.

Valdeese, which has the reputation of being the fastest growing town in the state, is undoubtedly one of the untidiest in this section. People who are proud in their community, who put to shame, when visitors passing through town, comment on the untidiness of the many lawns, empty lots, and sidewalks and streets.

Civic organizations, the Valdeese Chamber of Commerce, and other bodies are urging each and every one to see that their walks, and around their premises are cleaned during the campaign, which will last for three weeks.

The Colonial Theatre, which is cooperating in this Civic undertaking, will give a Tin Can Drive, on a date to be announced. Children will be admitted to the show, provided they bring with them a dozen empty cans, and dump them in the truck which will be parked in front of the Theatre. The only restriction to this is that the cans be gathered anywhere around or near their homes, but NOT FROM THE CITY DUMP.

An elaborate program is planned in conjunction with National Clean Up Paint Up and Fix Up campaign which is being waged in this community.

Blythe Bros. Start Leveling Work In Front of Joe's Mt. View Dining Room.

Beeler Childers and Charlie Clevenger, local aviation enthusiasts, have started grading work for a landing field for their airplane on Highway No. 70 between Morganton and Valdeese.

A 1700-foot east-west runway, parallel to the highway, is being levelled off across the highway from Joe Garrison's well-known Mountain View dining hall by Blythe Bros. The owners have not as yet completed all their plans for its operation, but there was indication that the new airport might be developed for commercial flights.

Naughty Wind Causes Discomfort Here In Early Part Of The Week

A terrific wind amused itself today in this section by causing much discomfort and work for people in the community. The roads contributed a large amount to the wind very irksome to the walking public as it blew dust and waste into a person's face. Many were the people who found themselves being tight to their bonnets, and otherwise.

The terrific force of the gale blew signs which had been placed haphazardly over and many persons were forced to swallow a great amount of dust and dirt. Papers which had been strewn over the streets were sent sailing and cars suffered the full effect of the gale as it took its worst from in the early afternoon hours, finally quieting down a little in the late evening.

It started out anew Tuesday morning and a decided letup in the windstorm was noticed late Tuesday afternoon.

DREXEL MEMBERS HOSTS TO LIONS

Valdeese Lions Hear Interesting Talk By New Pastor Drexel Baptist Church

Drexel members of the Valdeese Lions club played host to the Valdeese members at their last meeting which was held at the Drexel schoolhouse last Thursday night.

After benediction had been rendered the members were served a delightful supper by Drexel ladies and after the supper the following visitors and new members were introduced. E. P. Winkler of the Duke Power Co. office, Rev. Wesson, the pastor of the Drexel Baptist church, Kit Glass and a new lion, Prof. Hoyle of Drexel.

Charles Burgin gave a brief resume of the history of Drexel, saying that it was once called Baker. It was later that the town was named Drexel and that since then has become known nationally for its "Furniture by Drexel." It also has a fine knitting mill.

Prof. Hoyle in a short talk announced how glad he was to have the club meeting there and outlined the work of the school. Drexel has 666 enrolled with 152 in the high school and boasts of a faculty of 18 members. The modern school has been undergoing repairs for the past 18 months and the work will soon be finished.

Rev. D. C. Wesson, the new pastor of the Drexel Baptist church gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on "Looking For A Man To Stand In The Gap, or Command." He said he was delighted to join the prospering community of Drexel and that it had been highly recommended to him.

A letter was read the club by Ed Pons, which thanked the members for the fine work that they had done in providing glasses for a needy child and Lign Hawkins stated the need for the Boy Scouts to have their meeting house moved from its present location. After several other matters the members adjourned to attend their Easter benefit dance.

Marriage Law Will Halt Cupid's Pace

New Marriage Law To Require Physical Examination To Get License.

Cupid was dealt a severe blow last week as County Register of Deeds Lawrence Crouch in Morganton received the forms from Raleigh which must be filed before he can issue a license to wed. This new law was put in effect by the General Assembly early this week and require a physical examination by both parties before they can obtain a marriage license.

Under the law, persons with venereal disease, or tuberculosis in infectious or communicable stage cannot receive marriage license except under certain conditions, and persons found on examination to be subject to epileptic attacks, an idiot, an imbecile, a mental defective or of unsound mind will be allowed to marry only after eugenic sterilization.

The physical examination entails a Wasserman test, and since no laboratory here is prepared to conduct such tests, the result will be to delay marriages until tests can be made by laboratories elsewhere, Mr. Crouch said.

North Carolina residents who marry in other states must file such certificates in their home county. What means of enforcing this provision has been provided Mr. Crouch was unable to say.

Penalty for violation of the new law is a fine of $50 or imprisonment for thirty days or both.

Sunrise Services Draw Large Crowd

Early Risers Turn Out For Easter Sunrise Services Sunday.

A fine group turned out early Sunday morning about 5:30 o'clock to attend the Easter sunrise services which were held for all the Valdeese churches at the Waldensian cemetery in the Pine Bur section.

As the services began the flaming red rays of the morning sun could be seen rising in the east and in spite of the cold weather as it came out its rays could be felt giving forth its light and heat to the world at large.

Rev. Sylvan Poet of the Waldensian church, Rev. M. T. Hinchshaw of the Valdeese Methodist church and Rev. J. W. Blaylock of Abbe's Grove Baptist church gave short sermons on the "Resurrection of Jesus Christ." The assemblage sang three hymns, "Christ the Risen Lord," "Up From the Grave He Rose," and "The Day of Resurrection." They were led by Charles Young playing the trumpet.

Rev. Mr. Poet said that the attendance was very gratifying and that next year they hope to have an even more elaborate program planned for the Easter sunrise services.

Uncle Sam Might Build Hatchery

Senator H. J. Hatcher Informed Work Might Qualify for U. S. Fund

Coming as a ray of hope on otherwise hopeless prospects of securing a fish hatchery in Burke county was announcement from Senator H. J. Hatcher recently that there might be some possibility of securing from Federal Conservation funds sufficient money for the hatchery.

"I have received information that we might be able to get all the funds necessary," he said. The government appropriated money for such conservation work, and such a project as that proposed by the ill-fated hatchery bill in the recent legislature might qualify. It was indicated that the matter will be investigated immediately.

Require Milk To Be Labelled Now

Suspended Provisions of Ordinance Are Put In Effect By Health Board.

The Burke county board of health in a meeting last Friday voted to put into effect provisions requiring the labelling of milk sold in the county, a regulation which had been temporarily suspended since the adoption of the milk ordinance two years ago.

Herds of four cows or less will not be affected by this provision of the milk ordinance, while producers with from five to 11 cows, inclusive, may produce either grade B milk. Herds of 12 cows or more must meet the requirements of a regular dairy, producing either Grade A or Grade B milk but nothing under that grade.

The grade of milk must be labelled on each bottle under the terms of the ordinance which means that milk bearing a grade of D must be marked "For Cooking Only."

The action of the board of health with regard to enforcing this portion of the milk ordinance had been deferred since the ordinance was adopted March 30, 1937, in order to allow dairies and dairymen opportunity for making preparations for meeting the requirements for grading, then inaugurated.

The specific provisions of the ordinance regarding labelling were first suspended for one year and then for another but will not go into effect as originally contained in the U. S. standard ordinance.
