BIG SHIPMENT PIKE PUT IN LAKE JAMES

Approximately Quarter Million Placed In Lake; Others Sent To Hatchery.

Fishermen in this area who have looked to the time when Lake James was stocked with wall-eye pike can rest a little easier today Wednesday, last week, two truckloads, bearing 24 barrels, arrived from the Federal Fish Hatchery at Edenton. Approximately 2,000,-000 were in the load, 250,000 of them being placed in the lake last night and the remainder being taken to the Marion Hatchery to be left for a month or two before being put in the lake.

The fish eggs-about 3,000,000 of them-came to North Carolina from the New York State Game and Fish Department and were taken first to Edenton where apgood hatch, District Game Protector H. L. Biggers said. The pike are now about four days old and were released on the Linville side of Lake James in what is known as the Lee James Bottoms and White's Creek.
