STATE NEWS

Condensed Items of Interest Happening Throughout the State.

Some time in July a burglar of burglars entered the home of Mr. Nauman Hardison, a resident of Arapahoe, and broke into a trunk and took therefrom sixteen dollars in money. Two young men of the neighborhood were arrested on suspicion of being the thieves and are under bonds for their appearance at court to answer the charge. A few mornings ago Mr. Hardison found a package on his front gate post containing $12.50 and a request that he withdraw the money.—New Bern Journal.

Attorney Frank Thomson, of Onslow, who lacks after the swamp land held by the State Board of Education, is here and says no man knows the area of these lands. The greater part of them is held by the State under deeds and grants made between 1790 and 1796. Very many of the holders of the grants failed to pay the taxes, and the State again took the land under an act of 1798, but, strange to say, most of these deeds made to the State failed to comply with the act, and thus, as Mr. Thomson remarked, the Board of Education has lost somewhere between five millions and ten millions of dollars.—News and Observer.

Judge Pritchard yesterday passed on the question of whether a clerk of Federal court is entitled to a commission on sums paid to the commissioners of the court which do not pass into his hands. The judge decided that the clerk was entitled to nothing in such cases. The question arose in the case of S. Morgan Smith against Rockingham Power Company and others in which $50,000 had been paid by the purchaser of the property to the commissioner making the sale. The clerk at Raleigh in taxing the bill of costs in the case claimed a commission of one per cent on this money and the matter was presented to Judge Pritchard on appeal.—Asheville Citizen.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. R. L. Lancaster had trouble with Jim Hardy, a negro, in which Hardy came out a little disgraced though we learn not seriously hurt. It seems that Mr. Lancaster who has a plumbing shop on Goldsboro street, sent one of his employees to do some work on the other side of the block and told him to go through Hardy's stables. Hardy told the young man that if he knew how little he thought of that man (Lancaster) he would not have sent him through there. On his return to the plumbing shop the young man told Mr. Lancaster what Hardy had said. Mr. Lancaster went over to see him about it, and during the conversation Hardy insulted him, and he struck Hardy with a hammer several times on the head breaking the scalp, but doing no serious injury.—Wilson Times.

Some fine strings of chub are being caught in the Cape Fear river. Yesterday morning Messrs. P. G. D. Barnes and Robert Ormond went out, and in a little while they had bagged sixteen large fish. Mr. R. W. Cumbo also went and he succeeded in catching twenty-five. One of his catch weighed seven pounds. These fish are very game and it is fine sport to fish for them. They are caught with an imitation fly or minnow called a "bob." This is pulled back and forth on the water and the hungry chub strikes at it and gets caught. Sometimes they tear loose, but their greed is greater than their pain so they strike again and again until captured. Now is the time on these full tides and cloudy mornings, for lovers of the sport to have some fun.—Oriental News.

With the first month of the cotton season almost at a close the receipts for this crop year, according to the showing for the closing week at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, are 7466 bales over the first month of the season last year. The increase mentioned last week which at that date was 7,222 bales over the same time last year, has been slightly decreased by the smaller receipts during the first of the week than during the same days of the previous season. The receipts during the week as compared with last year are about 1,000 bales smaller than same time last year. The receipts for the crop year to date are 49,032 against 51,617 for 1907-8. The largest receipts of the staple at the port of Wilmington this season were 5,046 bales on September 23d. Cotton sold on the local market yesterday for 12 1/2-13 cents for middling, which is the highest price paid during the season. Last season at this time the quotations was 9 1/2-10 for middling.—Wilmington Star.

A lot of people always watch the "For Sale" ads., and if your offer is good enough, you'll find the buyers.

When a store uses but a small amount of space in its ads. it is construed to mean that its message is small and unimportant.

Large Crowds Attend Millinery Openings at Ayers' and The Hub.

The millinery openings at E. W. Ayers' and The Hub today were proving successful. From the hour of opening to the closing time ladies flocked to these two popular stores to view the display of fall and winter hats. This was the first opportunity the ladies of Washington have had to view the hats that will wear this coming fall, and they were eager to be on hand early. Both openings were much complimented and the ladies are loud in their praise of the styles exhibited. A great many of the latest fads were sold during the day.

ONE BETTER.

An Englishman, fond of boasting of his ancestry, took a coin from his pocket, and, pointing to the head engraved on it, said: "My great-great-grandfather was made a lord by the King whose picture you see on this shilling."

"What a coincidence," said his Yankee companion, who at once produced another coin. "My great-great-grandfather was made an angel by the Indian whose picture you see on this cent."
