

UNRULY DISCIPLE DISPLEASES THE MOTHER CHURCH

Was Excommunicated

Mrs. Stetson's Conception of Animal Magnetism Not the Kind She Taught in Her Church in Brooklyn.

COMMITTEE'S STATEMENT

New York, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Stetson's answer to the charges of Virgil O. Stricker, that she practiced malicious animal magnetism on her enemies and taught falsehood by testifying from the fourth dimension of spirit, has proved unsatisfactory to the directors of the Christian Science Church in Boston.

The statement issued by Mr. Cox, head of the publication committee, who is in daily communication with Boston, is significant.

"While the mental practice described by Mrs. Stetson in this morning's papers is not the practice of Christian Science," he declared, "it is to be observed that there is a wide difference between her practice as described by herself and by her students.

"Even the most partisan students admitted in Boston that she was in the habit of making mental and audible attacks upon persons in the nature of imprecations and curses.

"The distinction she attempts to make in favor of mental practice, which, she claims, is legitimate as self defense, is unknown to Christian Science. A Christian Scientist defends himself from all forms of evil by keeping his own consciousness free from all evil and not by bustling thoughts at a supposed enemy.

Yesterday the real genesis of the trouble, together with the testimony that caused the investigation to be started was revealed for the first time. Mr. Cox announced that onus should not be laid on Mr. Stricker and that seven practitioners who rebelled at Mrs. Stetson's teachings last winter, had been the ones to open the eyes of the mother church.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Administration circles were in a state of suppressed agitation yesterday, and engaged in much close scrutiny of those shadows that are cast before impending events. It was felt that a critical stage had been reached in the relations between the Department of the Interior and the Forest Service, and what the adjudication of President Taft would be was the subject of anxious consideration.

Several conferences have been held recently among the members of the cabinet; that of Monday night being the only one concerning which any information was allowed to reach the public. The proceedings of those conferences can in large part be summed up in the special dispatch sent to New York with such tell-tale earmarks of having been inspired. Behind the alleged revelation, is the serious charge that a well-defined movement is afoot throughout the country under the leadership of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin; Francis J. Heney, of San Francisco; and Clifford Pinchot, chief of the forest service, to discredit the Taft administration, and pave the way for the reelection of Theodore Roosevelt as President, in 1912.

Pinchot Induced to Join? The story is that Messrs. La Follette and Heney seized the opportunity offered in the rupture between Secretary Ballinger and Chief Forester Pinchot to start their campaign against the Taft administration, and that Pinchot then was induced to join in it.

Just how President Taft will look on the situation of several of his strongest right-hand men being in bitter attitude toward Pinchot is a matter of conjecture. Although the anti-Pinchotites gave the impression yesterday that they expected drastic action, and that favorable to their side of the controversy, it was estimated that all included in his conference with the President will be the matter of his report and statement of his views concerning the whole controversy.

MR. SHERWELL MUST SERVE

Supreme Court Affirms Sentence of Lower Court.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—That Baxter Sherwell, member of a prominent family of Lexington, who shot to death Dr. Payne in that town a number of years ago, must serve five months in the Guilford county jail for drawing two revolvers on a Southern Railway conductor who refused to violate orders and stop a through train at Lexington for him to get off, is the effect of the action of the State Supreme court this afternoon in affirming the trial, conviction and sentence of the lower court.

The Convention Will Serve State

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 12.—Two local committees are at work preparing for the annual Tuberculosis Convention and the Tuberculosis Exhibition, both of which will be held here the latter part of January. The medical society has appointed the following committee on arrangements: Dr. W. P. Beall, Dr. C. W. Moseley, Dr. J. T. J. Battle, Dr. Edmond Harrison, Dr. John Roy Williams, chairman.

The local tuberculosis association has appointed the following gentlemen to serve in the same connection: E. P. Wharton, chairman; R. C. Hood, Rev. E. K. McLarty, W. E. Harrison and Dr. John Roy Williams. Money will be raised and plans will be made for an enterprise which is expected to benefit Greensboro and at the same time serve the entire State.

IS MOST COMPLIMENTARY.

Mr. W. L. Vaughan, county superintendent of schools, returned this morning from Greenville, where he went last Thursday to attend the Northeastern Association of County Superintendents. While in Greenville he also attended the formal opening of the Eastern Carolina Training School for Teachers and the inauguration of President Wright.

Mr. Vaughan speaks most complimentary of Greenville and its citizens, says their hospitality was most gracious. All the citizens entertained the superintendents and other visitors in their homes and did all within their power for their pleasure. He says Greenville people treated them just royally. Last night Mr. Vaughan heard the lecture of Dr. Stiles, on the hookworm. He says the people may have an idea that this lecture is dull and uninteresting, but this impression is not true, for it will be most interesting and educative to all who hear it.

Everyone will get a far different idea of what the hookworm is and the disease from what they have had if they hear Dr. Stiles when he comes to Washington Monday night. The town people should hear this noted scientist and the country people as well. The lecture, states Mr. Vaughan, is well worth the attendance of the citizens. Dr. Stiles lectures in the school auditorium Monday evening under the auspices of the Woman's Betterment Association. It will be free to all.

At the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia, is now being exhibited miniature subjects in local society of the "City of Brotherly Love." There are many treasured heirlooms among the pictures included in the annual exhibition. Washington people will be glad to learn that among the women well known socially in that city and whose portraits are shown, is one of Mrs. Frank Mueller, nee Mrs. Holly Kugler, before her first marriage. Miss Mary Ritch, sister of Mrs. E. W. Ayers and Mrs. Harry B. Mayo, of this city. Her portrait was painted by Marguerite Archambault, 1710 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, one of the most noted artists of the country. The portrait of Mrs. Mueller was loaned to the Academy by Miss Kathleen Kugler. Portraits are exhibited from all parts of the country.

Mrs. Mueller has long been noted for her beauty and for years reigned as a belle in this city. The News feels confident her portrait ranks with the first in the collection.

Secretary Ballinger announced yesterday that he would have a talk with President Taft as soon as possible about the situation, and until then he would not have anything to say to the public. This, he explained, did not mean necessarily that he would give out a statement. The Secretary preferred not to say even this much, for he did not wish to be mistaken at all. Included in his conference with the President will be the matter of his report and statement of his views concerning the whole controversy.

ROBBERS FOILED ON A RICHLY LADEN CAR

Detectives Ambush

One of the Gang Believed to Have Met Death Under Train Wheels—Going Mile a Minute When Attempt Was Made.

TRAIN CARRIED VALUABLES

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 11.—An attempt to rob New York Central train No. 24, the American Express, between Lyons and this city tonight was frustrated and two men were arrested at the point of guns. A third is believed to have fallen under the train and been killed.

The two men arrested are locked up in this city. They said they were George Williams, aged 18, and Frank Brown, aged 16, and that they resided in Buffalo.

The American Express generally is laden with silks and other valuable goods consigned by shippers in New Orleans and other cities to New England merchants. Tonight there were ten cars.

A car on the train was looted of several hundred dollars' worth of silks four weeks ago, and two weeks ago New York Central Detectives William Hennessy and Frank Bogaard were ordered to ride the train between Buffalo and this city. Both were well armed.

When the train stopped at Lyons, at 9 o'clock this evening, the detectives and Express Messenger Beard saw three men with a large electric flash lamp walking along the tracks examining the cars. When they reached the car in which the detectives were, they mounted the steps and waited for the train to pull out. The locomotive was soon speeding a mile a minute, and the men with a skeleton key turned the lock. A large chain still held the door, and this was soon pulled from the work by a claw hammer.

Two men entered the car and were quickly "covered" by the detectives and ordered to throw up their hands. Too surprised to move, they failed to obey. A second order was effective, and the prisoners were shackled. A search was made for the third man, but no trace of him could be found. The prisoners declined to say anything about themselves, beyond giving their names and saying Buffalo was their home. They declined to give any information about their companion.

TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD A CURE

Salt Baths Also Advised for Pellagra Disease.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—The closing day of the Southern Medical Convention was marked by a further consideration of pellagra. The transfusion of blood was vigorously advocated as a possible cure in the first and second stages of the disease. Salt baths and salt in small internal doses were also advised.

It was declared the general tendency has been to treat the disease a little too much as a mysterious scourge, and that the best thing possible will be to convince the public that it can be cured in its first stages.

Tenth Victim. Durham, N. C., Nov. 11.—Miss Maggie Hutchins, daughter of well-to-do parents, died here last night of pellagra, making the tenth victim of this disease in this city. She was the second white patient to die from the strange malady.

MANY OYSTER BOATS.

At no time this season has there been more boats at the Market dock with oysters. They are here from Dare, Pamlico, Hyde and Beaufort counties. They are of excellent quality for the time of the year.

Mr. E. W. Myers, son of Mrs. Lucy Myers, who was one of the speakers before the drainage meeting at New Bern, was in the city today, to test this afternoon for his home in Greensboro.

PREDICTS WILL COME FROM ALL SECTIONS

Farmers to This State

Secretary Wilson, of U. S. Department of Agriculture, Says People Will Come to this State from All Sections to Locate.

LAND CHEAPER IN STATE

Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, is not satisfied with the advancement of the South agricultural as compared with its gains in manufacture. He has just returned from the annual meeting of the National Farmers' Congress at Raleigh, N. C., and while in that State he made an investigation of its agricultural development. His inquiry has not satisfied him according to a statement made today.

While the manufacturers of that section have wrested control of the cotton and other mills from outsiders, the farmers of North Carolina have not been keeping up to the same standard of enterprise. During his visit to North Carolina, the secretary visited Raleigh, Durham and Greensboro, making excursions from those points into the adjacent country. Mr. Wilson declared that within the near future there is certain to be an influx of Northern and Western farmers to North Carolina and other Southern agricultural States, for the North and Western lands can be sold at a price per acre sufficient to buy two acres in the South.

IS NOT A SAFE CREAMERY PLAN

The State Department of Agriculture Ready to Give Free Advice.

With approval of Major W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. J. A. Conovan, dairyman, has issued the following:

There has lately appeared in this State a firm of creamery promoters who are trying to secure stock for cooperative creameries, the plan being to get 50 or 60 men to subscribe $100 each for the purpose of building and equipping a creamery. The writer's experience teaches that there is no place in the State where it is safe to put two or three thousand dollars into such a plant, much less five or six thousand. The cows must come before the creamery, not the creamery before the cows. It is not safe to establish a creamery unless there is the promise of the products from at least 400 cows and these cows must be close enough to the creamery, from two to six miles, so that the expense of getting the cream or milk to the plant is not too great. At no place in the State is there a sufficient number of cows to warrant the building of a five or six thousand dollar creamery. A number of such creameries were built in Georgia last year, none of which could be called a success and most have not even run.

The writer is anxious to see creameries established in North Carolina, and is doing all he can to advance the dairy industry but an unsuccessful creamery would kill every spark of dairy interest in the community of which it was a part. Remember that the United States and the State Departments of Agriculture stand ready to give assistance and advice along all dairy lines, creameries included. The United States Department of Agriculture is prepared to furnish creamery plans and estimates of building. A creamery for handling hand separator cream, without an ice plant, will cost about 3,000 with ice plant, about 4,000. The writer will be glad to assist any community in organizing a creamery, provided there is a sufficient number of cows to warrant the undertaking. Remember that all plans, advice and personal assistance are absolutely free coming through your State and National Departments of Agriculture.

A WOMAN IN HER NIGHT ROBE SCARES YEGGS

Thought it Was Ghost

Reading the Instructions for Safe Blowers the Robbers Follow Them to the Letter and Safe Was Saved.

OBTAINED NO VALUABLES

Winstead, Conn., Nov. 11.—"Turn the knob. Don't blow the safe," appears on a card hanging on the safe in the postoffice in New Hartford. Aged Jacob Widner, a veteran of the civil war, who had one safe wrecked by crackmen during his term as postmaster, had the sign placed there.

At 2 a. m. today yeggmen broke into the postoffice, read the instructions for safe blowers, and carried them out. The safe is therefore intact, but the interior of it is a wreck. The robbers having smashed every lock-box and drawer within. They obtained nothing of value, because the postmaster takes the day's receipts to his home at night.

At the clothing store of Justice William McAlpine the burglars removed heavy iron gratings in the front and then smashed a large plate glass window. Two of the burglars worked inside while the third remained outside.

Mrs. George E. Marble, an aged widow who lives across the street, was awakened by the crash of falling glass, and after collecting all her money and other valuables she started across a roof in her night robe to the home of John Harris, head of the Volunteer Fire Brigade. The burglar on guard saw the ghostlike figure on the roof and he fired a shot from his revolver as a danger signal to his pals.

Thinking they had been surrounded by a posse of villagers, they dashed from the store, discharging their revolvers, but none of the shots did any damage. The robbers escaped, two clad in new overcoats and suits. They first entered the hardware store of Henry Smith and stole tools with which they broke into the other places.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE WHIST.

Mrs. W. C. Rodman gave a bridge party at her elegant home on East Main street yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Beverley Moss. There were four tables of players, who enjoyed a most delightful game from 3 o'clock till 6, when Mrs. Rodman served delicious chicken salad, biscuits, pickled oysters, relishes and coffee. The afternoon was one long to be remembered for pleasure, and a deal of skill was shown in some of the games. Those playing were: Mesdames Beverley Moss, W. D. Grimes, A. M. Dunay, J. B. Moore, A. C. Hathaway, H. W. Carter, Thos. Clark, Carl Richardson and W. C. Rodman; Misses Morrison, Lida Rodman, Julia Hoyt, Sallie Myers, Mary Hoyt, Belle Conolly and Janie Myers.

Governor Pardons D. W. Simmons

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot published the following item yesterday: Richmond, Va., Nov. 11.—Gov. Swanson today issued a pardon to D. W. Simmons, who is serving a term of one year in the Virginia penitentiary for selling cocaine in Norfolk. Simmons was convicted in May. He has served half of his term. The man is said to have had extenuating circumstances connected with his crime. His record has been good. The judge of the trial court and the attorney for the State both endorsed the application for the pardon of Simmons. The severity of the sentence was due to some extent to an effort to stop a dangerous commerce and had baffled the Norfolk police for some time.

ILLINOIS MOB KILLS A NEGRO AND WHITE MAN

Women Pull the Rope

Sheriff Fleeing With Murderer of Girl Overtaken in Woods, Led Back to Town and Kept Prisoner Until Culprit is Hanged.

JAIL STORMED FOR OTHER

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 12.—Will James, the negro suspected of being the murderer of Miss Annie Pelley, was lynched here tonight. He was strung up to the public arch. The rope broke. Then at least 500 shots were poured into his body. He made a partial confession and implicated another negro, Arthur Alexander, for whom the mob is searching. The lynching took place in the most prominent square of the city in the presence of at least 10,000 persons. Women present were the first to pull the rope. When it broke the frenzy of the mob was uncontrollable, and they fired volley after volley into James' body, shooting him to pieces. The mob then dragged the body on the streets for more than a mile to the alley where the murder was committed, and burned it.

Another Victim of Mob. After this the mob stormed the jail, while the sheriff, who had been made a prisoner, was telephoning frantically to Gov. Deneen to send troops.

A white man accused of wife-murder was taken out of the jail and put to death. James was found with Sheriff Davis between Karnak, Ill., and Belknap, by a Cairo crowd, who went up this afternoon. The crowd overpowered the sheriff and his deputy and decided to bring their prisoner back to this city.

Sheriff Davis had been fleeing the mob for 24 hours with the prisoner. Driven from town to town the sheriff had taken to the woods with James. The pursuers, in various groups had scoured the entire country from Karnak to Vienna, Ill., a distance of about 16 miles. When overtaken, the negro was handcuffed between the sheriff and his deputy, on the bank of a creek. All three were weak from hunger, exposure, and the fatigue of long travel.

Mob Stole a Train.

When a report reached here that the sheriff's party had come out of the woods near Karnak, 23 miles north of Cairo, 500 men seized a freight train, attached a switch engine to it and started for Karnak. Despite the fact that the sheriff had been chased from ordinary avenues of transportation and forced to wander across country by unrequented bypaths, no intention of asking aid of Gov. Deneen in protecting the prisoner was shown by the local authorities before the lynching.

Countryside Refused Aid.

Sheriff Davis tonight said that after taking James from Cairo last night, he had to leave the train at Dongola to elude a mob that was waiting for him at a town ahead. He made an effort to get a horse and wagon at Dongola, but found it impossible, as the news had been spread over the country, and every one knowing the crime that the negro had committed, refused to give him assistance. They even refused food in many cases. At every point where he tried to board a train, he was blocked by a crowd.

After a long, exhausting, foodless walk, the sheriff and his deputy lay down with the prisoner to rest. At dusk scouts of the searchers found them and news was sent along the line of the scattered mob to board a Big Four train at Belknap. This order was obeyed and many of the pursuers were on the train when it reached Cairo with the prisoners.

While in custody of the mob coming to Cairo the negro would not talk about the crime, but when he stood under the arch he confessed that he slew Miss Pelley, implicating Alexander.

Miss Pelley was an orphan, 22 years old, who was employed as a salesgirl. On Monday evening she left the store at 6 o'clock and walked with her chum, Ella Dolan, as far as Miss Dolan's home, continuing alone on the way to her own dwelling. Tuesday morning her body was found in an alley. Her clothing was torn from her body. She had been strangled.

There will be baptism at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening immediately after the sermon.

MUCH GOOD FOR SECTION

Dr. J. F. Tayloe Says the Drainage Meeting Was a Great One.

Mr. Joseph F. Tayloe, one of the delegates to the drainage convention just held in the town of New Bern, speaks most enthusiastically of his trip. In talking to a News man this morning he said the drainage meeting was well attended. Many representative farmers from Beaufort county were present. There is no question but what it will bring about great good to this eastern section. All the speakers delivered addresses that were educative and instructive. The delegates were entertained at the Elks hall, and given a delightful sail down Neuse river on the United States revenue cutter Pamlico. The citizens of New Bern did all within their power for the pleasure and comfort of the delegates. The next meeting goes to Wilmington. Mr. Joseph A. Brown, of Chadbourn, was elected president. I have never attended a meeting anywhere that carried with it more enthusiasm.

THE BIGGEST ZOO.

The best zoo in the world, alas! is not that of London. If we take as our criterion the number of inmates, London has only 2,972 animals, while Berlin has 3,149 and New York 4,934. We hasten to say that the result is not entirely due to protection. The climate of Berlin, though foreigners denounce it, is better for the purposes of a zoo than London's. And New York has the home market to draw upon. The animals of the American continent are countless. You can scarcely name a genus that is not represented, while there are a good many American animals that have no near relatives elsewhere. The very first marsupial discovered by Europe was the American possum, and neither Europe, Asia nor Africa can produce an indigenous member of that order.

YACHT THETIS HAS ARRIVED.

The beautiful little yacht Thetis, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fuller, has arrived in port for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller have as their guests on board Mr. and Mrs. Thayer, of Pawtucket, Long Island, and after a month's stay in the city will continue their travels to other points in the South.

SHOULD BE APPRECIATED.

Mrs. T. B. Cooke held the winning coupon in the Gem prize contest last night for the lovely Yocum sugar bowl and creamer. On next Thursday night the management of this popular playhouse will give away another handsome present—a cut glass bowl, purchased of Smith & Co., and on exhibition in their show window.

It is a beauty. Only an adult can compete for this prize. Coupons will be given starting tonight. Next Wednesday night the Gem will donate a box of Huyler's chocolate to the boy or girl holding the lucky number. The issuing of tickets for this prize also begins with this evening's performance. The Gem no doubt will be a merca the coming week. The management is desirous of treating both children and adult alike in drawing prizes and the efforts of the management will be appreciated by the patrons.

NEXT SUNDAY HIS LAST.

On tomorrow Rev. M. T. Plyler pastor of the Methodist Church, will fill his pulpit for the last time this year prior to his going to Raleigh to attend the annual conference. On the Sunday following the Rev. A. McCullen, the presiding elder, will preach morning and evening, it being the fourth and last quarterly meeting for this station. Conference will convene in Edenton street M. E. Church, Raleigh, on Wednesday, November 24, and will be presided over by Bishop A. W. Wilson, D. D., L. L. D., of Baltimore, Md.

This is Rev. Mr. Plyler's first year in Washington and it is the earnest desire of his congregation that he be returned for another year.

As the pastor will not be here Thanksgiving day the collection tomorrow will be for the Methodist Orphanage at Raleigh, and it is to be hoped a liberal contribution will be made for this cause.
