Preventive of Scalding.

A simple device is illustrated here with, which may be used to tilt a ket tie in which vegetables or other food is being cooked, so that it may be drained without scalding the hands. The device consists of a pair of wire arms, which may be fitted to grip the edges of the kettle. These arms are provided with a pair of handles, which are crossed under the ball of the kettle. A third handle may be selzed in one hand, while the other two handles hand, while the other two handles are grasped in the other hand. The kettle will thus be firmly gripped, and it may be tilted to any desired degree with perfect safety.

Vipers In France.

Vipers in France.

Strangers are sometimes surprised by the fear of vipers which exists in some parts of France. These little venomous snakes are dangerous both to msn and beast. Recently a movement has been made to protect the vipers, on the ground that they render valuable services in destroying rodents, mollusks, and other small noxious animals, but a writer in the Journal of Practical Agriculture strenuously opposes this, declaring that the services performed by the vipers are of small account in comparison with the accidents, frequently mortal, which they cause. He instances a little neighborhood in the Department of Meurthe-et-Moselle, where the vipers became a veritable plague, and where, inspired by the offer of a reward, two hunters destroyed 12,008.

An Electric Air-Trap.

The instrument used by Mons. Telsserenc de Bort for collecting specimens of air at high altitudes with the aid of sounding balloon consists of a very perfect vacuum-tube with a finely drawn-out end. Either the rise of the mercury in a barometer corresponding with a previously determined altitude, or the clockwork of the meteorograph forms an electric contact, causing a little hammer to fall and break the end of the tube. Air then rushes in, whereupon another then rushes in, whereupon another electric contact, brought about by the same means, allows the current of a small accumulator to heat the plati-num wire wound round the capillary-tube to a red heat. This fuees the glass and again closes the end of the vacuum-tube, thus entrapping the str.

Gave No Warning.

On entering the stable suddenly the head of the house found the hostler and his own young son deeply engaged with the broken tail of a kita.

"How is it, Williams," he began, severely, "that I naver find you at work when I come out here?"

"I know," volunteered his son; "it's on account of those rubber heels you're wearing now."
