Experts at National Meeting Will Argue Whether Bovine Tuberculosis Is Transmitted to Man.

Important evidence in the world-wide controversy with regard to the relation of bovine to human tuberculosis will be given next week at the sixth annual meeting of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis...

CHINESE PRINCE HERE.

Accompanied by Ten Officers of the Chinese Court—Dine at White House.

Washington, April 28.—Prince Tsun Tao, of China, accompanied by 10 officers of the Chinese court, arrived in the capital this morning from Chicago.

President Taft is to receive the prince in special audience this afternoon and an exhibition drill has been arranged in the visitors' honor at Fort Myer, Va., this afternoon.

DEBATE

The Joint Debate Comes Off Tonight at School Auditorium at 9 O'Clock.

The joint debate between the High Schools of Greenville and Washington is to take place in the Public School Auditorium this evening.

The following query will be discussed: "Resolved, that the United States should subsidize her merchant marine in accordance with the terms of the Humphrey bill."

The judges for the debate are Rev. M. T. Plyler, of this city, Prof. R. D. Kittrell, of Tarboro, and Prof. H. B. Austin, of Greenville.

Quite a party is expected to arrive here this evening on a gasboat from Greenville to encourage the debaters from that town.

PARASOL SALE STILL GOING ON

They must be all we claim—and more, if you could be governed by the judgment of the many who have already visited this sale—for they have admired and bought. But we have a plenty more for a day or two.

FRENCHMAN WINS

All England Aviation Mad Just Now.

$50,000 PRIZE WON.

Paulhan Spent Three Hours and 50 Minutes in Air, Making an Average Speed of About 45 Miles—Frenchman Stole a March on the Englishman.

London, April 28.—All England is aviation mad over the result of the record-breaking aerial derby that ended this morning when Louis Paulhan, the dare-devil Frenchman, having completed the 186-mile trip from London with but one stop, won the $50,000 prize offered by Lord Northcliffe.

The courageous attempt of Graham White, the English entrant, to overtake the Frenchman after the latter had made a better start, and his continuing the flight after being forced to descend in the dark at Roade, near Northampton, have won the hearts of his countrymen quite as fully as the more successful deeds of his foreign competitor.

England regrets the defeat of its champion but rejoices in the victory of Paulhan.

After he had been compelled, by motor trouble, to come down at 4 a. m., at Polesworth, White declared that, if possible, he would resume the flight and cover the 60 miles separating him from Manchester, where Paulhan arrived at 5.30 this morning.

The Frenchman, who made the flight at an average speed of about forty-five miles an hour—covering the 186 miles in three hours and 56 minutes—now bids fair to be acclaimed as the champion aviator of the world.

He not only holds his new record but that for the greatest altitude, having soared nearly 5,000 feet recently at Los Angeles, Cal., aviation meet, where he was the star. Paulhan made the long distance record recently which stood till he himself broke it today—130 miles. The best flight before that was 111 miles, made by Henri Farman.

The White-Paulhan race proved one of the best conducted sporting events England has ever seen so far as the spirit of the contest went. The immediate outcome of the race will probably be the organization of other contests on a similar basis.

A notable feature of the race was the fact that the Frenchman stole a march on the Englishman in the same manner that Louis Bleriot, the aviator from France who crossed the English channel, stole a march on the other Englishman, Hubert Latham.

THREE REELS TONIGHT AT THE GEM.

Everybody attending the Gem last night came away feeling that they had indeed been well repaid for the pleasant hour spent there. The pictures were all fine.

"Loving hearts" created much laughter; in fact, the crowd was still laughing when they left the Gem. Some excellent pictures are promised for tonight, among them two Biographs—"The Bandit's Waterloo," a beautiful Spanish picture.

The name immediately brings up visions so romantic that one anticipates much that is interesting, and none will be disappointed. "The Test of Friendship" is a Biograph picture of strong dramatic qualities. In this subject a most powerful moral is presented, and is indeed a convincing lesson. No one can well miss this picture.

"Reclaim" is another strong melodrama depicting the lives of those that have become hardened by crime, but are reclaimed through kindness. The prize drawing for the beautiful cut glass sugar and cream set takes place at 8.30 sharp. Good music during the entire evening.

CONDITION PRECARIOUS.

The report from the bedside of Mrs. Francis, who met with the misfortune to fall and dislocate her thigh some weeks ago and is now being treated at the Fowle Memorial Hospital, is in a very precarious condition. There is no hope for her recovery. Mrs. Francis is a sister of Mr. William P. Randolph, and has many friends in the city.

"THE HOUSE OF NO REPEATERS."

The Gaiety Theater tonight offers its patrons a good program. "The Confederate Spy" is a Kalem, and one of their best makes. "The Captive" is a hand-colored Pathé picture, and one that is interesting and educational. There will be an illustrated song by the Southern tenor. Follow the merry crowd and be on hand for the drawing for this prize night.

books of the bank, but were paid by the bank.

The government practically closed its side of the case this afternoon and the lawyers for the defense stated that they would decide by morning whether they would introduce any witnesses. The whole case at present is very much mixed, and the evidence is so twisted that only a practical banker could make much out of it.

FINISH BUSINESS

Little Rock is Chosen as Next Meeting Place.

MOBILE TENDERED THANKS

Alfurling Picture Painted by Oklahoma City's Mayor Falls to Land Next Reunion—General Gordon, Succeeds General Evans as Commander-in-Chief.

Mobile, Ala., April 28.—With Little Rock, Ark., chosen as the reunion city for 1911, and New Orleans endorsed for the honor in 1912, and with an election of officers, the United Confederate Veterans' Association closed its business session tonight. All that remains now is the big parade tomorrow. The balance of the week will be devoted to various entertainments.

The selection of Little Rock had been freely predicted, and though the Arkansas city lacked a majority on the first ballot, she was so far in the lead that a vote to make the selection unanimous carried with it a roar. The vote stood: Little Rock, 1,478; Chattanooga, 640; Oklahoma City, 17; Houston none.

When Texas was reached the veterans saw how things were going and threw their strength to Arkansas.

The endorsement of New Orleans as the meeting place for 1912 was contained in a resolution favorably reported and adopted. It recites that New Orleans proposes to hold a Panama canal exposition in 1915, and the Crescent City had asked the veterans to endorse that exposition and attend it in April, 1915.

The program for election of officers was carried out to the letter. Gen. George W. Gordon, commander of the department of Tennessee, succeeded Gen. Clement A. Evans, of Atlanta, who declined reelection. Gen. Evans was elected past commander-in-chief, and Gen. W. L. Cabell, the commander of the trans-Mississippi division, was also elected past commander-in-chief.

The new commander, General Gordon, has the distinction of being one of the four living Confederates who were actually major-generals before the war ended. He also has a record of being captured by the Federals three times.

General Gordon will be succeeded in command of the department of Tennessee by Gen. Bennett Young, of Louisville, Ky.

General Gordon will not announce his staff for several weeks, but it is understood that Gen. William E. Mickle will remain adjutant-general and chief of staff to General Gordon. Adjutant-General Mickle's annual report, read to the veterans at the session this morning, showed 20 new camps had been chartered during the year and 10 old camps were reinstated.

Clarence J. Owen, commander-in-chief of the Sons of Veterans, was presented and received an ovation. Owen spoke spiritedly of state rights and declared if the United States is to exist as a nation it must rise and adopt the means for which the South fought.

Gen. Bennett Young, of Louisville, read the history report. He deprecated the tendency of writers to misrepresent the South. He declared that of all the Southern soldiers in Northern prisons, twelve of every hundred died, while of Northern soldiers in Southern prisons, only nine of every hundred died. "And the greatest monument to the Southern soldiers," he said, "is the death list of the North."

The report was received with ringing cheers, and frequent ovations interrupted the speaker. The convention adopted the report and on motion of an old veteran, a copy will be sent to Senator Heyburn. This motion was carried with a cheer.

Promptly at noon, in accordance with an old custom, the convention suspended business and devoted itself to the exercises of the memorial hour. This is practically a religious exercise in memory of those who died during the year. The services were conducted by Rev. R. Linn Cave, the chaplain-general of the veterans, and the famous Jesuit orator-priest, Rev. Father De La Morinier.

COLONEL OLDS HERE.

Col. Fred Olds, of Raleigh, secretary of the chamber of commerce and also the correspondent for quite a number of newspapers from the capital city, spent the night in Washington. He left this morning for Boston, where he goes to Europe as one of the delegates to the international good roads congress to be held in Brussels. He expects to be absent several months. His many friends in Washington wish him a pleasant journey.

ERECTION OF AWNINGS.

The latest fad among the respective merchants of the city now is the erection of awnings in front of their places of business.

CROWDS CHEER

Great Honor is Bestowed on Roosevelt.

LEAVES FOR BRUSSELS.

Military Honors Accorded the Former President—Great Crush at the Station and Railroad Men Have Trouble in Getting the Train to Move—Cheering the Order.

Paris, April 29.—With military honors, Paris bade adieu to Theodore Roosevelt today. So great was the crush at the Gare d'Orléans, from which the former president left for Brussels, that for five minutes the railroad officials vainly tried to get the train under way. Officials thronged the platforms, and about the station and on the streets for blocks around the citizens of Paris were jammed into close-packed ranks, all cheering and waving the stars and stripes and the tri-color of the French republic. It was a farewell such as is usually accorded to royalty.

Half a squadron of the Garde Republicains formed the military escort, doing the material honors. Plumed, glittering and brilliant, they formed a magnificent spectacle as they hedged in the way through which the ex-president and his party passed.

As Mr. Roosevelt arrived at the station, accompanied by his family, Ambassador Bacon, Ambassador Jusserand and representatives of the army, the navy, the government and President Fallières, the crowd burst into cheers.

A pretty incident marked the moment. Dodging under the head of a guard's horse, a young girl ran to ward Mr. Roosevelt, tossed him a single rose, and cried "Au revoir!" Then as he bowed and laughed, she dodged back again.

To the crowd in general the former president raised his hat and bowed frequently. Kermit Roosevelt was in high spirits. Both he and Mr. Roosevelt expressed themselves delighted with the experience yesterday when they soared over the Vincennes field in a Wright aeroplane.

"It was great sport," said Kermit. "I'd like to do it again." The Parisian police today breathed a sigh of relief at having their responsibility for Mr. Roosevelt ended. From the moment he arrived in the republic he was constantly guarded by the crack men of the French secret service and the Parisian police, under the direct supervision of Prefect Lepine.

Brussels, April 29.—Roosevelt is here. Not since the coronation of King Albert has this city seen such crowds as those which turned out to welcome the distinguished American. Representatives of the king, as well as of the army and navy, met him at the station.

IS CONVICTED

D. W. Simmons, Formerly of This City, Sent to Guilford Roads for Gambling—Has Appealed.

D. W. Simmons, formerly of this city, with three others, has been sentenced to the roads of Guilford county or to pay such a fine of $500 for gambling in Greensboro. All the defendants gave notice of appeal to the Superior Court.

The evidence against the defendants showed that one McIlhenny was running a sumptuously fitted-up establishment for gambling in the second story of a building occupied by the Greensboro Baggage and Transfer Company, having private approaches to the Clegg hotel. Four doors had to be opened before the card room of the players was reached. The police have been trying for several months to locate the gang, but it was not until McIlhenny and Simmons had a dispute in which each accused the other of not totting fair in the division of spoils that their place of abode was ascertained. A young and wealthy Japanese was the loser by these people to the amount of a thousand dollars in a period of three weeks. Under protest the Japanese told all about the occurrence, how he lost his money, etc.

Simmons has not been out of the penitentiary in Richmond for peddling cocaine in Norfolk long.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

The Daily News will publish in tomorrow's paper a full program of the children's day exercises to take place in the First Methodist Church Sunday evening. The occasion promises to be one of the most attractive and interesting in the history of this flourishing school.

RETURNED HOME.

Miss Zadie Watson has returned to her home from the Fowle Memorial Hospital, where she underwent an operation. This will be welcome news to her many friends in the city.

HYDE IN TOILS

Was Not Allowed His Freedom on Bond.

PROSTRATED BY GRIEF

Evidence is So Strong Against the Kansas City Physician That He is Not Allowed Out on Bond—A Big Crowd at Court Yesterday to Witness Trial.

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—Prostrated by grief and anguish following her husband's detention because of damning evidence against him, Mrs. Florence B. Hyde, wife of Dr. B. Clark Hyde, who is accused of murdering Col. Thomas Swope, was under the care of physicians and friends while her husband's trial was on yesterday.

Mrs. Hyde spent a lonely night in her beautiful home. She walked from one room to another, heartbroken at the new misfortunes which have befallen her since her marriage to Dr. Hyde. Her marriage to Dr. Hyde was the cause of her being shunned by the proud Swope family. She battled bravely against the affronts of her proud mother, Mrs. Logan O. Swope, and cared little for the snubs of her sisters, but when Judge Latschaw at the close of court last night declared the evidence against Dr. Hyde demanded that he be deprived of his liberty on bond, Mrs. Hyde suddenly collapsed and declared she could not stand any more.

"Oh, God!" she cried piteously, as she threw her arms about her husband's neck when a marshal stepped up to her husband to take him to jail. "And just when I need you most, dearie!"

The scene was affecting. It brought tears to the eyes of many. Proud Mrs. Swope swept majestically from the court room to her waiting automobile and was taken to her home.

When the court opened today and the doors were thrown open there was a rush of would-be spectators that carried the guards off their feet. The fact that Dr. Hyde had been placed under restraint acted as the magnet. Heretofore the spectators have seen the physician enter the court room with his wife. Today, pale, sad and nervous looking, he entered the court room through the prisoners' entrance and walked between two jail guards. He glanced at the chairs at the side of the prisoner's table, but his wife was not there.

"What has happened?" he asked nervously. "Oh, I guess she's a little late," replied the guards.

ICELESS FOUNTAIN.

Drs. W. A. and J. G. Blount are installing an iceless fountain in their drug store. This fountain is one of the very latest creations, and will be one of the handsomest in this section of North Carolina.

FINE SERVICE

The Meeting Tonight Will Conclude Mr. McFarland's Visit—All Invited.

There was another large congregation last night at the First Baptist Church. Rev. Mr. McFarland preached a fine sermon on the text, "Awake Thou That Sleepest, and Rise From the Dead, and Christ Shall Give Thee Light" (Eph. 5:14). The minister likened the state of the unsaved as that similar to sleep, from which they do not seem to care to rouse. It is also like the state of death in which the souls of men lie in helpless thralldom to the power of sin. Again, it is like a state of darkness, when sinners without the light of Christ are groping their way, not knowing whether they are going.

He urged men to arouse themselves from this awful condition, and turn to God, while they have the time and opportunity. The sermon made a deep impression on the hearers, and a feeling of solemnity pervaded the entire congregation.

At the invitation to embrace the Christian religion, there were two presented themselves, signifying their intention of identifying themselves with God's people.

The service this afternoon and tonight will conclude Mr. McFarland's ministry here. During the time he has been with us, he has made many friends, who regret that he must leave so early, and are hoping he may return at an early date.

Friends are urged to get to the church not later than 7.45 o'clock, in order that the sermon may be begun by 8 o'clock.

BREAKS THIGH.

James, the 20-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Campbell, met with the misfortune yesterday afternoon to fall and break his thigh. The little fellow is getting on very well today.
