FIRE ALARM SYSTEM.

Does Washington need a fire alarm Does Washington need a fire alarm system? Everyone says yes as soon as the fire bell rings and they are unable to locate the blaze. Next'day it is all forgotten—not to be remembered again until the next alarm is sounded. The Board of Aldermen could not invest the same amount of money in anything which would be worth half so much to the city as would a complete and un-to-date fire would a complete and un-to-date fire would a complete and up-to-date fire alarm system.

WINNING OF BRIDGET MALONEY.

responded Mrs. Williams, pelasantly.

"It's a new broom that sweeps clean,' but it won't last," muttered Bridget, in her own domain

But when day after day passed and she never failed to receive the same perfect politeness from her employer her wonder increased.

Bridget was used to commands, but not to requests. She was accussioned to curt, supercilious, "Thank will do," but-not to a kindly, "Thank you, Bridget," and she insensibly softened at the change.

The lime phosphates in the bone yield all the necessary lime, sails for the shell and the necessary phosphates for the interior of the egg. When it is considered that all the shove substances are found in gress bone in a specially digustible constitue, far more so than any food mapplied by dry meat, sorn or wheat, is it surprising that such glowing reports are so often heard about this new food for pasitry?

With modern machinery obtainable on easy terms, poultry men should feed more liberally of gress cut bone, especially to palleta and cockerels during the cold wister months when other lime food is hard to find.

Variety Essential for Foultry.

There is no difficulty in providing a variety for a small fieck, as the table scraps will assist, but for fifty er a hundred fowls, resort to foods that are easily obtained in required. Cut clover, mest, milk, linseed oif cake and cabbage will all serve to vary the diet. It is when fowls are fed on grain during the whole time that they refuse to lay. But even the grain may be varied if corn is withheld and oats, wheat and buck, wheat are used in rotation. Fill a trough full of corn and place it where the fowls can eat all they desire. They will soon begin to refuse it, as they require isomething which the corn does not contain, and they will not produce many seggintil they are gratified. Wariety of until they are gratified.
