A LITTLE WISDOM HERE AND THERE.

You can turn a crank down but he always turns up.

While mere talent pauses outside the threshold, genius enters in and makes a successful bluff.

Half the world doesn't know what excuse the other half has for living.

The man who draws off his indignation should not overlook to pin "no protest" to his draft.

The world expects a man to make a fool of himself over a woman, but it never forgives a woman who makes a fool of herself over a man.

To know thyself is wisdom; to know how to impart that knowledge to others—that's cleverness.

You never really know a woman until after you have married her, and then the knowledge isn't of much use to you.

True consistency is a jewel; and the most charming women display the least jewelry.

Love in a cottage is romantic, but no mere woman objects to rose-colored silk curtains at the windows.

You can't tell a man's character by his clothes, but you can often judge a woman's lack of it by hers.

There is but one thing worse than ignorance, and that is incorrect knowledge.

A TREE'S SEARCH FOR WATER.

In uprooting a hemlock tree at Woodlawn Park in Seattle, Wash., the length of the surface roots was commented on, and to ascertain how far the largest one ran a workman was bid to trace it up with his spade.

After it had been followed for about 700 feet the root dwindled to about the size of a clothesline, at 1,000 feet it was amere cord. When the damp earth bordering on the lake was reached, at about 1,400 feet from the tree, the ends of the root grew into mere hairs and formed a network in all directions.

As this particular hemlock was living on a knoll it is thought the root reached out toward the lake. In quest of water. The green root has been taken by the botanical class of the State University, and will be preserved in an especially built herbarium.

RED INK.

Now that the Primaries are over the News and Observer will no doubt use a less quantity of red ink to decorate its columns.

HOW WILL THEY VOTE?

Will those who went down in defeat in Wake county have the moral courage to support the nominees of the people?

Rev. Mr. Searight Makes Strong and Forceful Talk on Signs of the Times—Mr. Bemus Sings Two Solos.

There was quite a treat in store yesterday for all those who attended the regular Sunday afternoon meeting of the Young Men's Christian League, both in music and the address.

Rev. H. B. Searight, of the Presbyterian Church, was the speaker, and he handled his subject well. Mr. Searight is one of Washington's best speakers, and he was listened to with much attention yesterday. His subject was "Some Signs of the Times."

Mr. Geo. H. Bemus, of New York, rendered two beautiful vocal solos, "Out of the Deep," and "Rock of Ages." Mr. Bemus is a singer of fame and all those who heard him consider themselves very fortunate, for no better singing has ever been heard in this city.

Quite a number of ladies were present at the meeting yesterday.

Mr. Tom Bland spent a few hours in Greenville yesterday, returning on the Norfolk Southern last night.

IN MEMORIAM.

The Supreme Arbitrator has summoned to the Colonial Club, another one of Beaufort county's most influential and popular citizens, in the person of Thomas Riley Boyd, of Edward, N. C., who fell on sleep at the hospital in Winston, N. C., June 19, 1910, at 7 o'clock.

The heavy hand of disease sought him for a victim about four months ago. A change of climate and environment were advised by his physician—but having a love for his native beach and being anxious to spend his declining days with those near and dear he decided to remain at home.

His home was his castle and around the family fire-side he loved to dwell. Disease, however evident to all, was fast sapping his manhood and a few weeks ago at the solicitation of friends he went to Sevier Springs, but, growing worse, was taken to the hospital at Winston and there answered the "roll call" of heaven.

His life, one that had been so useful in his neighborhood and county, flickered away with the stillness of a zephyr. He was ready. Truly it could be said of him "He did what he could" and today as his loved ones weep around his new made grave and moisten the sacred dust with their tears they all have the consolation in knowing that his witness are in heaven and his record is on high.

The subject of this tribute of love was the son of the late W. P. and Elizabeth Boyd. He first gained on the beauty of nature March 8, 1848. From boyhood to manhood he yearned for the bluer things of life and was ever ready to assist and lend a helping hand to those less fortunate than he. No one ever left his presence empty-handed. He gave to earth's needy with a glad hand and a willing heart.

Now that his bones sleep in the ground he loved so well to tread many a one in the town of Edward mourn his going for they realize a friend indeed has passed over the river. Earth has lost but what a gain for heaven. The vacant chair now sits quietly in the corner and the mourners go around the streets. In youth's bright morning he was true; when he faded the noonday, that same devotion to duty was his slogan and when the afternoon and evening came he could hear the prudent "Well done"—come up higher. What a rich heritage for his children to cherish and what a life for them to emulate and follow.

Mr. Boyd was married in the year 1872 to Miss Elizabeth Robbins. After a few years of happy wedded life she was taken. Three children blessed this union. In 1884 he was married the second time, to Miss Buelah Tuten. As the result of this nuptial eleven children came to sweeten and enrich their portal; nine of whom still live. Among the children surviving are Mr. W. J. Boyd, Miss Neva Boyd and Mrs. L. H. Redditt. As a husband and father he was faithful and true; as a father he was loving and devoted. In the home the cardinal virtues of Mr. Boyd shone forth as nowhere else. The little things of life occupied his attention as much as did the larger. He was known for his integrity of character and his circumspectness of walk. He was a consistent member of the Episcopal Church. The work of his Lord was his work and his life was a living epistle known and read of all men.

In the death of Mr. Boyd the Charitable Brotherhood loses one of its most active and loyal members. He was always in the forefront in this organization doing what he could for those in distress and want. In politics he was a Democrat of Democrats. He believed in its tenets and principles and never wavered from that belief. He abhorred the traitor and despised the lukewarm. Mr. Boyd enjoyed a long business career. For more than 30 years he was engaged in the mercantile pursuit at Edward. No citizen ever did more to carry forward his town. He was ever on the picket line for that which was ennobling and elevating. In the home life, in the business world, in the church, in politics, indeed, wherever placed, Thomas Riley Boyd proved to be a man. He had a duty to perform and he performed it in a way to command admiration and praise from his fellowmen. All that was mortal of this good man was placed in God's chamber at Edward Tuesday afternoon last at 3 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Crosby and also the Charitable Brotherhood. The funeral was attended by a large concourse of people from the surrounding country. He now sleeps beneath the sod and o'er his new made grave the birds warble their sweetest lullabies and the pines sigh their softest requiem. Some sweet day he will green us again with the salutation "Good morning." There was no moaning of the bar when this faithful husband and loving father put out to sea. To the grief stricken widow and the heartbroken children we

FIRST COTTON BLOOM.

Mr. Fred Wolfenden this morning presented the News office with the first cotton bloom of the season. This is rather early for blooms and considering the recent heavy rainfall it is remarkable that the cotton has developed to this extent.

Mr. Wolfenden states that there was a great many more on that his crop is looking well. He is one of Beaufort county's citizens who makes farming profitable.

THE APPROACHING CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Editor: Please allow space to say we think these heavy rains will hatch out many ticks, and in July and August there will be politics in Beaufort county. I can see them mentioned in the papers now. I hear them spoken of. I also hear some express their opinions about who ought to fill the office of Treasurer, Register and Sheriff. I am a tax payer. I know something about the condition of the county. Then why not let me express my opinion? Also when I turn on the light other good men may think as I do. Now as to Messrs. Rumley and Taylor I have heard many express themselves. I have not heard any one say ought against either of them, only they have been there long enough. But I have not found a man who cries long enough that is willing to buy a horse, work him four or six years then say he is gilt edge, no fault in him, but I have worked him long enough, I will turn him out to graze, will go to Mr. E. L. Spelman and buy another. (Shakespeare says, "O, consistency, thou art a jewel.") Reader, think of the faults, act wisely. Now the same faults are applied to the Sheriff. Will you notice the population of this county is increasing each year? The valuation is increasing each year. The amount of taxes must increase of course as the population and valuation does. Then why not our insolvent list increase? Because Geo. E. Ricks is the right man in the right place. Gentlemen, read what I am going to say. Mr. Ricks did not ask me to write this. He does not know I am writing. Go to the records, look for the truthfulness of this statement. Our taxes are now $66,000 in round numbers. We have lost $1,600 of the taxes of 1909. This is the smallest insolvent list that has been returned for several years. Though we are having bad crop years one after another. We have many in Beaufort who live in June, leave before tax paying. This caused much of this loss. Mr. Ricks works for the county. I am a Ricks man. Look for yourself!

Yours truly, THOS. GREEN, Pantego, N. C.
