

HAVENS, WHO BEAT ALDRIDGE, TALKS

Tells on What Vital Democratic Issues Success May Be Won in the Fall Elections—Republican Corruption and Concealment Have Made Common Honesty in Public Officials a Live Issue.

Washington, June 26.—James B. Havens, the youngest member of the House, the baby in politics of the day, for it is less than two months ago that he licked Boss Aldridge in the Rochester, N. Y., district and took the seat long held by the late James Brock.

But there is an advantage in this—his commission from the people is of the most recent date. Having changed a majority of 10,167 Republican to a majority of 10,321 Democratic, and having fought his battle successfully by the immediate, pressing, decisive issues of today, Mr. Havens' knowledge of what issues are vital to the voters is timely and of value. Where a hot campaign is waged it is better to feel the pulse of public opinion than Washington.

Mr. Havens today, in an interview on the prospects of Democratic success, and vital Democratic issues, said:

Success Democratic Success. The prospect of Democratic success at the approaching fall elections is bright. New agencies, the strength of the feeling among the voters of the country that a change in political control should be made. This feeling is not merely the result that often overtakes a Federal Administration in its second year and gives it an adverse majority in the House of Representatives to contend with. The present trend of popular sentiment is different both in its intensity and in its widespread reach to every part of the country.

The insurgent movement in the Republican party is the effect of long continued refusal on the part of the stand-pat Republican leaders to keep faith with intelligent public sentiment. It is true that long service in Congress makes a member efficient, but it is also true that such service doing combined blinds a member to the intelligent wishes of the people. Out of such blindness and senseless conservatism that was not so born, came the insurgent movement. This movement itself an effect of popular discontent, has in turn become a more efficient cause of a country-wide independence in political matters, which was really at the bottom of the results from the Republican party, as shown in the recent special elections for Representative in Congress in Massachusetts and New York. When such a movement becomes strong enough to develop leaders and show itself successfully in Congress it gains supporters rapidly in the country from those who were already restless and dissatisfied politically, but who had not yet defined their position.

In the recent special election in the Rochester district this change of attitude on the part of the voters without the knowledge of the practical politicians was most striking. Active men, who had spent their lives in politics, and who desired and really tried to look at the situation with disinterested intelligence, were unable to see that the Democratic campaign was "making a ripple," as they termed it, while at the same time a Republican majority exceeding 10,000 votes was quietly changing to a Democratic majority of nearly 6,000 votes.

Silent Revolt is Widespread. Not all the silent revolt which occurred in that election in that district will be found in any other district, but something of what there occurred may be expected in any Northern district. There will be the same political blindness to changed political sentiment, and there will be much of that change of sentiment, whether it is foreseen or not. It is impossible to say now where it may be found. Least of all, perhaps, we would expect to find it in Pennsylvania, but in the Pittsburgh primaries Representative Daisel, with a service in Congress of 23 years, is endeavoring to hold a trifling majority of only about 200, in a Republican district where there are over 15,000 Republican voters, by the aid of a temporary injunction.

The character of the men put in nomination by the Democratic party will have much to do with the result of the elections this fall. It is easy to obscure the strongest political position by unworthy nominations, and

PROMOTE CORN

The Norfolk Southern Railroad has entered the movement for more corn and a better system of corn growing and is offering a cup for the best ten acres. The Charlotte Observer says of its plan:

"The Norfolk Southern Railroad is offering a handsome silver cup to the North Carolina lad who exhibits the finest ten acres of corn grown by himself. The cup will pass from one year's winner to the victor of the next, each name being duly inscribed until the same boy shall win it twice, when it will become his property. It is a safe prediction that the great grower will have raised some corn before he puts the trophy on the parlor mantelpiece of his parents' home."

They "raise some corn" in the Norfolk Southern territory already. The road cuts through one of the most corn growing sections of the country and its aim ought to do much to stimulate the interest in the growing of this great grain.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE

The regular weekly dance at the Country Club will be tomorrow evening at the bungalow. It will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

SOUTHERN DRAMA AT THE GEM TONIGHT

The Bravest Girl in the South, one of those thrilling Kalem stories, filled with emotion and exhibition of bravery. This picture is one continuous thrill from beginning to end and holds great interest throughout.

Jonas' Watch, comedy, by Lubin, shows graphically what happened to a man when he forged his watch. Calamity followed calamity, but all in humorous fashion.

Hamlock Hoax, the Detective, a travesty upon so-called detective work. The acting is clever, developing many amusing features as it develops.

The Fisherman's Luck, all sorts of luck comes to Bahamon, but all fishermen do not catch fish. This film is made for a good laugh and it succeeds admirably in performing its mission.

Visit the Gem tonight, see a good show, hear the best of music and enjoy the cool breeze.

WHAT CONGRESS MEANS

Washington, June 27.—More than a billion dollars was appropriated at the present session of Congress, if continuing appropriations are incorporated in the general appropriation measure. The Senate has agreed containing the appropriations will be issued from the House and Senate committee within a few days. In so far as the figures could be obtained, from measures which underwent change in the last hours of the session, the total of the appropriations exclusive of continuing appropriations was $264,000,000. The amount of the continuing appropriations for the fiscal year was about $100,000,000. It is safe to say that it will not be less for the next fiscal year, and the grand total thereof will aggregate at least $1,024,000,000.

The Democratic party will insist upon the integrity of its organization for party organization is essential to the best government. At the same time party organization never should and never will, choke the honest expression of an honest Democratic matter of principle. Organization by parties and thorough organization of parties are equally necessary in popular government. No party is worthy of the Democratic emblem which seeks to foster industries in Democratic States or Democratic localities, or to serve the Democratic party at the expense of the whole State or country. The people have had more than enough of that sort of legislation from our opponents. Democratic success will be short-lived if it means merely changing the party label upon legislative selfishness.

No Waste by Playing Politics. "Nor will our party organization waste its energies in what is known as 'playing politics.' No party ever served its purpose or justified its existence in that manner.

There is a further responsibility to be borne by the Democratic party on its accession to power. It is the personal honesty of those intrusted with public duties. Of all responsibilities this is of prime importance, for it is the foundation of party honor and party worth. Honesty, it is shameful to say, is now sometimes spoken of as an "old fashioned" but of all forms of dishonesty that which preys upon the public is the most shameful."

WEALTHY BALHIGH MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE

Charlotte, N. C., June 27.—The W. Wadsworth, one of the wealthiest and best known citizens of this city, committed suicide this afternoon by shooting himself. The excessive use of stimulants and worry over business matters were given in a statement issued by the family as the cause of the rash act. A brother, Charles Wadsworth, took his life in a Greensboro hotel last year.

THE MILITIA CALLED OUT

Governor Brown Sent Two Companies of State Militia to the Scene of Trouble—Deperado is Barricaded in His Home With Six Children and Defies Authorities.

Ocala, Ga., June 27.—W. H. Bostwick, the armed desperado who barricaded himself in his home yesterday and killed two officers who attempted to arrest him, was himself shot to death today. Before he fell, however, he had killed another man. Another is dying and two are seriously wounded.

The dead: W. H. Bostwick, the armed man shot to death today. Chief of Police Davis of Ocala, shot dead by Bostwick yesterday. Deputy Sheriff Shaffer of Irwin county, shot dead yesterday by Bostwick.

James Gill, member of posse, shot to death by Bostwick today. Dying: Sheriff Melvin, Irwin county, fatally shot by Bostwick yesterday.

Bartholomew, Deputy Sheriff T. C. Bass, Deputy Sheriff W. A. Tucker.

Bostwick's six children whom he had kept in the house over night he allowed to leave this morning before the final battle started which ended in his death. When his surrender was demanded this morning by the children left he shouted in rage:

"This is my home and will be my tomb. I will never be taken alive."

He kept his word and died with his boots on. He was shot by the troops who arrived here in response to the order of Governor Brown. After they had drawn his fire from a window and thus located his position they fired a volley that killed him. They were unable to do this, however, until after the children had left the house, as they feared that some of the little ones might be wounded.

The deadly conflict between Bostwick and the officers of the militia began yesterday afternoon when Sheriff Melvin, with Chief Davis and Bass and Tucker attempted to arrest him. He opened fire without warning as they approached the house and Chief Davis was instantly killed.

"Keep away or I'll kill you all," was the defiance Bostwick shouted to the officers.

Nevertheless a second charge was made and in this shemald fell. Then the officers drew off and after a consultation decided to appeal for state help. More than 500 persons hurried to the scene from Ocala several miles away and, joined by farmers from the countryside, surrounded the house but until night fell no further effort was made to capture the man.

DROWNED

Wilmington, June 27.—Mr. LeRoy King Smith, captain of the steamer City of Fayetteville, one of Wilmington's prominent young men, was drowned yesterday afternoon a few miles below the city. He was coming to the city in a launch and fell from the boat. He was an expert swimmer and it is believed his head struck the side of a boat stunning him. The deceased was 24 years old.

CONVENIENT SCHEDULE

The Washington and Vandemere schedule has been changed permanently. Its trains leave Washington at 4:15 p. m. instead of 3:30 as before. This will give the people from the south side of the river almost an hour longer in Washington and thereby enable them to transact more business.

OUT AGAIN

Miss Mattie Weeks was out yesterday after an illness of several days, during which she has been confined to the house.

Mrs. B. J. Peterson and brother left this morning for Edenton in response to a telegram announcing the illness of their brother who is not expected to live through the day.

CANNON LAUDS CONGRESS

More Done, Despite Rules Fight, Than at Any Other He Ever Sat In.

Washington, June 25.—Speaker Cannon tonight declared that the present Congress had done more and better work than any of which he had been a member during his thirty-five years of service in the House.

"This work of legislation," he said, "has gone on quietly but effectively, while those who view Congress from a distance have been assuming that the House was doing nothing but changing its rules. The changes of rules have contributed to the pleasure and perhaps the power of some individuals in the House, but the current of legislation itself has moved on as usual, with little disturbance on account of a few new methods and with little advantage therefrom."

"It has rarely occurred that a Congress enacting a new tariff law has accomplished much else save handling the appropriations for the Government. This Congress has not only revised the tariff, without disturbing business, but it has enacted important legislation, amending the Interstate Commerce law, making that law more effective, giving the Interstate Commerce Commission greater power and creating a Court of Commerce, and this without seriously affecting the business of the railroads or checking their increase of wages to their employes. This seems to me to meet the definition of statesmanship in legislation."

"This Congress has also enacted a Postal Savings Bank law, which is entirely new legislation, bringing a new trail in lawmaking in this country. In my judgment this is the best illustration of party legislation we have had in many years, and it fully justifies the necessity for party action in a great legislative body. If there had not been party solidarity on this bill there would have been no legislation creating postal savings banks."

NO AMATEURS

Good, Clean Performance—Adams Tent Show Well Patronized.

Admission—Admission One Cent. Last show opened their first series of entertainments in our city last night. The large tent was fairly crowded and the entertainment judging from the applause, which was plentiful, was enjoyed by all present and many were heard to express themselves as saying it was the best 10 cent show they ever witnessed. This show is in no way connected with the carnival, but is owned solely and managed by Jas. Adams and has a splendid reputation through North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, as the cleanest and best show on the road today. The show is strictly high-class, all performances warranted up-to-date in every respect, catering to ladies, gentlemen and children, with an entire change all the way through every night; one show nightly and one matinee Saturday afternoon, 3 o'clock. All wishing a hearty, clean, wholesome entertainment with many a laugh, lasting one hour and forty-five minutes for 10 cents pay this attraction a visit. Located on the Coast Line lot, one week.

Below we give an extract from Cartersville men, Cartersville, Ga., after the company had remained there one week, signed by the Mayor:

To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that the James Adams 10 Cent Shows have been showing in this city for one week, and have given most creditable performances, which has pleased the public very much. The best endorsement the show could have in the large and enthusiastic crowd that thronged their tent at each and every performance. The management of the show is all that could be desired, and each and everyone connected with the show have conducted themselves whilst in our city in such a way and manner as to meet the approbation of everyone. Their show is nice and clean and all their performances have been most pleasing and creditable.

Yours truly, PAUL GILREATH, Mayor.

Doors open every night at 7:30, curtain rises 8:30 sharp, rain or shine. Come try to get in, absolutely waterproof. 10 cents to all.

SHOCK WAS FATAL

Raleigh, N. C., June 27.—While Vernon Byrum, an employe of the city fire alarm system, was sitting today on the cross bar of an electric pole 2,300 volts of electricity passed through his body. He became entangled among the wires at the top of the pole, whence some other workmen extracted him. He lived for three hours after the accident. His home was in Wilson, this State.

WAYLAI'D, ROBBED

George Gardner Knocked Senseless By a Negro—Purse Containing $25 Stolen.

Oriente, N. C., June 27.—Mr. Geo. Gardner, a traveling salesman for the Southern Furniture Company, of Washington, N. C., was knocked on the head by an unknown negro at this place last Saturday night and while in an unconscious condition was robbed of $25. Mr. Gardner had been out to attend the John R. Smith Carnival Company which was exhibiting here at that time and had just left the carnival grounds to return to his room at the hotel when he was assaulted. His assailant struck him a heavy blow on the back of the head which knocked him out for a few minutes and when he revived he discovered that his pocketbook which contained $25, was missing. Search was made for the robber but Mr. Gardner could give no definite description of him and he was not apprehended.

DELIGHTFUL OCCASION

Quite a crowd of girls left yesterday afternoon on the gasboat Alvin for an afternoon of pleasure and fun on the Pamlico. Two of the Sunday school teachers gave this delightful trip down the river to their scholars, who are faithful workers in the Sunday school. The party was composed of sixteen jolly young ladies, chaperoned by their teachers, Mrs. W. W. Gatterhwaite and Mrs. Sallie Mayo. A stop was made at the Park where games and bathing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served on the way back. It is useless to say that all had a delightful time, for an occasion of this kind is always enjoyed. The trip will be long remembered by all who attended.

TO PICTURE FIGHT

Reno, June 25.—The fight to secure a pictorial report of the "battle of the century" will cost close to $200,000. That is an estimate based on the prices of their respective shares, agreed upon by Jeffrey, Johnson and Promoter Tex Rickard. Jack Gleason, Rickard's partner in staging the big fight, is said to be the only one of those interested in the picture who has not disposed of his share of the prospective profit.

Admitting that his statement of Thursday night was premature, Tex Rickard has announced definitely the sale of his and Jeffrey interests in the pictures for $100,000 cash, that sum having been placed on deposit in a Reno bank pending the fulfillment of a signed contract. Jeffrey is to receive two-thirds and Rickard one-third of the $100,000.

According to the amended fight articles, Jeffrey and Johnson are joint owners of the picture rights, and each is bound to turn over to the promoters one-third of the profits each receives therefrom. With the picture rights split between rival syndicates, it is likely that two sets of films will be made.
