PISTOL-CARRYING.

According to Collier's Magazine, which deals with the subject editorially, a bill is to be introduced into the Georgia State Legislature this session by Senator Julian B. Curry, with the intent of making the carrying of concealed weapons a felony.

NO CLIMATE LIKE NORTH CAROLINA'S.

Monroe Enquirer. Last April and during the very last days of that month, too, when frost and snow laid waste the crops in States far south of us; when the cold wave swooped down from the far northwest, North Carolina experienced just a slight frost or two, nothing being damaged except in the extreme western part of the State.

Entire Town Moves on Wheels.

(Greely Correspondence, Denver Republican.) New Hereford, in Eastern Weld County, is planning an old settler's day reunion, although it is less than a day old. New Hereford is the only town in Weld County which, having established in another State, was picked up and carried on wheels to a new location.

ADVERTISE THE SOUTH.

Winston-Salem Journal. The Charlotte Observer commends the suggestion of Secretary J. S. Kuykendall of the Winston-Salem board of trade, that the Legislature appropriate a sum of money to be used in the advertising of the State, and says: "A comparatively small amount would yield surprisingly large returns, and if the treasury is at all crowded the appropriation should be made."

Along this line is the wish we expressed in yesterday's Journal that a bill be introduced in the next Legislature allowing municipalities to use sums of money in advertising themselves. It seems hardly fair for a few men to have to spend their own money in advertising a town, when the benefits accruing from such advertising work for the good of the whole community.

QUEEN'S CURIOUS PERQUISITE.

(From London Daily News.) The Welsh captain who caught a sturgeon in Fowling harbor and offered it to King George, was doing no more than his duty. His majesty is entitled to every sturgeon landed in the United Kingdom, and one of them caught in the Thames greeted the festive board at Queen Victoria's wedding banquet. The King also has the right by statute to the head of every whale caught on the coasts of his kingdom.

The tail of the whale in Queen Mary's perquisite, the object of this curious division being that her majesty shall always be well supplied with whalebone, although singularly enough the whalebone is the King's half. Among other things which the King is entitled to receive are a pair of white doves, a pound of cumis seed, a pair of scarlet hose and a silver needle from his tailor.

INCOME TAX AMENDMENT.

Charlotte News. The action of Georgia's house of representatives last Tuesday in ratifying the proposed amendment to the federal constitution as to an income tax—the senate having previously acted affirmatively on the proposition—makes the eighth state which has endorsed the same through its legislature. Three states have rejected the amendment.

The Constitution of the United States provides that proposed amendments thereto must be ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states before becoming effective. There being at present forty-six states in the Union, the amendment must be ratified by thirty-five of them. If before the matter is finally determined the two new states of Arizona and New Mexico become members of the Union and are permitted to vote upon the question submitted to the states previous to their admission, it will require the ratification of thirty-six states.

In several states the two houses have divided on the question, one voting to ratify it and the other for rejection. In about thirty states the legislatures have not been in session since the proposition was submitted by Congress. These will take up the question at their sessions next fall and winter. Should enough of these to make up the requisite number ratify the amendment of course the matter will be finally settled in favor of the amendment. But, on the other hand, the failure of a sufficient number to do so will not necessarily amount to final rejections of the proposition. Those states whose legislatures are in deadlock on the subject will again take action, and it is maintained by some persons that a state legislature after rejection by a former one may take up the question and vote upon it. If this be correct there is no saying when the matter will be finally settled.

The fact that the federal constitution puts no limit on the time within which the states' legislatures must act upon a proposed amendment makes all the more indefinite the final settlement of such question.

STORIES OF LAWYERS.

(From National Magazine.) Daniel O'Connell had a favorite story of one Parsons, an Irish barrister, who one day was approached in the lobby of the Four Courts by an attorney who hated the whole tribe of attorneys, and was soliciting subscriptions to pay the burial fee of an attorney who had died in poverty. Parsons offered the gentleman a pound note. "Oh, Mr. Parsons," said the applicant, "I do not want so much. I only ask a shilling from each contributor. I have limited myself to that, and can not really take more."

"Oh, take it, take it," said Parsons, blandly. "For God's sake, my good sir, take the pound, and while you are about it bury 20 of them." Foote, the humorist, was once button-holed by a country gentleman who complained bitterly of the heavy cost of burying a relative. "Who was an attorney?" "Why, do you bury attorneys here?" asked Foote, gravely. "Yes, to be sure, how else?" "Oh, we never do that in London." "No?" exclaimed the amazed squire. "How do you manage, then?" "Why, when an attorney happens to die we lay him out in a room by himself, throw open the window, lock the door, and, in the morning, he is entirely off."

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment with free instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Work 24 Hours a Day.

The busiest little things ever made are Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, languor into energy, brain-fog into mental power; curing Constipation, Headache, Chills, Dyspepsia, Malaria, 25c. at all druggists.

RALEIGH IS STIRRED UP OVER LIGHTING CONTRACT.

(Special to Daily News.) Raleigh, July 20.—There is considerable stir here over the action of the Raleigh aldermen, or a quorum of the board, in voting a ten year contract to the Carolina Light and Power Company for an advance for $4.25 per lamp for the street lights in order that the company may include in improvements under way an equipment for installing the new magnetic lights. The contract was accepted by the board when the mayor and four aldermen were out of the city and Joseph G. Brown, acting mayor, opposed the proposition. The board of audit and finance has yet to pass on the deal, but there is an effort on foot to induce the aldermen to reconsider the proposition to the end, at least, that be contract for a shorter term of years. The claim is the improvement and cheapening of the cost of lights are all too fast now to admit of such long term contracts.

Fur is worn more generally now than at any time in history. The demand far exceeds the supply.

A CORRECTION

People of Richland Don't Desire a New County.

Mr. Editor: Having learned that some one is circulating a report in certain sections of this county, to the effect that the motive behind the candidacy of Mr. W. A. Thompson is in the interest of a new county movement, and believing in a square deal to all, we desire space to say that any such statement is without foundation and false and we believe is made with the sole purpose of injuring him in sections of the county where he is not so well known. The people of this township do not want a new county as the improved transportation has eliminated the need.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me. I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains. A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Women's pains are relieved or prevented and women's strength is quickly restored, by Cardui, the woman's tonic. You yourself know best if you need it, or not. If you do need it, do not delay, but commence to use it at once. Every day of delay, only lets you slide further down the hill.

Don't wait, then, but begin to take Cardui today, for its use, no matter how prolonged, cannot harm you and will surely do you good.
