MODERN DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE

Senator Overman, of North Carolina, recently defined Democratic principles, as follows:

- A tariff for revenue only, so adjusted as to operate alike on all classes, all sections and all industries.
- Enforce the law against the unlawful trusts.
- Down with Cannonism.
- Down with plutocracy.
- Back to the slogan of 1876—'Refrainment and Reform.'

Recently the progressive Democrats of thirteen counties in New York met at Albany. Sixty representative men were present, and they asked the Democrats of the State to get together on this platform:

- Advocacy of the largest possible extension of the free list in a radically reconstructed tariff.
- Direct nominations, unlimited in operation.
- Adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall principle.
- Home rule for municipalities and counties, with power to own and operate public utilities, if desired, by the people.
- Abolition of personal property tax.
- A federal income tax.
- The nomination by the approaching Democratic State convention of a candidate for United States Senator, and the endorsement of the election of Senators by popular vote.

OPEN SCHOOL WINDOWS.

In an article in the August McClure's on "Oxygenizing a City," Burton J. Hendrick tells of the new "fresh-air" schools in Chicago:

"Principal Watt has gone even further. In the higher grades of his school he began the experiment, last winter, of abolishing heat altogether. In these rooms he has adopted a new educational motto: 'Less instruction and more oxygen.' In keeping with this, the little children no longer sit together at desks with folded hands. The desks have been removed, kindergarten chairs have been brought in, and the pupils given the utmost freedom of movement. In cold winter weather they wear wraps and hats—and these are the only source of heat. In zero weather they sit at their tables in front of open, 'drafty' windows. Their fingers do not get so numb that they can write on the blackboards, and physical discomfort is unknown.

"One day last winter when the thermometer registered 10 below zero, a woman school visitor came into one of these cold rooms. She was horrified at what she described as 'cruelty.' But the children simply grinned. They enjoy the change immensely, and have nicknamed the old hot-air place the 'hospital rooms' because there are so many sick children in them."

Interesting letter to The Annonian. After speaking of the political excitement in that State he tells of an interview with a Federal veteran, in which the latter recounts some of his experiences in Anson county at the time Sherman's army was passing through that section on its march to the sea. He says:

"I had an interesting talk with Captain Hays at Wilmington. He was a captain in Sherman's army and was in the division that invaded our State. He said that he took his company of fifty-seven men to Lynch's creek, near Wadesboro. He could not remember the owner of the plantation they searched, but said it was one of the finest that they saw in North Carolina. His company was surprised by Wade Hampton's cavalry and all but three were killed or wounded. He and two of his comrades made their escape by aid of an old Vermont Yankee who was running a mill on Lynch's creek. The old Vermont, according to Captain Hays, had been grinding grain for Sherman's army and Wade Hampton's troops burned his mill. The captain seemed to be a very genteel old gentleman and expressed the desire to visit Wadesboro and other points where he had some very interesting escapades.

Lynch's creek lies in South Carolina close to the Anson county line. Near it was the Pogues plantation, which was a magnificent one. It is probably the one referred to by Captain Hays. No doubt there are many people living in the two border counties who remember the events referred to by this federal officer. The Wilmington referred to by Mr. McLendon lies north of Cincinnati. He says that he was told by some of its old inhabitants that it was settled by North Carolinians who named it after the town of the same name in their old State. Nearby is another town named after one in this State—Edenton—which was also settled by Tar Heels.

Mr. McLendon found so many descendants of former citizens of this State in that section that he almost felt that he was back in North Carolina—Charlotte News.

THE MOST POPULAR JOKE.

The most popular joke which has been published in any language in the history of the world is stated to be that which appeared in an obscure corner of the Punch Almanac for 1815. "Advice to persons about to marry—Don't." It would be interesting to know who was the author. Another, founded on a similar subject, was the "Advice to persons who have fallen in love—Fall out!" One of the most brilliant things that ever appeared in our contemporary was the brief dialogue between an inquiring child and his impatient parent: "What is mind?" "No matter." "What is matter?" "Never mind."—Westminster Gazette.

Misses Ava and Annie Bell left yesterday to visit friends and relatives in Virginia.

TAR HEELS IN OHIO. Mr. Lennox McLendon, of Wadesboro, who is now in Ohio, writes...

POORER FARMHANDS

A man is apt to have a poor wife—either to his heart or to his pocket-book. Nothing glazes the average woman more than an opportunity to displease some other woman. It must be awfully hard on a splinter not to have a man round the house to blame things on.

Why So Weak?

Kidney Trouble. May Be Sapping Your Life Away. Washington People Have Learned This Fact. When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, kidney weakness may be the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Can Washington readers demand further proof than the following statement:

J. Frank Powell, West Tarboro, N. C., says: "Last spring I had an attack of La Grippe and after that, suffered from backache and pains across my loins. If I stooped or lifted, sharp pains darted through my body, causing me great misery. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I procured a box. I can say that they gave me more relief than any other remedy I had ever tried. The use of one box removed all symptoms of my trouble and I have not had a return of them. Doan's Kidney Pills have certainly done me a great deal of good and consequently I am pleased to recommend them."

Remember the name—Doan's—take no other.

CROXTON, A. G. P., Ast., E. T. LAMB, Pres. and Gen'l Mgr., Norfolk, Va.

A CURE FOR ECZEMA.

Mazy people who have eczema and have tried repeatedly to be cured without obtaining the desired result will be interested in the following statement by Mrs. Jas. E. Blair, of Boston, Mass. "My daughter has suffered from birth (for twenty years) from eczema, and had tried many so-called cures and dozens of physicians' prescriptions with little or no relief until I was advised to have her try 'I am thankful today to be able to inform you that she has been entirely cured after using six bottles of Bloodine and four boxes of Bloodine Ointment."

What Mrs. Blair says is enough to convince the most skeptical that Bloodine and Bloodine Ointment used together will positively cure any case of eczema. Bloodine costs but fifty cents a bottle, six bottles for two dollars and a half. Bloodine Liver Pills cure constipation. Mail orders filled by Bloodine Corporation, Boston, Mass. At Dr. Hardy's Drug Store.

A Frightful Wreck. A train, automobile or buggy may cause cuts, bruises, abrasions, sprains or wounds that demand Bucklen's Arnica Salve—earth's greatest healer. Quick relief and prompt cure results. For burns, boils, sores of all kinds, eczema, chapped hands and lips, sore eyes or corns, its supreme. Surest pile cure. 25c. at all druggists.
