THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1910

Parties leaving town should not fail to let the News follow them daily with the news of Washington fresh and crisp. It will prove a valuable companion, reading to you like a letter from home. Those at the seashore or mountains will find The News a most welcome and interesting visitor.

All articles sent to The News for publication must be signed by the writer, otherwise they will not be published.

Birth of Modern Science.
Modern science may be said to have its source in the famous museum of Alexandria. Students went there by thousands to follow mathematics, chemistry, anatomy, botany and zoology. After the long interregnum of the scholastic period Lord Bacon took up the thread that had been dropped by the Alexandrians and in his "Novum Organum" laid the foundation of the inductive method, out of which most of our modern scientific discoveries have come. Bacon was not himself a practical scientist, but he furnished the instrument with which others were to work for the conquest of nature and her subjugation to man.—New York American.

DRY ROT IN MEN.
The first external revelations of the dry rot in men is a tendency to lurk and lounge; to be at street corners without intelligible reason; to be going anywhere when met; to be about many places rather than any; to do nothing tangible, but to have an intention of performing a number of tangible duties tomorrow or the day after.—Dickens.

The Heloderma.
The venomous lizard heloderma lives in the warm zone between the Cordilleras of Central America and the Pacific ocean. It secretes a poisonous saliva and has the curious habit of throwing itself on its back when struck. Its bite is not always so dangerous as popular opinion makes it, and after severe pain it often rapidly heals. Recent observations show that the saliva is sometimes very poisonous and sometimes very innocuous. The poison acts by coagulating the blood and first increasing, then diminishing, the irritability of the nerves.

PAST SORROWS.
Feeble natures live in their sorrows instead of converting those sorrows into apothegms of experience. They are saturated with them, and they consume themselves by erasing back each day into the mistresses of the past. To forget is the great secret of strong and creative existence—to forget after the manner of nature, which knows no past and begins again every hour the mysteries of her indefatigable productivity.—Daly.

Sex and Handwriting.
This is a new method of determining sex from handwriting in perhaps 80 cases out of 100. An examination of the writing of 200 persons. The specimens were submitted to two "professional graphologists" as well as to three "naïve" ignorant of their art. The sex of the signs are found to be largely influenced by the amount of writing done by age and to a certain extent by practice and by professional requirements, as in the conventional writing of teachers and the rapid hand of bookkeepers.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Women and Food.
Women need on the average about nine-tenths the nourishment required by men.

He Wouldn't Stay Bought.
A guest was expected for dinner, and Bobby had received 5 cents as the price of his silence during the meal. He was as quiet as a mouse until, discovering that his favorite dessert was being served, he could no longer curb his enthusiasm. He drew the coin from his pocket and, rolling it across the table, exclaimed: "Here's your nickel, mamma. I'd rather talk"—Success Magazine.

English Brass.
The composition of English brass is about seventy parts copper and thirty of zinc. "Prince Rupert's metal" contains 75 to 80 per cent of copper and, on account of its golden color, is employed to some extent in jewelry. The kind of brass called tombac contains still more copper, nearly eighty-five parts in a hundred. It is the alloy used for the manufacture of what is called Dutch metal, an imitation of gold leaf. It can be rolled into sheets, and these can be beaten out till they are only fifty-three thousandths of an inch in thickness.—Chambers' Journal.
