WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 28, 1910

Parties leaving town should not fail to let the News follow them daily with the news of Washington fresh and crisp. It will prove a valuable companion, reading to you like a letter from home.

All articles sent to The News for publication must be signed by the writer, otherwise they will not be published.

Dangerous Journalism.

Mayor Gaynor of New York entered a just rebuke against a class of journalism that is dangerous to the country at large when he pointed out in his remarkable letter to his sister that he felt the attack on his life was largely due to certain cartoons that had been published about him.

Mayor Gaynor wrote to his sister at great length after he left the hospital, setting forth his views and impressions of the attempt on his life. He requests that the letter be kept a family record and a historical document for a few years.

Before the attempted assassination of Mayor Gaynor a New York paper had been carrying on a crusade against the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson pictures. Mayor Gaynor insisted he had no legal right to stop the pictures, much to the disgust of the newspaper.

A citizen suggests that aeroplanes should be equipped with gas balloons so that in case of an unexpected descent the fall would be broken. That, of course, might help the aviators, but what of the spectators?—Milwaukee Journal.

Colonel Roosevelt says 1912 isn't bothering him. It oughtn't to. No man who has hunted wild game in Africa ought to be bothered by a little thing like the Republican nomination.—Atlanta Journal.

The senate committee may decide that Lorimer is an innocent man, and that there are plenty more in the senate just like him, anyway.—St. Louis Times.

The plumbers are in convention in St. Paul. Probably you'll be charged with his time while he is away.—Detroit Free Press.

AVIATOR IS DYING In His Flight Over Alps, Was Dashed to Earth and Badly Broken and Cut.

Domodossola, Italy, Sept. 27.—The condition of George Chavez, the Peruvian aviator, who made a flight over the Alps in his aeroplane and who was dashed to earth in landing here, took a turn for the worse and it was feared today that he was dying.

Another doctor was called into consultation. Chavez suffers intense pain.

Both legs were broken and he is suffering from numerous cuts and bruises and internal injuries.

For the Farmer With Brains. The root is the foundation of the plant. It should be stimulated to early and continuous growth by the best care in the beginning.

Riding up on the hay-stacker is a dangerous form of sport. Rather use the ladder to get on the stack. There is no telling when a rope, a pulley or a timber will break.

It is very important to make the soil a vast storehouse of moisture for orchard trees since they must have large quantities if they are to produce profitably.

Rusty garden tools may be brightened by soaking in sour milk whey for twelve hours, then brushed. A coat of kerosene should then be applied.

Never offer for sale any food product you would be ashamed to put on your own table.

Alfalfa is not a lazy man's crop. It is a hustler, and it makes the man hustle. These two hustles make the mighty dollar.

The side lines in farming may be made into life lines.

North America produces about one-third of the world's wheat, which totals about 1,000 and three-quarter billion bushels.

To Keep a Cow From Sucking. A sows' foot of the Iowa farmer at Birmingham, Ind., says that the best plan he has ever tried to keep a cow from sucking herself is to put a sack around her body and run a rope from the lower part of it to her hind feet.

Washington, the nation's capital, has a population of 1,000,000.

The Brain of Reform Schools. The brain of a reform school for juvenile delinquents was probably the one organized at Albany, New York, France in 1839 by M. de Tally, a member of the French nobility.

His Last Breath. The reflections upon the value of breath, writes a correspondent, recall an old riddle which asked what it was that no man wished to take and no man wished to give up.

She—I doubt if you really love me. He—Why not, sweetheart? She—You never call me "Hiss girl." Whereupon he got very busy, and she of six feet three inches cuddled down in his arms with a contented sigh.—Eggs-cott's.

First and Second Thoughts. In matters of conscience first thoughts are best; in matters of prudence last thoughts are best.

THE LASH OF A FRIEND.

Would you have been about as welcome to a Conquer of Oswego, N. Y., as a fellow citizen-reckless enough that defied all remedies for years, "he writes nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never caught it, but now," writes the man, "I am free from all my troubles, colds, influenza, coughs, croup, whooping-cough, hemorrhages, croup, whooping-cough or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. A trial convinces. 50c $1.00. Trial bottles free. It's positively guaranteed by Dr. Hardy's Drug Store.
