

ENDORSEMENT VOTED POLLED IN EUROPEAN TOUR CONTEST

STORM OF BALLOTS BRINGS OUT NEW LEADERS IN DISTRICTS AND SUBSCRIPTION GETTING IS POPULAR NOW—FIRST PERIOD ENDS THIS WEEK.

The last week of the first period of the Tour-of-Europe contest is here, and the first day of it has passed. What will the end of the period bring forth? Thought of that?

The closing week of the first period is an interesting period. It has grown thus far. Public interest has been aroused, enthusiastic support of many favorite candidates has been enlisted in their behalf. Voting has started in earnest with subscription ballots.

Reader, who are you working for? Anybody? If not, you'd better get the contest fever, for everybody else has it. By this time we suppose everybody feels assured that if the boys are still running there'll be four young women in Europe next summer for six weeks at the expense of the Daily News.

Notice! Coupons that are not trimmed positively cannot be counted by the contest department. The voting is too heavy; we can't take the time. Too late.

Too late is an expression that has quite a horror connected with it, and rightfully, too. Too late to grasp an opportunity means that never again can you have that same opportunity. The first period is only to last for a very few days. In this period the schedule shows a greater allowance of votes than in any other period. Don't be too late taking advantage of the opportunity offered you this period. This week tells.

Heavy balloting. Saturday's balloting was the heaviest of any day since the contest started. That indicates the increased interest of the public in behalf of the contestants. Every conceivable means to get votes honestly is being employed by candidates.

JUDGIE COOK ON BAD BOYS

The boy who attacks a teacher is in a small way a criminal, and punishment should be meted out to him in a manner never-to-be-forgotten.

Judge Charles M. Cook says: "You had as well undertake to break a herd of bull yearlings with small twine in the place of rope, as to try to control many hard headed boys in the public schools, white as well as the negro, without allowing the teacher to use the lash."

As an exchange says, so we agree: "The sickly sentiment that has gained currency of late that no teacher should ever administer corporal punishment, has wrecked the discipline in many a school."

In the matter of disciplining the present system of training teachers is wrong in this state. The folly of trying to control boys or girls, either by love has been tested and found to be a failure. Now it is time to return to the proper method and our schools will not be breeding places for insubordination and pernicious conduct.

Judge Cook has the right view and teachers in the state will be glad to have so strong and advocate.—Williamston Enterprise.

RALEIGH MEN FIGHT

THE INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENT IN THE COUNTY OF WAKE CAUSES PASSAGE AT ARMS BETWEEN LEADERS—BOTH MAKE STATEMENTS.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 1.—State Senator W. B. Jones attacked Editor and Democratic National Committeeman Josephus Daniels of the Raleigh News and Observer this morning, on account of publications reflecting on Jones and his father, Col. Armisted Jones, in the newspaper.

Jones rained a number of blows on Daniels and the two men went together and struggled on the ground a few moments before others rushed in and pulled them apart.

Mr. Daniels' face was considerably bruised. Senator Jones came out of the scarp without a disfigurement save for a scarred lip.

In the recent Democratic primary Editor Daniels' bitter attack in his paper, were on Senator Jones and his father, who was county chairman and his solicitor.

Mr. Jones says warnings had been sent to the editor to desist. This morning the News and Observer carried a lengthy article against the independent Democratic movement springing up against the dominant Daniels-Bailey wing of the party and insinuating that the Joneses, particularly the Senator, were at least encouraging the bolt that will mean Republican victory if persisted in.

The article declared that in past campaigns when Editor Daniels and his following had been defeated in primaries, as they believed, through fraud, they had voted the ticket in the election, remaining loyal, but that now, with no right to charge fraud, the Jones faction had been defeated and the impending bolt was the result.

Accused Editor of Lying. Editor Daniels had just stepped from the street car at the Martin street and Fayetteville junction, on his way to his office, when Senator Jones in passing turned upon him and declared: "You have been lying about me again, and dealt him a quick hard blow in the face. Daniels sprang at his assailant and the two clinched in a jiffy and were on the ground struggling for weapons.

Passers-by rushed up and pulled Jones away before any serious hurt was done either.

Mr. Daniels had several bruises about the face. Both men appeared before Police Justice Stronach and were directed to appear Monday morning for a hearing.

Senator Jones' Statement. Senator Jones says of the encounter: "I walked up to Daniels and told him I was tired of his continuous lying on father and myself. He raised his hand and I struck him in the face. We clinched and I struck him three or four times and he fell. I got on him but did not strike him while he was down. At this moment someone separated us but I don't know who it was. I felt that Daniels had slandered me and my father long enough, and when I read in this morning's paper the article published by him, and knowing that neither of us had any connection whatsoever with the meeting held here today, and knowing his statement was a lie and intended to injure me in the eyes of the community I acted as I did. I walked immediately to the police justice's court and surrendered."

Mr. Daniels' Statement. Says Mr. Daniels: "Jones was coming from the Tucker Building Pharmacy towards the postoffice. I walked on toward my office paying no particular attention to him, as we had not spoken since the city election. I noticed that Mr. Jones had his hand in his pocket as he approached. The senator said that he had heard that I had been talking about him or words of that effect. I continued towards my office when Jones rushed at me, striking at my head. We clinched and struggled. Noticing that he had his hand in his pocket as he approached and thinking that he might have a weapon, though I did not see one, I held his hand and sought to prevent his using a weapon. I did not strike Jones nor attempt to strike him, but confined myself to preventing him striking me or using a weapon. If he had one, I never said a word from the time I got on the car until the policeman came. We fell in the scarp."

WOMAN'S APPEAL TO MANHOOD

Thirtieth Anniversary. Today, thirty years ago, Mr. O. E. Leons the efficient engineer on the Atlantic Coast Line train between here and Parmele, received his first order as a railroad engineer. Since that time he has handled the throttle ever since with satisfaction to himself, and to his employers. For the past twenty-two years he has been in the employ of the Atlantic Coast Line and for the past nineteen years he has been a resident of Washington, running the passenger train between this city and Parmele. There is no more popular engineer to be found anywhere and his many friends wish him many more years of usefulness. Congratulations are in order.

Large Business. A large number of people both white and colored, were passengers on the Atlantic Coast Line train to Wharton and Whichards yesterday. Nearly two thousand tickets were sold and it required several extra cars to accommodate the people. In consequence of the rush the regular evening train was delayed some little time last night.

At Whichards the whites were attending the Primitive Baptist Association and at Whartons the colored people were visiting the Freewill Baptist Association.

AT THE GAILETY. A Saturday's Special—Another Big Masterpiece—Another Three Reel Pleading Program.

'Twas a good one all around, and they all enjoyed it. A Colonial Belle, was really better than they expected to see. The scenes presented rare beauty, while the action of all the characters introduced was of the highest quality.

The program offered for tonight is of the usual "Gaiety" High Standard, equally as good as the one presented last night, if not better.

"The Adopted Daughter"—A melodramatic picture depicting the troubles of a young girl who is treated like a slave by her foster parents, and endeavors unsuccessfully to escape the grasp of a Mexican. Enter now the rescuer, who chases away the Mexican, incurs the usual hatred and in the end takes the girl home, where all the evidence tends to show that her troubles are over.

"A Fair Exchange" (Essanay)—An entertaining story of how a Doctor got even with the Plumber. They both do a piece of work for each other. When both are done with their work they exchange bills, and the humor of the situation striking them at the same time bursts into laughter. And so does the entire audience.

"A Personal Matter"—Another "side-splitter." Henry, who is quite familiar with the Gaiety Theatregoers, is up to his pranks again. It's funny and lively and deserves the applause it will get.

This entire program is going to prove one of the most interesting and pleasing seen here in some time. So get with the merry crowd and visit the Gaiety tonight.

THE GEM. Don't Miss Seeing "A Child of The Squadron Tonight.—Three Reels, Three Thousand Feet Film.

"Were you at the Gem last night?" If not you were one of a very few who did not go. The house was packed and jammed from early evening until late at night. The pictures were all beauties. An advertisement, Ferdie's Vacation was one big scream. The picture made a tremendous hit. The others were all fine ones and greatly enjoyed. You are going to see another fine program tonight. So don't miss this one.

A Child of the Squadron is a dramatic story of how a boy performed a distinguished military service and is adopted as the child of the squadron. It is one of those stories which is pure fiction, but the pleasant ending will make it popular.

An Excursion Into Wales—a beautiful illustration of the Welsh scenery. Old Chester and its cathedrals, pleasing and other scenery, are quite on the same plane. It would be impossible to surpass the beauties of the scenery.

Elder Gold to Preach Tonight. Elder P. D. Gold, of Vinton, will preach at the Primitive Baptist church tonight at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

Go to New Bern. Mr. H. V. Green, representing the Harris Plumbing & Supply Company left this morning for New Bern, where he will do plumbing work on the Union station under the contract procured there by the local firm.

On New Bern Contract. Mr. S. W. Wilson, head plumber with the Harris Plumbing & Supply company, left this morning for New Bern where the well known local firm has procured the contract for work on the new union station.

Board of Commissioners. The County Board of Commissioners are in session today at the courthouse. They will be in session also tomorrow. The usual routine of work is being transacted.

Board of Education. The county board of education is in session today at the courthouse. All the members of the board are present.

City Aldermen. The board of city aldermen will meet at the city hall this evening.

NEWS EMPLOYEE ATTEMPTS LIFE

No little excitement was created on the streets last night when the news was circulated that Mr. John E. Brown, an employe of the Daily News in its mechanical department, had made an attempt to take his life by swallowing laudanum. Brown was found in a coma on Main street near the First National Bank lying on the walk. Several passersby noticed him and on examination found that he was unconscious. He was at once taken to the drug store of Dr. Taylor, where the stomach pump was introduced and quantities of the poison brought forth. After remaining in the office for some little while he was carried to his boarding house, the Latham House, corner of Second and Harvey streets. He is apparently all right today and unless complications set in will be ready to resume his position on the paper Tuesday morning.

Brown alleges that he drank a bottle and a half of laudanum but gives no intelligent reason why he did it, intimating only that trouble for the past several weeks have preyed on his mind to such an extent he decided to end it all.

He says that he purchased a half bottle of laudanum and drank it while going up Main street near Frizzle's variety store. He then went to Taylor's drug store and drank another bottle. How he procured it is not known as Dr. Fields heard him remark "Well, I guess this will finish me." An empty bottle marked laudanum was discovered lying on the floor near the phone and as soon as Dr. Fields found it search was at once made for Brown. He was found as above stated.

It took hard work to save his life and at one time the physicians, Dr. D. T. Taylor and Dr. E. M. Brown thought he would not survive.

While Brown is confined to his bed today he is all right, excepting being a little nervous.

Nothing unusual was noticed by his friends yesterday in him and up until late in the afternoon he seemed to be in a jolly mood. Some time late in the afternoon he received a telegram from his family in Goldsboro and from the time of its receipt until the poison was taken he seemed depressed.

In talking to a News man this morning he seems to regret the act exceedingly and states that he was worried and wrought up so much that his brain must have become insane and then it was that he decided to take the laudanum.

Brown has been in the employ of the Daily News for the past month, coming here from Wilson where he has a family consisting of a wife and five children. He is a good workman and that he should attempt his life is to be regretted. We are glad to know that he is getting along all right and will be able to resume his duties tomorrow.

Dr. Hooper to Speak. Dr. M. Hooper of Goldsboro is to speak at the First Baptist church next Wednesday evening. His subject will be "The Clean Life, Is It Worth Living?" No doubt a large congregation will be present for a rich treat awaits them.

Crops Damaged. Mr. Samuel Clark of Gaylord, is in the city. He has just returned from a tour of Hyde county. He states that prior to the recent heavy rains the crops in Hyde were fine but unfortunately the water has damaged them considerably.

Has Fever. The many friends of Miss Ruth Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Phillips, will be pained to learn of her indisposition. She is suffering with a severe attack of fever.

The first service after the summer of the Young Men's Christian League was well attended at the rooms of the League Sunday afternoon.

The speaker of the occasion was Rev. M. T. Plyler, pastor of the First Methodist church. His address contained good, wholesome truths and every one present are more than complimentary of the effort. The music was a special feature. The audience was charmed with the vocal solos rendered by Mrs. D. M. Carter and Miss Ada Rhodes. The entire service was much enjoyed.

TENDER UPSETS

SMALL BOAT CROWDED WITH JACKIES ENROUTE TO STEEP IN NEW YORK HARBOR WHEN ACCIDENT OCCURRED—SUNBURNED DROWNED MAY BEACH THIRTY.

New York, Oct. 1.—Several sailors from the battleship New Hampshire were drowned by the upsetting of a tender in the North River off One Hundred and Fifty-Second street tonight.

Estimates of the dead vary from 3 to as high as 12, but no official count has been made of the number aboard the tender as many men have shore leave it was impossible to accurately file the list of missing.

The sailors were returning to the New Hampshire after shore leave and more than one hundred of them it is estimated had crowded aboard the tender which was being towed to the battleship.

About 300 yards off shore the craft was either upset or swamped and the entire load of jackies was precipitated into the water.

Boats were immediately put out from the New Hampshire and wherever a bobbing head showed a man a man was rescued. But in the darkness several sank and others were almost unconscious when dragged to safety.

On board the New Hampshire 61 with wet clothes were counted, indicating clearly that 61 had been saved and leaving blank a more serious gap of possible dead.

Service Much Enjoyed. The first service after the summer of the Young Men's Christian League was well attended at the rooms of the League Sunday afternoon.
