TWENTY-THREE PASSENGER TRAINS

Notwithstanding that Washington's population is a disappointment to the citizenship still the fact remains that no town in this section of the state is more progressive in the way of railroad transportation and postoffice receipts. The time has been, and too, only a few years back, when the fact was notorious, that people would exclaim without latitude "I hate to go to Washington for fear I can never get away." "It's a bad place to get to and equally as hard to leave." These same fellows now sing a far different tune for no town has better railroad facilities. The citizens residing in the city are sadly ignorant of the fact that there are twenty-three passenger trains entering and passing through Washington every twenty-four hours besides the many boats and schooners plying the waters of the river on which the city abuts. Another thing, while Washington has a population of over six thousand people in the population the receipts of the postoffice have enabled us to have free city delivery for years and during the past year the increase in business at the postoffice has been marked. The census may not have given us our full due so far as the number of inhabitants is concerned but we are abreast of the times so far as ingress and egress is concerned and if the census department don't watch us carefully we will show them a thing or two within the next few years.

No town in Eastern Carolina enjoys a greater degree of prosperity.
There have been no business failures as is usually recorded along about this time of the year. Our business men seem to be on a good financial basis and notwithstanding this is the dull season, are going along with renewed courage for the year 1911. Washington makes no claims for notoriety from a business standpoint, does not care to exhibit its exploits on canvas to the outside world for the purpose of creating envy. Its growth while not the outcome of a few days development is still growing with a rapidity and a certainty that places it in the forefront of North Carolina towns.

Washington has ever been sound and safe financially and ever will be.

ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS

GETS 12 YEAR SENTENCE

New York, Jan. 5.—James J. Gallagher, who shot Mayor Gaynor last August, was sentenced today to 12 years imprisonment. He was convicted in Jersey City on an indictment charging him not with shooting Mayor Gaynor, but with assaulting with intent to kill William H.
Edwards, commissioner of street cleaning of New York. The jury was out for forty minutes and the trial lasted but a portion of one day. In addition to 12 years, Gallagher will have to stay in prison until the cost of his prosecution has been paid by prison service.

He showed no emotion when the verdict was read or sentence pronounced.

Two of the men who found Gallagher guilty also served on the jury which yesterday declared him sane.
Commissioner Edwards was the chief witness today for the state.

He recounted the scene on the deck of the trans-Atlantic liner on the morning when Gaynor planned to sail for Europe.

He told how he had seized Gallagher an instant after the shot which wounded the mayor had been fired.
Edwards grasped the prisoner about the waist to show just how he had been wounded by a second shot from Gallagher's revolver. Gallagher offered no objection to the illustration.
Each side took fifteen minutes to sum up. Gallagher's counsel declared that no evidence to show that his client had intentionally wounded the commissioner had been brought out.
He said the shot was fired inadvertently during the struggle.

The jury filed back into the room for further instruction after a few minutes deliberation. The court was asked if the jury would be justified in finding a verdict of guilty if they did not believe that the shot which wounded Edwards was fired with intent to kill.

SPEAKER DOWD.

The selection of Hon. William C. Cay-re Dowd, of Mecklenburg county, for speaker of the house of representatives, is an honor to the banner democratic county in the state and to the editorial profession, as well as a deserved honor to a patriotic and experienced legislator. Mr.
Dowd's most conspicuous legislative service was as state senator in the fusion disorder and misrule. With a little band of democratic senators, in a minority too small to call the "eyes and noses" he was a vigorous fighter, and, acting with the other democratic senators helped to make the issues upon which later on democracy returned to power.

His paper, the Charlotte News, under Mr. Dowd's management, has grown to be the most prosperous and widely circulated afternoon daily in the state, and it has stood always for democracy, education, temperance and progress. He stands high among his brethren of the press, having held the highest positions in the gift of the state press association.
His election will be very pleasing to the editors of party papers who serve the party and the state more efficiently than any other agencies, rarely receiving the recognition to which their great selflessness entitles them.

Mr. Dowd was born in Moore county March 21st 1865. He was educated at Wake Forest College where he graduated in 1889. Nearly 20 years ago he purchased the Charlotte News then a small and poorly patronized afternoon paper, and under his aggressive management it has come to be one of the best papers in the state.

In 1892 he married Miss Eloise Butt of Charlotte. They have three children. Mr. Dowd has been active in every movement for the upbuilding of Charlotte—religious, moral, material, and has long been a force in political life of the state. He has been several times a delegate to the National Democratic Convention, and has stood for the best policies of his party.

He has served as water commissioner and other important places in Charlotte; served as director of the state deaf and dumb school at Morganton and served in the state senate and in the house of representatives.

He was a candidate for speaker of the house in 1909 and 1907, both times coming within a few votes of winning the nomination. He was one of the most useful legislators in the fight for state prohibition, and as chairman of the liquor traffic committee, in 1907, endeavored himself to the temperance hosts throughout the state.

Two years ago he was chairman of the committee on education. He is a devoted champion of the cause of public education. — Raleigh News and Observer.
