Day Given to Lawyers in Schenck Trial

FOR AND AGAINST DEF.

Under Arraignments of Prosecution, His Wife as Reference to Her Name

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 24.—Smiling under the scathing denunciation of Assistant Prosecutor Fred L. Mandy, Mrs. Laura Faragworth Schenck calmly watched her trial on the charge of attempting to poison her husband, here to a close today.

At the opening of the prosecutor's address she conferred for a short time with Attorney Frank O'Brien, one of her counsel, and then settled back with a half smile on her lips while the arraignment continued.

Prosecutor Mandy announced that he would conclude his speech within a short time, but the other addresses probably will prevent the case from going to the jury before late tomorrow.

Traut Senators Return to Capital

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 24.—The fifteen republican senators who fled to Cincinnati to block the democratic plans for the election of two United States senators, returned here today and immediately went into conference with Governor Glasscock.

It is probable that an agreement will be reached tonight and that the two senators will be elected in joint session tomorrow.

Nearing Completion.

The street paving is now nearing completion. The work on Second street has been much complimented by pedestrians and other citizens.

LOOK OUT FOR No. 1

Never lose sight of the fact that you have your own way to make in the world and that no one feels disposed to help a man who does not help himself.

It is very pleasant to be a "good fellow" and spend money freely, but you will find many more people willing to accept your generosity than willing to help you when you need.

Don't forget your own interests. Own your home. I have four residences for sale at very reasonable prices, which will yield a good rate of interest on the investment, also rapidly enhance in value.

During the aviation meet here Lieutenant Elvin Hunt was detailed to assist Perkins in flights with the mankite, but the conditions did not prove favorable and the attempts to fly were abandoned.

Sensible Proposition

The most sensible proposition in regard to woman's suffrage that we have seen in a long time is the proposal to give the right to vote to those women and those women only who have as many as six children.

Under the auspices of the Junior Auxiliary, a party will be given to the children Thursday afternoon and night at the armory. Admission 5c. Ice cream and candy for sale. Dancing and a good time all around.
