WHO WANTS TO BE ALDERMEN

The time for the municipal primaries is not far in the future and no one to our knowledge has announced himself for the position of city alderman.

These positions should be taken out of politics in so far as is possible and good business men selected, men who can manage successfully a business of such magnitude as is the city's.

The voters of each ward should get together and if possible agree on two men who would prove acceptable to the city at large.

We should be above petty prejudices and personal differences when it comes to deciding on matters in which the interests of all our citizens are at stake and be broad minded enough to grant others the same right of opinion to which we feel entitled. This is not meant in any way to reflect upon the present board because we can not say to what extent business principles have been applied in the management of city affairs. However, there is one branch of the city government of which we feel especial mention is deserving, this is the electric plant, under the management of the present superintendent, Mr. Charles, the plant has been placed on a paying basis and is handled in a thorough business like manner. The service which is being furnished to the citizens of Washington now will compare favorably with that of any town.

TYPHOID VACCINATION.

The recent tests made on United States soldiers has proven that typhoid vaccination is as successful a preventative of that disease as is smallpox vaccination, and since this fact has been demonstrated there are thousands of people who are availing themselves of the opportunity to be inoculated.

Practically all of the soldiers in the German and British armies have been vaccinated with the serum and the results have been a wonderful decrease in the number of deaths from typhoid fever.

Only a small percent of the standing army of this country has been vaccinated against typhoid and none of the volunteers. In the mobilization of the troops on the Mexican border there is afforded the medical division an excellent opportunity to give this serum a good trial and incidentally protect the men while they are in a country where they are more liable to contract the disease than in their regular stations.

The fact that the vaccination does not interfere with the men in their regular duties except in the rarest cases, is another point in favor of the vaccination.

More men died in Cuba and Florida from typhoid during the Spanish-American war than were killed by the bullets of the enemy. Hundreds have died since the war closed. More are dying yearly, and with the exception of using the ordinary sanitary measures, the department has done little to effectually wipe out the disease.

The camp at San Antonio is reported to be one of the best in any camp established from every point of view. It is reported that there is not a single case of typhoid in any of the camps there. It would seem that the sanitary forces have done their best.

The men have been brought there from different camps, most of them considered healthy and practically all of them suffered from the heat during the last few days. Typhoid would naturally be more prevalent with these men now than under ordinary conditions.

After being vaccinated for typhoid your chances of having the disease are exactly one-half for them before the virus had been injected into your veins.

In the case on record where the disease has been contracted after vaccination, the chances of recovery are four times as great.

In view of these facts it seems to be up to the secretary of war to take some action toward protecting the army from the malady.—Charlotte News.

A Correction. In giving an account of the cyclone at Coreport on Sunday evening the Daily News was in error as to the name. It was the home of Mr. Benjamin Paul that was completely demolished.

The condition of Mrs. Paul is thought to be serious and her recovery is thought to be doubtful. In yesterday's paper we gave the name as Mrs. Mayo, instead of Mrs. Paul. We make the correction with pleasure.

To have no personal God, must eventually signify to the reasoning mind no law-giver, no judge, no justice, no love, no mercy, no personal relationship as between father and child. Thus would be lost the very basis of Christian faith and doctrine.—Pastor Russell.

In studying the Bible we should remember that it was written neither to the world nor for the world, nor yet concerning the world, except as the world is related to the Divine program. Only from this standpoint can the Bible be rightly viewed or judged.—Pastor Russell.

To the Citizens of Washington Having repeatedly been asked by many of the good people of Washington to allow my name to be used as a candidate for mayor of the city, for the next term, I hereby announce myself for that office subject to the action of the Democratic primary, soon to be held. If selected, promise to discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability and for the good of all.

Respectfully, C. M. BROWN.

In making the above announcement, say in justice to myself and the people of Washington, that I have been persuaded in taking this action, that I can to some extent, allay and smooth over the factional differences existing, and dividing this community, for several years past. If I can do this, will be simply repaid, and feel that I have done a good deed. A community divided, cannot hope to go forward, but is handicapped for bettering conditions and affairs. If harmony, peace and good will can be substituted, for strife envy and bitterness between citizens of a community, good is bound to follow. If selected for the office of mayor, I promise, to use my best efforts to bring about good feelings between all, and to advocate only such things as will benefit and help Washington. Should any measure affecting the interest of our community be suggested, I believe it the right of every man to know of these things, before any action is taken. I will not be the candidate of any faction. Not be the instrument of any man, or set of men, for the promotion of any scheme whereby the rights or interests of the people are affected. It is right and proper, that the mayor should be sustained by good advisers, and if each ward, will select two citizens for aldermen, in whom the people have confidence and esteem, it will greatly add to the advantage and interest of all tax payers and citizens. But the support of all in carrying out these conditions, and in helping to bring about fellowship, harmony, good will, is asked.

Respectfully, C. M. BROWN.

Organization of the House by the Ways and Means Committee. The House will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the opening of the session.

Washington, March 21.—The organization of the House of Representatives under the new rule which went into effect last week, was completed today. The House members of the Ways and Means committee, fully appreciate that they are putting a vote that will have a severe test, in the new order of things for which such paralyzing legislative warfare was waged for years.

Chairman Underwood and his thirteen Democratic colleagues confidently believe that when they have completed the task of selecting the chairman and majority personnel of the various committees, their report will be adopted by the Democratic caucus.

At least they have hopes that the new rule of the house procedure—election of committees by a committee will not be wrecked by its own makers.

The committee is proceeding cautiously in making its selection for the new committees, and announcements will be made to the Democratic caucus April 1. It is reasonable to expect that Representative John J. Fitzgerald of New York will be the chairman of the important appropriations committee; that James Hay of Virginia will head the committee on military affairs; that Representative Hurlburt of Texas will be chairman of the committee on agriculture, and many other chairmanships are believed to be settled.

Changes are still being made in the tentative lists.

Members of the committee realize that some heartaches cannot be avoided because there are not enough plums to satisfy the ambitions of all, and they are proceeding slowly in an endeavor to reduce the disappointments to the minimum.

Remarkable Results of the New Tissue Builder Bloodine, in Many Cases. Prove it Yourself by Buying a Bottle of Bloodine Now.

"By George, I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment, Bloodine, for the building up of weight and lost nerve force. It set me more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well-known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer and almost everything else you could think of, but without result."

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the remarkable new treatment Bloodine. "I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable processes brought about by the use of bloodine, so I decided to try it myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else. I have put on just forty pounds during the last forty days, and never felt stronger or more 'nervy' in my life."

Bloodine is a powerful inducer to nutrition, increases cell-growth, makes perfect the assimilation of food, increases the number of blood corpuscles and as a necessary result builds up muscles, and solid healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness this remarkable treatment may prove a revelation. It is a beauty maker as well as a form builder and nerve strengthener. Bloodine costs 50 cents for the usual $1.00 size bottles. Mail orders filled by the Bloodine Corporation, Boston, Mass.

A Fierce Night Alarm is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamberlin of Manchester, N. H. (N. P. D. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he writes "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved that a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, Hay Fever, La Grippe, Whooping Cough, Hemorrhages, all before it. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free. Sold by Hardy's Drug Store.

Try Cardui.

Many people have been cured of their ailments. If suffering from a headache or other ailment, try Cardui. It is a powerful remedy for all ailments.

W. A. Roberts, 121 N. Fourth St., Washington, D. C., writes: "I have used Don's Kidney Pills and I know that they can be relied upon to cure a pain and aching back and correct trouble with kidney secretions. For some time my kidneys did not do their work as they should. I was subject to headaches and had pains when passing the kidney secretions. I used a box of Don's Kidney Pills as directed and they gave me relief. That was nearly a year ago and I have had no need of a kidney medicine since."

The Charge of the Tight Brigade

Here is the best thing we have yet seen on the hobble skirt. It is from Life, "with apologies to Mr. and Mrs. Tenneyson"—although we did not know the last mentioned person had anything to do with the famous poem "The Charge of the Light Brigade."

(Appropos of the Hobbie Skirt.) Half a leg, half a leg, Half a leg onward.

"Hobbe'd" the Four Hundred. "Forward, the Tight Brigade!" Charge—it's the style," they said; Oh, what a price they paid—Hobbe'd Four Hundred.

"Forward, the Tight Brigade!" Was there a man disgraced? Half a leg onward.

Some one had blunder'd; Theirs not to make reply, Theirs not to reason why, Theirs but to see and buy—Fuzzy Four Hundred.

Hobbles to right of them, Hobbles to left of them, Hobbles all sides of them—What if they'd under'd? Maude, Bessie, Kit and Nell, Wrapped like an umbrella, Should one have tripped and fell, She would have looked like—Well, less than Four Hundred.

Flashed as their curves so rare; Flashed—yes, and bulged so there! All but the skinty ones, While the world wondered.

Some, yes, some shrunk from rain; So now they're on the wane; Gone is the hobble day—Hoop skirts are next they say. Fickle Four Hundred.

When can their glory fade? Oh, what a stir they made; All the world wonder'd. What more could me displayed; Dear, naughty, Tight Brigade—Dear old Four Hundred!

Lots of people pose as peace-makers because of the opportunity it affords them to butt in.
