NO POLITICAL DEBTS
The men selected for Mayor and
Aldermen will be the choice of all the Aldermen will be the choice of all the people, therefore will not owe any political debts, which is as it should be, and we do not believe that politich will enter into the management of city affairs during the next two years.

THE KNOCKER .

You will find him in every town. The never gets ashamed or discouraged. Movement after movement he opposes and fights with all the earnestness of his nature, but he is run over and arises ready to stand in the pathway of the next improvement. There is this about him, however. He rarely has any influence. Nobody ever thinks of consulting him, for his opinion is entirely worthless. There are always a few though, who follow his call. The are naturally against everything but lack the initiative and the nerve to lead; so they follow. It is bad enough to be a koncker's henchman. Whenever this element of people can dominate a community, that community is doomed. The only towns in North Carolina that shave made any progress are those in which the progressive citizens band themesives together and run rough shod over those who would obstruct and hinder the advancement of the town. No attention in the world should be paid to people whose stock is to hold back in stead of to go forward. Nor do the You will find him in every town would obstruct and hinder the advancement of the town. No attention in the world should be paid to people whose stock is to hold back in stead of to go forward. Nor do the knockers all live in town. More's Har the pity. A good proportion of them live in the country. They are the chief oppcnents of the local tax for education. Now everybody knows a local tax for schools is an unmixed blessing. It is never oppressive, Res never unwise and always helpful and yet the knockers hang around and whine about heavy taxation and predict the bankruptcy of the world on account of it.

Although these filmsy arguments (Will have been exploded a thousand times, the knockers' followers take up the cry, and good men are often deceived into voting against the very thing that would make their neighborhood prosperous, and open the way for all sorts of developments. Jaci "A have oftened wondered where Kill the knocker found his fun in the curious course he takes. He cannot be happy, unless he enjoys misery. He is bound to be defeated and discredited sooner or later, for no one man or set of men can forever hold back the tide of progress. His canned is never a profitable one, for while, he may save a few cents of the knocker is never a profitable one, for while, he may save a few cents of the city that his policy prevents. The Liat late is the knocker is always a lower and never a gainer, and he leads a lot of poor dupen after him who suffer without knowing why—Char-Saw life and Children.
