EASTER DAY TO BE FITTINGLY CELEBRATED IN WASHINGTON

All the Churches to Render Attractive Music and the Sermons to Apply to the Risen Lord. All Strangers in the City are Cordially Invited to Attend.

Tomorrow is Easter Day, the day in which all the world celebrates the glorious resurrection of Christ. As in the usual custom the churches will distinctly celebrate the resurrection in the respective churches. All the faithful Christians will observe their theme this morning.

In addition to the services on the resurrection the churches of the city have prepared special music and all who attend these services will hear music out of the ordinary.

All Washington is looking in the day with pleasure. Let Washington enjoy every moment of it and ever remember it.

The following is the schedule of the respective churches for tomorrow:

All churches in the city will have services both morning and evening with the exception of the Episcopal. At this church there will be no evening service. The celebration of the Sunday school at this church promises to be unique and interesting.

Adventure in the News.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO THE CAPITAL CITY

Raleigh, N. C., April 15. — The Norfolk Southern Railroad announces today that they will operate a personally conducted excursion from various points to Washington, D. C., on Monday, May 29, 1911, under the direction of Prof. Frank M. Harper, Superintendent of the Public Schools of Raleigh.

Such an excursion in this section is an innovation, although they have been operated in the North by a number of railway lines. There is no place in this country of more general interest than the section in and around Washington, and as it will be under the direction of one of the foremost educators in the state, it will be of great interest to all who desire to take such a trip under the usual conditions that are offered. Prof. Harper, who is well known as an educator, has made such trips before, and is fully conversant with all the details that go to make such an outing a pleasant as well as an educational one.

It is said that not only will students and teachers from this section take advantage of the offer, but members of teachers throughout the state have already written Prof. Harper to make arrangements to join the party.

Special Pullman sleeping cars will be engaged, and every little want and necessity will be looked after by an experienced passenger agent of the railroad company who will accompany the party at the time they leave Raleigh until they return.

Professor Harper expects to take about 200 students and teachers on the trip.

Returned This Morning.

Superintendent of public schools for the county, Mr. W. L. Vaughan, returned home this morning from Pantego where he visited the schools in those towns. He reports a pleasant trip.

Mr. Dudley was narrowly escaped. Mr. W. L. Dudley while out driving with his wife and child came near meeting with a serious accident yesterday.

While in front of his residence on Market street the pony took fright and ran away.

The consequence was that Mr. Dudley was thrown to the ground, and while not seriously injured, his wounds are painful. Dr. J. C. Rodman was called and rendered medical aid.

Fortunately Mrs. Dudley and child escaped.

Child Found.

The inhabitants in Nicholsonville were thrown into intense excitement yesterday when it became known that a young girl baby only a few hours old had been found at the home of Mrs. Sprull on Telfair street.

The child is reported to have been born on Seventh street in Nicholsonville.

The child is well developed and is now being cared for by Mrs. Sprull.

Gone to Rocky Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fuller went to Rocky Mount last night for the purpose of meeting of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fuller. They are expected to arrive in the city this afternoon via the Atlantic Coast L. N. train.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR EGG HUNT

It has been decided by those in charge to have the Egg Hunt on the Fleming property at the West End of Main street. The hunt will be started promptly at three o'clock by a signal from Mayor Sterling.

In order to give all the children an equal opportunity, it has been decided to divide the grounds into three separate fields.

Boys from 8 to 15 years will occupy the field of red flags; girls from 8 to 15 years will occupy the field of blue flags, and little children under 7 years will occupy the field of white flags.

The athletic contests will take place in the field of blue flags at 3:30 o'clock immediately after the search for eggs. There will be nine contests.

Running race for boys under 12 years.

Hurdle race for boys under 15 years.

Running race for girls under 14 years.

Total race for children under 7 years.

Sack race for boys 12 to 15 years.

Crawling race for boys 12 to 15 years.

Hopping race for boys, 12 to 15 years.

Free-for-all race, open to all.

Prof. N. C. Newbold will be in charge of the contests.

Each child who desires to participate will go to one of the committees in charge of the different fields and receive a tag indicating which field he is to occupy.

Children under 7 years of age may have an adult to assist them in their quest for the coveted eggs.

There will be over 4,000 eggs used and it is to be hoped that those who are more fortunate than others will see that every child obtains at least some of the eggs.

In case of bad weather, the egg hunt will be postponed to a more suitable time.

It has been decided to give the children an opportunity to contribute to the starving Chinese. It is only a short time to the harvest when the famine will be relieved. But during this time many of the people must die of starvation, if help does not come. It was thought while the young people were enjoying themselves, it is equally appropriate to remember the suffering. Parents are asked to remember this, and give the little ones something for this purpose.

The collection will be taken up at the grounds, and the amount received will be reported in the Daily News. It may be that many others would like to contribute to this object at this time. The fund for the expenses of the Egg Hunt continues to grow. New contributors have been added to those already published.
