

THE LARGEST PAID SUBSCRIPTION OF ANY PAPER PUBLISHED IN EASTERN NORTH CAROLINA

HABEAS CORPUS DENIED TO CHAS MORSE

The Noted Prisoner Made Application Through His Attorney

WILL APPEAL TO HIGHER COURT

JUDGE NEWMAN DECLARES THAT WHETHER THE SENTENCE IS GOOD FOR FIFTEEN OR TEN YEARS CANNOT BE DETERMINED.

Atlanta, Ga., June 28.—Charles T. Morse today was denied a writ of habeas corpus for which he applied to Federal Judge Newman to obtain his release from the Atlanta prison where he is serving a 15-year sentence for violation of the national banking laws.

Judge Newman did not pass upon the contention that Morse could not be forced legally to serve more than 10 years of his sentence, but sustained the validity of 10 years of the sentence.

He rejected Morse's plea that the Atlanta prison could not be used for the confinement of those sentenced to imprisonment without hard labor. Morse contended that the court should set aside as being a prisoner under a 10-year sentence or under a 15-year sentence in order that the question as to how much the sentence should be reduced by good behavior or when a parole might be applicable for should and could be known by Morse in advance.

Attorney R. R. Arnold, representing Morse, gave notice that the case would be carried to the court of appeals for the fifth circuit.

FULL SWING BEFORE TIME

BEAUFORT AND MOREHEAD CITY ENJOYING BEST SEASON IN HISTORY OF THESE POPULAR SEASHORE RESORTS

Although July 1st is usually looked upon as the opening of the seashore season, this year the season at Beaufort and Morehead City was in full swing before the twentieth of June.

The number of summer visitors at the Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead, and at the Inlet Inn at Beaufort, and in the cottages at both places, present a scene of mid-season gaiety—usually looked for after the middle of July.

Beyond doubt the pure artesian water and perfect sanitation has influenced many mothers to take their children to Beaufort and Morehead earlier than usual, where eminent physicians are always nearby in case of an emergency.

The crowning social events of the season are expected to take place on Saturday night, July 1st and on July 4th. The second half of the season will be given at the Atlantic Hotel Saturday night, then on July 4th a morning German at 11:00 a. m. and in the evening at 8:40 p. m. the annual 4th of July German will be danced in the mammoth ball room of the Atlantic Hotel.

The management will provide a complimentary buffet supper for the dancers on Saturday and Tuesday nights.

On July 4th a special train will leave Washington at 7:15 a. m. for Morehead. Return special train will leave Beaufort at 11:15 p. m. and Morehead City at 11:30 p. m. for Washington, Elmore and Goldsboro.

The rate for this special train July 4th will be $1.25 for round trip.

On the Fallway, the schooner Suzanne, Captain Olive Larson, is commanded, is now on the waters of the Great Inland Sea Company for repairs. The Sea Wolf is also on the way for repairs.

RAW FISH FEEDING BERGIES

Mass angler caught the 32 pound Carp, which he had to shoot

Lee, Mass., June 27.—Fred Yeom was fishing in Lee reservoir yesterday and heard near shore what he at first supposed a muskrat. It proved to be a big carp.

He watched the fish for some minutes and cast positively that along the shore strawberries hung over the water varying in distance from 4 to 10 inches from surface, and he was surprised to see the big fish bobbing his head out of the water and grabbing the berries. He watched it repeat operation half a dozen times. He then tried his bait and succeeded in hooking the fish. He had to shoot it before he could land it. The carp weighed 32 pounds.

HAVING A GREAT TIME

THE CAMPING PARTY HAVING ENJOYABLE TIME AT OCEANOKE

The party left this city on the schooner, Relief, last Saturday night at 12 o'clock and they were wished bon voyage by a large number of their friends congregated on the market dock where the departure was from. It was a jolly party inspired with the camping spirit. The sail down the Pamlico river was one never to be forgotten. At daybreak the ship plunged out of the beautiful and placid Pamlico into the wide sound and for more than four hours with sails spread the boat tossed on the briny deep. At eleven o'clock on Sunday Oceoke was reached. The little cottage by the sea was soon put in order and every convenience installed for the comfort of the campers.

Among the functions given so far was a card party by Dr. McAdam which was much enjoyed. Mr. Peterson of Oceoke gave a crabbing. Many crabs were captured. A square dance given by the inhabitants of Oceoke to the party was much enjoyed. The dance was given in the dining factory which was decorated for the event. The music was furnished by an orchestra on the island. There will be an oyster roast given by Dr. McAdam today at two o'clock at Oyster Creek. All the members of the party are anticipating much pleasure and fun.

ENGINE STOPS FAR UP IN AIR

Chicago, June 29.—John J. Joyce, an aviator, fell 500 feet in a biplane at Hawthorne Park yesterday and escaped with only slight injuries.

He broke through five telephone wires, one trolley wire and a heavy wooden backstop for a baseball diamond. The backstop was wrecked and the biplane was literally ground to pieces, but Joyce escaped with only a sprained ankle, a scratched face and a possible minor fracture of one of the small bones of the leg.

Joyce fell in the course of an instruction flight he had undertaken for several pupils who were at the park. He was operating his sixty-horsepower biplane and had been in the air only a few minutes when his engine went dead.

The audience saw him clutch at the lever regulating the planes, but in a fraction of a second it was apparent that he machine was beyond control.

After the first sharp drop of perhaps 30 feet, Joyce succeeded in righting the machine and starting to vibrate to the ground. This is a maneuver familiar to all aviators, and Joyce had given many lessons in its accomplishment. But the angle was too sharp and the biplane refused to respond.

Swooping like a hawk, the machine dashed upon the telephone wires and cut them as if they had been so many pieces of string. It then fell at the changed angle upon the trolley wire, through which no current was running. Just before the biplane hit this wire Joyce jumped.

His body fell upon the trolley wire, snapping it in two, and this broke the force of the fall and twisted his body so that he alighted squarely on his feet.

The summer girl and the summer swimmer in full bloom at seaside resorts.

MOLTEN IRON EXPLODES AND BURNS MEN

Nine Men Rushed Into Eternity as the Result of Explosion

FIRST AID HELPS THEM

FOUR THOUSAND WORKMEN IN PANIC AS INJURED, SEARED BY LIQUID METAL, RUSH FRANTICALLY THROUGH THE SHOPS.

New York, June 28.—As the result of an explosion in a mould containing five tons of molten iron nine men were injured two of them mortally, and four thousand other men employed in the Otis Elevator Company Works, Woodworth avenue, Yonkers, were thrown into panic at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Eight of the injured men, all of them in scant clothing, were standing on a platform making a test of a friction winding driver for a mine hoist. The test included melting the iron and then driving it from the cupola to the mould. The eight men were on a platform, guiding the iron to the big mould by means of handles.

As the mould filled with the hot iron there came a sudden explosion which sounded to all parts of the works. Most of the workmen were just quitting and getting ready to start for home. There was a rush for the open.

The eight men who were close to the exploded mould were on fire. The molten iron had been hurled over them. Seven of the men rolled in the sand screaming for help. One of the men seemed to go crazy from pain. With his clothes burning, he darted into an adjoining shop where several guards were at work and fell among them.

One man ran to his aid. He dragged the burning man to a sand pile and half buried him before the flames were out. The hot iron had eaten deep into his flesh.

When the workmen saw that there was no danger to them they formed a bucket brigade, and a blast which started near the exploded mould was subdued quickly.

At the same time there was a call for men who are trained by their employers in giving first aid to the injured. The nine injured men were washed in linseed oil and lime water.

Ambulances came from both the hospitals and the men were taken to the institutions with all possible speed.

Edward A. Fitch, assistant manager of the works, said there was an accumulation of gas in the melted iron which ran into the mould. The pressure of the gas was too great for the mould and burst it.

Departed Loved One

The death angel came and visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Byerett near Hunters Bridge on Saturday morning June 26, and took their brave little son Linwood Earl, aged six months after an illness of only two weeks. All that kind hearts and loving hands could do was done but all to no avail. At eight o'clock all hopes of parents and friends vanished as the little fellow passed out to another world.

He leaves a heartbroken father and mother, a brother, one sister to mourn their loss, and a host of kindred and friends. The burial service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Fulford of Zion Episcopal church at the home of the parents, about four o'clock Sunday afternoon. The deceased was born January 24, 1911 and died June 24, 1911. The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the name of the Lord.

Found Gagged and Bound.

Cumberland, Md., June 29.—A pack of blood hounds are tracking the assailant of Miss Mary Bradour, 12 years old, who was attacked at her home, two miles from here last night. She was found gagged and bound in a cellar.

INTO EFFECT SATURDAY

NEAR-BEER LAW EXPECTED TO KNOCK OUT JOINTS ALL OVER NORTH CAROLINA

Raleigh, June 29.—Additional machinery for the enforcement of the prohibition law which went into effect January 1, 1914, is ready for operation and will be running Saturday, July 1. After Friday night all the near-beer joints in the state will be illegal and all concoctions of near-beer, beerine, and other like drinks will be outlawed. To sell the stuff will be a misdemeanor and all persons found guilty of doing so will be a misdemeanor and all persons found guilty of doing so will be eligible for the chain-gang.

On February 24, last the legislature passed "An Act to prohibit the sale of near-beer, beerine, and other like drinks," and this act becomes effective Saturday morning. One of the provisions of the act cites the right of any person to carry away with him at any time and any stuff sold and any drinks found to come under the law will be prima facie evidence of the guilt of the vendor. Medical depositories and prescriptions of reputable physicians are excepted from this law, and domestic wines sold in quantities of 2 1/2 gallons or more are excepted.

On March 6 the legislature ratified the locker club act and this became a law at once. This law forbids the keeping and maintenance of liquor in clubs and forbids clubs acting as agents.

There will be a great deal of interest in the state in the new liquor law. It remains to be seen if near-beer joints shall continue to spill beers and uph stuff after tomorrow night.

JUST MISSED RICH BOOTY

ROBBER GETS THE WRONG TRAIN AND MISS FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND IN GOLD

Glendale, Ore., July 28.—Apparently mistaking a northbound passenger train No. 16, on the Southern Pacific, for the southbound train, carrying $400,000 gold en route from Seattle to San Francisco, a hold-up man fled up the northbound near West Park last night in a mail car. The robbers rifled the mail car, blowing open the safe and making away with the registered mail. They tried to gain entrance to the express car, but failed. The amount of booty obtained is unknown.

The train carries in registered mail the cash from Southern Oregon postoffices to Eugene, Ore., which is their depository. This probably was included in the mail stolen.

The robbers boarded the train while the engine was taking water. After it got under way again they crawled over the tender into the cab, ordered the engineer to stop the train. The mail car safe was dynamited by one of the robbers, while the other covered the train crew with revolvers.

Is Out Again.

The many friends of Mr. Isaac Buck were glad to see him out again today after several weeks' indisposition. Mr. Buck is one of the city's highly esteemed citizens.

Golf Caddies Strike

Lenox, Mass., June 29.—The first union of golf caddies ever organized went on strike here today. The Lenox club have refused demands, and are threatening to bring in strike-breakers.

Has Moved.

Mr. J. S. Forbes and family have moved to their new residence at the corner of Gladden and Second streets where they will in the future reside. Their new home has just been completed.

Hot in New York

New York, June 29.—Twenty-five prostrations have occurred here from the intense heat, and over three hundred thousand men, women and children spent last night on Coney Island.

All is Ready for Race.

New London, June 29.—All is ready for the Yale and Harvard rowing race tomorrow.

NOTED FOR ONE DEM. IN 19 YEARS

Mr. Tilden Subjected to an Examination Relating to Corporations

COULDN'T REMEMBER THE CHECK

EDWARD TILDEN, "THOUGHT" HE WAS DIRECTOR IN MANY BANKS BUT KNEW NOTHING OF LORIMER $100,000 FUND—COULDN'T REMEMBER CHECK FOR $100,000

Washington, June 29.—His methods of book-keeping and his loyalty to the Democratic party alike were under fire today when Edward Tilden, bank director, packing house manager, and corporation man generally appeared before the Senate Lorimer committee to testify that he was in no way interested in raising a fund to elect Mr. Lorimer to the Senate.

Attorneys for the committee, and members of the committee itself, asked Mr. Tilden in almost every conceivable style of question if he had anything to do or knew anyone that had anything to do with the raising of a fund to elect Mr. Lorimer, either before or after the election.

To each the witness declared with emphasis that he did not.

THOUGHT HE WAS BANK DIRECTOR

Mr. Tilden then was subjected to an examination as to his relations to corporations. He mentioned first that he was president of the National Packing Company, and later added the names of five Chicago corporations, of which he was president, besides being the head of concerns in other cities. He was "confused," when asked by Senator Kenyon to state of how many corporations he was president, "because of the minor companies."

"He thought," he was director of banks in Sioux City, Iowa; St. Joseph, Mo., and San Francisco and he gave a long list of banks of which he was a stockholder, but forgot until nearly the end of his testimony to mention a bank in East St. Louis. Either as treasurer or in some other capacity, he testified, he had the right to draw checks on the bank accounts of "twenty-five or thirty corporations."

COULDN'T REMEMBER CHECK

The witness testified that he did not keep accurate books of his personal business, merely loose-leaf memoranda of his receipts and disbursements, and only memoranda of checks written instead of the check stubs. Senator Kern had the witness describe in minute detail his personal bookkeeping.

The witness said that he was not proud of his system, but that it answered the purpose, namely, that of keeping track of money until banked. The drawing of a check for $100,000 for personal expenditures might not be entered in his personal accounts, he said, and "he might or might not" be able to tell, for instance, in 1908, whether he had loaned or paid any one $100,000.

"We might be able to tell if we all went at it," he added. "Such a question never came up. I am paid a big salary to run the business of a large corporation, and I know a great deal less about my own affairs than about those of the company."

The committee did not ask Mr. Tilden to produce a bank book for inspection. He declared that they showed nothing whatever connected with the election of Mr. Lorimer and the committee told him for the present and possibly for all time, it was through with its examination of him.

It was Senator Kern, democratic nominee for Vice President in the last campaign, who put Mr. Tilden's Democracy to question. This was some time after the witness had testified that he was a Democrat.

"You are a Democrat, are you?"

he inquired.

"I am if I know what a Democrat is."

"That's just what I thought. Will you give us the name of the last candidate for President for whom you voted?"

"Including Vice-President," interrupted Senator Kenyon.

The witness did not reply, but Senator Kern kept asking him.

"Are you serious?" inquired Mr. Tilden.

"Of course I am," responded Senator Kern.

"Alton B. Parker."

"Who before that?"

"I was a delegate at the convention that nominated Bryan."

"But who was the Democrat you voted for before Parker?"

"Grover Cleveland."

"So you supported one Democratic candidate for President in 10 years," snapped the Indiana senator. "Now don't you know that the stockholders of the National Packing Company which is under indictment for an alleged violation of the law, have complained of the late chairman of the Republican National Committee about being indicted although they contributed heavily to the Republican campaign fund?"

"No sir."

HINES IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

LUMBER MILLIONAIRE ALLEGED BOOZLE COLLECTOR, A WITNESS IN LORIMER CASE

Washington, June 28.—Edward Hines, the millionaire lumberman, of Chicago, whose name has been repeatedly connected with the alleged raising of a hundred thousand dollars to elect William Lorimer to the Senate, today testified in his own defense before the Senate Lorimer committee today.

It was expected that he would be the last witness examined in Washington at this time in connection with the Lorimer probe. The committee probably will adjourn Saturday.

Hines told of his rise from office boy at ten dollars a month to the time he and others formed the Edward Hines Lumber Company in 1892.

None listened to the story more intently than his wife who was a constant attendant at the hearing. Hines said he owned 61 per cent of the Hines Company and named banks of which he was either president, director or stockholder. Hines said he was 47 years old.

SOC'AL FUNCTION WAS ENJOYED

MISS ARCHBELL ENTERTAINS AT CARDS YESTERDAY

Yesterday from eleven o'clock to two o'clock Miss Marie Louise Archbell entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Archbell at the corner of Second and Bonner streets, in honor of her guests, Misses Anita and Elizabeth Hurt and Miss Genevieve Hall of Eastern Shore Maryland; also Miss Margaret Archbell of Kingston.

A three course luncheon was served to about fifty of Washington's social set. Progressive Euchre was enjoyed. Mrs. Walton received the first prize. Miss Marguerite Archbell the visitor's prize and Miss Helen Kugler the twenty hand prize.

No social function of the season was more enjoyed by all present. Miss Archbell proved to be a most charming and entertaining hostess.

DREAMS DIE WHEN 50,000 DRUG SEIZED

A Wide Search for the "Dope" Distributors in New York

MORE CAPTURES COMING

MORE CAPTURES COMING FEDERAL SLEUTHS HINT—A WIDE SEARCH FOR "DOPE" DISTRIBUTORS BEGUN, AND THERE IS TALK OF A "RING"

New York, June 29.—Three hundred pounds of opium with an estimated value of $30,000 to $50,000 was seized here yesterday after the arrest of Goon Chung, an Americanized Chinese. The police said it was the largest seizure ever made in this city.

One hundred and fifty pounds was seized at first. Assistant United States District Attorney Pitkin did not believe there was enough proof of ownership to warrant a complaint against Goon. So detectives went to Goon's house, and there, under a bed in a closet and in a bureau they found another 150 pounds of the drug. Goon was locked up in Police Headquarters.

A search was started at once for men suspected of distributing the opium. Several arrests are likely to be made.

The customs authorities believe a new "dope ring" is in active operation, despite the penalties provided by the law.

One week ago Detective Castano of the Central Office received information that a Chinese in the city had a large amount of opium at his disposal. Detectives were put to work on the case. Their discoveries led them to shadow Goon Chung, who manages the Oriental Cafe at No. 3, Pell street and owns groceries in Boston and Lynn Mass.

Goon married a Chinese in San Francisco one month ago and set up housekeeping on the top floor of No. 195 Worth street. He has been in America thirty years having been brought here by his father when he was ten years old.

Yesterday the detectives saw him enter a poultry store at No. 197 Chambers street, where he asked for a bundle left there four days ago. The bundle was marked, "Glass, handle with care."

As Goon was leaving the store detectives stopped him and opened the bundle. It contained 150 pounds of opium. Goon expressed great surprise and said a friend had asked him to take care of the package.

At Goon's house the detectives told his wife he had sent them to see about opium and she showed them about the house. They say that they found cans of the drug hidden in several rooms. In one big can was found forty pounds of yea shee, the ash of burned opium. "On none of the boxes, the detectives say, was there any sign of a revenue stamp.

As the detectives were searching, a Chinese customer came to the door, proffered a little ivory box to Mrs. Goon and asked for opium. The detectives borrowed the box as evidence. They say that before they left the place several more Chinamen came in and asked for the drug.

With the additional evidence the detectives returned to the Federal building but Commissioner Shields had gone for the day and Goon was detained at Police Headquarters.

The prisoner appeared to be perfectly unconcerned. All questions brought the one reply that he knew nothing about the opium.

STORAGE EGGS HATCH

West Springfield man placed oylump hen on a setting of a dozen cold storage eggs. Yesterday, the twenty first day, eight chicks hatched out. There are six varieties of fowl, a circumstance which the proud mother has affects not to notice.

If you can't get all you want, take what you can get and remain on the job for more.