SPEEKS TO RESTORE

Washington, Feb. I.—W. H. Taft think the machine politicians will is the one best bet in the Republican permit his nomination. If Roosenomination handlesp.

At least this is the way it looks to I believe he would be defeated. It me today, and I have tried to view was during his administration that the situation, if possible, without prejudice. without the present abnormally high cost of living was piled up; largely because prejudice.

I base my prediction on the theory that Special Privilege, as represented by Aldrich, Penrose, Smoot, Lodge, Crane, Guggenheim, J. P. Morgan, J. D. Rockgfeller, Andrew Carnegic, and the tariff trusts, still dominate the Republican machine. And it must never be torgotten that the Republican machine, and not the Republican votors, rulce National Republican votors, rulce National Republican conventions and names the presidential candidates.

The only deduction that the read-president candidates.

The only deduction that the readers may draw from the foregoing is that Mr. Tatt is to be nominated, not because the people desira his renomination, but because the Big interests desire his renomination; not because Mr. Tatt has earned a renomination of the common specie of the country, and because he has earned a renomination by representing the interests of the common specie of the country, and because he has earned a renomination by representing the interests of the common specie of the country, and because he has earned a renomination by representing the interests of the country that the people can put their finger on every public question of the day, cannot be nominated, in my opinion the reaction being only that the people can not yote on presidential nominees.

Any day, of course, may bring developments to change the positions of the call Privilege.

There seems to be an increasing that about Roosevelt, but I do not
