DRAFT HORSE IS PROFITABLE

Breeding of Animal Has Come to Be Money-Making Adjunct to Diversified Farming.

The breeding of the draft horse has come to be a very profitable adjunct to diversified farming, and at no time during the last fifteen or twenty years has the price been higher for good draft and heavy farm horses.

While the automobile may, to a certain extent, have replaced the horses for city delivery, writes George P. Grant of the Minnesota station, still the bulk of the farm work is done with horses; and the prices for good stock are as high or higher than ever. There is not the demand for medium quality and light weight horses that there used to be, but good, smooth draft and heavy farm horses are bringing good prices.

There is little reason why the farmer should not continue to raise horses of this kind, since brood mares and stallions, too, for that matter, will produce stronger and better colts for having been kept steadily at work on the farm.

On the home farm we have raised some of the cleanest, best colts and worked the mares right along. There are certain conditions under which it does not seem to be practical to put the breeding stock into harness, but on many farms these conditions are not met. Where a farmer must rely almost wholly on hired help to drive his teams, it may not be practicable to put pure-bred stock into harness. If the farm boy shows an interest in horses, raise some good drafters.

Put a good harness on them, and tell the boy this is his team to work, and there will be no question about the care they will get. You will find the boys after a day's work are currying the horses, making sure they are comfortable. I speak from experience, and know that when these horses are offered for sale they will bring a good price.

GERMAN TO FLY OVER OCEAN

Dr. Paul Gans Will Attempt to Cross Atlantic in Dirigible Early in Month of March.

New York.—Dr. Paul Gans, who is to attempt to cross the Atlantic in a dirigible, has sailed for Europe to make ready for his start from Tenerife early in March. The distinguished German aeronaut departed in high spirits. He has succeeded in making arrangements whereby his route to the Florida coast will be marked by the warships of two or three nations.

Mr. Beckman, the assistant secretary of the navy, told me in Wash-ton last week that there can be no objection to having a fleet of American warships come out to me," said Dr. Gans, "provided, of course, nothing arises in the meantime to call for the presence of the warships elsewhere. Admiral Osterhaus of the North Atlantic fleet told me yesterday that his fleet will be off Guantanamo, Cuba, until March 16, which will be just the right time for the trip. "Arrangements have been made already with Germany, and perhaps with Spain, that insure a line of ships across the Atlantic. The idea is not to have them stationed out on the sea, but to have them sailing in relays. For instance, from the other side a ship will start, say, twenty hours ahead of me, another sixteen, and so

ANGER CAUSES SUGAR BLOOD

Baltimore, Md.—Anger, according to Dr. W. B. Cannon of Harvard, causes more sugar in the blood than serenity. This, he said, explained the great demand of the muscles for sweets.

BARBER'S POSTHUMOUS JOKE

Elizabeth, N. J.—The champion wit of Elizabeth, even while dying, planned a joke which he could spring in death.

He was George Selper, an Italian-American, and for many years conducted a barber shop at 422 Front street. His original sayings attracted much patronage and he was reputed as being wealthy.

Selper's last request was that a silver plate bearing an inscription be placed on the top of his coffin. When his friends gathered to pay their last respects they did not know whether to be amused or shocked, when they read the inscription: "It reads: 'You're next.'"

Every Dollar of an Ad-Reader's Money is Above Par!

Frequently Its Buying Power is Actually Doubled

Your dollars vary in value as they vary in purchasing power. The man or woman who studies advertisements is able frequently, to make one dollar do the usual work of two.

And the experienced reader of advertisements will always make a dollar command a premium—make it buy more than a dollar's worth, as figured on "ruling prices" of things.

How much "above par" are the dollars in your pocket worth? It will depend on how closely you study the buying opportunities outlined in the store ads.
