Macaulay an Infant Prodigy.
Macaulay must not be omitted when there is talk of infant prodigies, says London paper. From the age of three he read incessantly, and by the time he was seven he had begun a compendium of universal history. At night he wrote a treatise designed to convert the natives of Malabar to Christianity, while one visit at an early age to Strawberry Hill was enough to enable him to carry the catalogue of the Oxford collections in his memory ever afterward. At a later date Macaulay expressed the opinion that he could reproduce "Paradise Lost" and "The Pilgrim's Progress" if every existing copy were destroyed.

As tillers of the soil, earth worms constitute a great army.
Put kerosene on the roosts frequently to keep down chicken lice.
Teach the colt to eat a mixture of oats, wheat bran and linseed meal.
There is something in the milk that the calf needs, and should have.
Remember to treat your cow with consideration in these days and nights.
The demands on the foal's digestive system for nourishment is very great.
A flock of ewes rightly handled should produce 125 per cent. of lambs.
It is the income from each sheep that should determine the value of the flock.

NOTICE TO REDEEM LAND.
To John Sparhawk, Jr., and the heirs at law or devisees of Joseph R. Tatum, Deceased, and of Rachel Robertson, Deceased:
You, and each of you, are hereby notified that at a sale of real estate for non-payment of State and County taxes, made by the Sheriff of Hyde County, on the first Monday in May, 1911, I became the purchaser of all of that tract of land in said County alleged to belong to John Sparhawk, Jr., and to the heirs at law or devisees of Joseph A. Tatum, deceased, and of Rachel Robertson, deceased, which land is the same conveyed by John Hall to Joseph R. Tatum, by deed dated April, 29th, 1860, duly recorded in the Register's Office of Hyde County, part of which was also conveyed by said Joseph R. Tatum to Rachel Robertson, being all of the land owned by any of the parties above named or referred to in Hyde County, all of whom are hereby notified that unless redemption thereof is made within one year from the day of sale, I will be entitled to a deed for said real estate as prescribed by law in such cases. Said claimants are further notified that the amount required to redeem the same is One Hundred and Seventeen Dollars, which amount includes the penalty and costs authorized by law.
(Signed) WALTER JONES.
