New Boarder Tells Table Neighbor His Infatigable Method in Handling Landladies.
The new boarder dropped in at dinner time and sat next to the only other man at the table. The new boarder thought it was up to him to be affable and friendly.
"I suppose you've boarded here for some time," he asked the solitary individual.
"Yes, quite awhile."
"How is it, any good?"
"I find it pretty fair. I've no complaint to make."
"Landlady treat you decent?"
"Well, perhaps I ought to—"
"Never mind, never mind," said the new boarder. "I'm on. Did you ever try chucking her under the chin. That's always the way to get on with these boarding-house landladies. I can always get 'em on my side. Treat these old dames nicely and I'll bet you can live in the house a month and never be asked for a dollar. Watch me hand her the coin when she comes in. I'll bet that this time tomorrow she'll be handing me the best in the shop. Poor old girl! She looks as if she'd had her troubles. Probably married to some meanly rust who never did a day's work in his life. She earns the coin and she spends it. Watch me give her the real sympathy. Say, my dearie's Smith. Let's see, I didn't hear your name."
"No—I didn't mention my name—it doesn't matter much—I'm merely the landlady's husband."

Sounds Made by Fish.
The shrimp, when caught, grunts, groans and gapes pretty much after the manner of a human being in distress. Carp and gold fish frequently utter curious sounds, but hardly sounds in the meaning of the term here used, inasmuch as their sounds are produced by approaching the surface of the water and blowing out air in bubbles with a rippling noise in heard.

Musicians sing Wit.
M. Camille Saint-Saens, the great musician, and the life-long friend of animals, took into his home a little dog. The earnest composer waited his chance and notified the owner of the house. Soon a letter arrived from the musician which said, "Monseigneur, my house is not a zoological garden! Saint-Saens sent back the answer, "Monseigneur, if you wish your house to be a zoological garden you have only to live in it!"
