CE AT DISTRICT MEETING PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF ODD FELLOWS

There will be special authors at First Probysterian Church to Sellows was held at Ropersonville that $1.50 o'clock gregaratory to so observance of the Spersonvill of sately and proved to be one of the best and most interesting meetings are are area of the standard and others are are sized to attend and others of the local lodge gave a barge outling invited.

The telephone stel sits in her chair
And listern to solosi from averywhere.
She hear all the gones, she hears all the nows,
She knows who is happy and who has the blues.
She knows all of rour loys,
She knows all of our trobles,
She knows all of our stelle,
She knows all of our stelle,
She knows are rear man who talks mean to bie with
She knows every time we are out with the hoys,
the knows every time we are out with the hoys,
the knows avery time we are out with the hoys.

She knows away time we are out with the hoys, the heart is exceeded with the application of the second such follows applications the knows away seems who has a dark past. The fact there is ansered beneath each amoy curl. Of that quits, damur-kooting telephone girl. If the telephone girl told dil she knows, it would turn half our friends into bitterest foes. The could now a small wind that would noon be a gale and engulf as in fall.

She could let up a story which gaining in force. Would cause half our rives to sue for tivorce. She could get all him churches mixed up in a fight, and turn all our days to surrowing night. In fact this could neep the whole town in a stew if she would call a tanth part of the things she knew. Oh, brother, now doesn't it make your head whire when you think in how much you owe the telephone.
