ous success of the occasion. They performed their difficult task well Nothing was left undone.

Hospitality, for which this order is not d, was again demonstrated in ward in the city one instance might be mentioned: On the first day of April of this year not a member of the lodge was in arrears—every one had paid up in full. This is a record to be proud of and no lodge outside of Washington can make as good

The toastmaster of the evening was Dr. Jno, C. Rodman who is always most happy in this role. He presided with ease and made all feel good and jolly with his witty say-ings and the unique way in which he presented each speaker. All the speeches were impromptu and spoken in a way to please and attract.

The following gentlemen responded to toasts: Harry McMullen, W. B. Rodman Jr., J. F. Tayloe, H. C. Car-tor, Edward L. Stewart, B. W. Tay-lor, Norwood L. Simmons, J. F. Cowell, Dr. D. T. Tayloe, Fred W. Ayers, W. C. Ayers, C. L.
