MANY THINK APPENDICITIS NEW DISEASE

Appendicitis: Probably the most talked of and the least understood of diseases is appendicitis. Many think the trouble is a new one that has been invented by surgeons as an excuse to cut you up and have the pleasure that it gives them to perform a fine operation and incidentally set a big fee.

The fact is that appendicitis has been existent with civilization, and probably existed with the earliest men. It is an inflammation of the vermiform appendix, from which people have suffered and died for centuries under the name of indamation of the bowels or some other.

The vermiform appendix is so called from the wormlike shape. The two words are from Latin roots, the first of which, verm, is the worm, the same as that from which comes vermifuge—literally a remedy to drive away worms, vermifuge, wormlike animal life, vermifuge, an agent to kill worms, and so on. Appendix, suggests its own meaning in the same way, being from the same Latin root as appendage—an offshoot, tail, affix, adjunct, etc.

The vermiform appendix is situated in the right side of the abdomen about half way between the navel and the groin, and is an apparently useless attachment at the end of the small intestine. Above the beginning of the large intestine is a pouch like enlargement called Caecum. Of this the vermiform appendix is the attachment mentioned.

This sacculiform structure is of course a mucous membrane lining. Under certain conditions, irritating substances are forced into this vacuum that set up inflammation, which, if not relieved, causes suppuration, perforation and gangrene. This fecal matter or pus—or both—will pass into the abdominal cavity, setting up further inflammations, that may, or may not become dangerous to life, according to the treatment that the trouble receives.

The entire trouble is usually caused by constipation. Without going into technical details of how it is brought about, the mere and continuous over crowding of the lower, and small intestines and the accessory functions set up inflammation that extends to the appendix, which relaxes, and fecal matter is crowded into it, which is resented by the interior of the appendix, with the result mentioned above.

When you have acquired appendicitis, you will know it, and immediate treatment is necessary, which does not mean the knife of the surgeon. Immediate relief of the impacted colon and over charged Caecum is necessary. Large injections of warm water or infusions of spearmint—three or four quarts of each enema—should be given, and repeated, if necessary, until free evacuations are produced.

When the appendix is inflamed, a large and hot poultice of mullein leaf, containing some lobelia herb, and sprinkled lightly with ginger, should be applied to the abdomen directly over the appendix. Give, internally, every half hour, a teaspoonful of an infusion of lady-slippers and one half teaspoonful of lobelia to a cupful of boiling hot water. Sustain the patient's strength by broth, malted milk or other liquid foods and require perfect quiet in bed. Keep the bowels active by injections, never using cathartics.

After convalescence, eat sparingly of easily digested foods, avoid constipation, and that will end appendicitis.

BASEBALL NEWS

It looks as though Manager Mack, of the Athletics, has picked up another star in Pitcher Pennock.

"Jeff" Pfeffer, the former Chicago Boston pitcher, is managing a team in the Greater Boston League.

"Chick" Gandil, the former Montreal first baseman, is making good with Clark Griffith's Washington team.

Winning three straight from the Brooklyn Dodgers gave the Cincinnati Reds a good start on their Eastern tour.

With Donlin, Wagner and Hoff, man playing regularly the Pirates should be able to cuddle up a little closer to the leaders.

Vean Gregg, Cleveland's great southpaw, is not only pitching great ball but manages to hit the safe wallops now and then.

Despite the fact that the Boston Braves have been up against it, Mc-Donald keeps up a rattling good game at the third turn.

Zinn and Simmons, recruits, and Bert Daniels, who are slated for the can a few weeks ago, are the only Highlanders hitting the ball.

Philadelphia fans recently presented "Kid" Gleason, the White Sox coach, with a $700 watch. The "Kid" says the watch contains all the latest improvements with the exception of a push button.

The Philadelphia Quakers are now able to put a strong team in the field, and the other National League teams are booked for a real battle when they meet Charlie Dooin's outfit.

Pitcher Baumgartner is holding his own with the St. Louis Browns.
So far this season the youngest has defeated Ed Walsh and George Mullin, two veteran stars of the American League.

The Harvard University baseball team will be without the services of "Sam" Felton, the big twirler, for the remainder of the season. Felton is in difficulty with the college office on account of his studies.

Manager McGraw, of the Giants, is well fixed in outfield material. If Devore, Sudgrass and Murray were incapacitated at the same time Mc-Graw could use Becker, McCormick and Burns and still have one of the strongest outfields in the National League.

When the train bearing the Cubs arrived at Syracuse the other day the dining car of a west bound train stopped beside Jim Sheppard's window. Some of the New York Yankees were having breakfast, but Sheppard didn't recognize any of them.
Later he asked what team that was and was informed, "I knew they were ball players," said Jim, "because they were such tough looking guys."

HACKERAY AS A REPORTER

Future Great Novelist Just the Man to Enjoy Such Spicy Repartee as the Following.

Hackeray once acted as police reporter for the London Dispatch, and performed his work in no perfunctory way. How the future novelist must have enjoyed observing and recording this bit of courtroom humor:

Pat Fogarty went off the way from Manchester to London in order to thrust Mick Fitzpatrick, which he did, winding up the performance with the assistance of an "awful horsehoe."

"He was detected and brought before Mr. Justice Simpleman.

"Well, sir," began the court, "you came here from Manchester, did you?"
"Your honor has answered correct."
"You see the complainant's head; it was cut by a sharp instrument. Do you know what cut it?"

"Ain't your honor after sayin' that a sharp instrument did it?"
"I see you mean to equivocate," said the court, becoming restive. "Now, sir, you cut that head; you came here for cut it, did you not? Now, sir, what motive brought you to London?"

"The locomotive, per honor."
"Equivocating again, you scoundrel!" said the court, waxing warm.
Raising up the horsehoe, and holding it before Pat, he said, "Do you see this horsehoe, sir?"

"Is it a horsehoe, yer honor?"
"Don't you see it is, sir? Are you blind? Can you not tell at once that it is a horsehoe?"
"Bedad, no, yer honor."
"No?" angrily.

"No, yer honor; but can yer self tell?"
"Of course I can, you stupid Irishman."

Mode of Concealment.
"I want to keep the real facts concerning this transaction a secret," said the enterprising man. "Then," replied the sage counselor, "I should immediately start a controversy concerning it. Then so many theories will be advanced that the facts will never become public."
