Bryan For Kern. At 10:10 o'clock this morning it was announced that the Bryan headquarters that Senator Kern, of Indiana, had been agreed upon as the Progressive candidate for the temporary chairmanship against Judge Alton B. Parker of New York. Bryan is slated to speak to the convention for Senator Kern.

Bryan the Issue. William Jennings Bryan is the only issue in the National Democratic Convention today. Whether he would run over the opposition forces headed by such men as Thomas Taggart of Indiana, Roger Sullivan, of Illinois, Charles Murphy of New York or whether he would lose because of his insistence that the Conservatives had no right in the convention is the problem to be decided by a vote on the convention floor.

The Nebraskan declared this morning that he expects an easy victory. Bryan For Temporary Chairman. It is the plan of Bryan to become a candidate for temporary chairman against Parker. The delegates and visitors started for the convention hall early.

Convention Messed. There was much confusion when the convention hall doors opened owing to the inexperience of the ticket handlers. It is now raining. Bryan in his fight on Parker finds that he is bucking against a machine similar to the Chicago machine and preparations are complete for the steam roller.

temporary roll as made by the Executive committee was then called upon which there was no fight. The committee had followed precedent in each case the regular delegation was seated subject to the action of the Credentials committee.

The convention was called to order at 12:17. Chairman Mack found then that 300 delegates were still on the outside of the convention hall because of the inexperience of the doorkeepers. There are 5000 people in the outside in the rain. 12:33 Secretary Urey Woodson read the roll call of the convention which was followed by the invocation of Cardinal Gibbons. Cheers from the delegates followed. Chairman Mack ordered the aisles cleared but the crowds refused to move. Taggart of Indiana and Chairman Mack held a rapid fire conversation. Chairman Mack then announced the names of the temporary officers as suggested by the National Committee.

The mention of Judge Parker's name brought forth applause from New York, Illinois and Indiana delegations. The applause was only mild when Bryan entered the hall shortly before the opening of the session and took his seat alongside of Cardinal Gibbons.

As soon as the reading of the list of temporary officers had been made Bryan walked from his seat to the platform. His face was very pale, set and rigid. Wild applause greeted his appearance. The Nebraskan tried to still it by shaking his head but the cheers continued. The New York, Indiana, Illinois delegations remained in their seats but the other state delegations are wildly cheering.

Kern Named. When the demonstration had ceased Bryan placed Kern's name in nomination for the temporary chairmanship. He made a speech endorsing Kern saying "Now that triumph has come I feel that the song of victory should be sung by one whose heart has been in the fight. Kern stood by me four years ago when the foundation for the present victory was laid." Bryan was interrupted by jeers from New York, other delegations and the galleries. Bryan in part said: "I appeal to you to see that the democrats of this country can say Democrats are true to principle and can't be frightened by your Ryans or bought by your Belmonts. The committee's candidate Parker, was chosen eight years ago by men who had decided that it would be good policies to try to win the campaign by trading with men who had defeated us in two previous campaigns. The country hasn't forgotten," said Bryan. There was wild cheering greeting this statement. Bryan concluded his speech at 1:30 and then Senator Kern took the platform.

Mack Confused. There was much confusion when the convention hall doors opened owing to the inexperience of the ticket handlers. It is now raining. Bryan in his fight on Parker finds that he is bucking against a machine similar to the Chicago machine and preparations are complete for the steam roller.

EVIDENCE OF PROTECTION IS A MISTAKE

New York Factory Investigating Commission's Damning Revelation.

296,000 WOMEN AT WORK IN FACTORIES

Special to the Daily News. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—If in order to be convinced that the present policy of excessive protection is a mistake, the American public simply demands evidence that workers in the most highly protected industries receive no protection whatsoever, then the country will go overwhelmingly Democratic this fall. The evidence is accessible.

The Lawrence, Mass., strike revealed that the men, women and children workers in the great woolen mills—the most highly protected industry of all—receive $5, $6 and $7 a week wages for full time. The Stanley committee showed that workers in the blast furnaces of the steel mills—the second most highly protected industry—work 12 hours a day, seven days a week, and are miserably treated and underpaid.

And now comes the most damning revelation of all, in the report of the New York Factory Investigating commission, showing that there are 296,000 women at work in the highly protected factories of New York cities, and that the average weekly wage of these women toilers is $5. The proprietors of the factories told the investigators time and again that they "use women in place of men wherever possible, as they are cheaper and do not strike for better wages or conditions."

The report of this commission has been verified by independent investigators of a big New York newspaper. Here are some of the ways the factories and mill owners "protected American workingmen."

Boys' fingers, when cut off in the "punch" machines in the metal working shops, are quoted at $150 a pair singly, they are worth $150. Women, some of them gray haired, stand ten hours daily stripping pork and making sausage.

Women, some young and some old work at core making in the steel and iron foundries, while they breathe carbon monoxide, a poisonous gas, liberated by the ovens in the same room.

Women polish marble with corrosive acids in many of the corble shops, work that would tax the strength of robust men. Many thousands of children are legally employed long hours, doing the work of adults; children can do some classes of work as fast as men, for $3 and $4 a week. In one factory the entire output is made by children, the only adult about the place being the owner.

I. O. O. F. SINGING CLASS CHARMS ITS AUDIENCE

One of the best performances given in Washington in sometime was that rendered by a class from the Odd Fellows Orphan Asylum, Goldsboro, N. C., at the Public School Auditorium last evening. SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Several thousand club women, representing women's clubs of every description and in every section of the country are gathered here to attend the eleventh biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which formally opened here today and will continue in session until July 5. In the evening meeting at the Sutter Street Pavilion the visiting delegates will be welcomed by Mrs. E. G. Deniston, president of the local board and other officials and a number of responses will be made by leading delegates. BATH WINS GAME FROM THE PINETOWN TEAM

In a one sided game Saturday Bath defeated Pinetown on the Bath diamond by a score of 11 to 1. The game began by Bath scoring two runs in the first inning and Pinetown scoring one. The fans on the firing line began to warm up and the prospects were that the game would be close and interesting, but by the time the fourth inning was played the game was decided in favor of the Bath team as they had scored nine runs while Pinetown had only one. The playing of Edmundson at first and Bridgers at short contributed largely toward winning the game while Winfield nailed a long drive to center which caused the fans to sit up and take notice. Bridgers, L. did the long driving for the team while Tyler made four clean hits out of five times at the bat. The Pinetown team played after the usual manner of a losing nine but promised to do better next time.

LIVING COST IS THE BIGGEST ISSUE OF ALL

Its Solution More Vital Than the Identity of Next President of United States.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF THE SLOGAN

Tariff Promises of Republicans May Sweep Them From Power.

Special to the Daily News. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—How is the cost of living to be reduced? This is the most important question before the American people. Its solution is more vital far than the identity of the next President.

Under the present system of excessive protection, those who toil are each year finding it more difficult to make a living, while the comparative handful of millionaires who chiefly reap the benefit of this toll spend their time in idleness and dissipation, their fortunes meanwhile increasing in proportion to the cost of living.

The result is that many Americans particularly the hardworking poor, are becoming plainly disgusted with the way things are going; disgusted even with this form of government, and are turning to socialism. This feeling on the part of the wage earner is simply history repeating itself. Extravagance and poverty, the history of republics shows, never made good bed-fellows in a "cradle of liberty." It is obviously important that the high cost of living problem be solved the better for the republic. Which party will solve it, the Republican party or the Democratic party? The Republican theory has always been that the heavier the tariff tax on the things eaten, worn or used by the people, the better for that people. The Democratic theory is that to reduce taxation is to reduce prices. The people must choose between the two policies, the policy of protection or the policy of merely enough tariff to raise sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of the government.

History Repeats Itself. If the Republicans are swept from power on November 5 because of their failure to live up to tariff promises, it will not be the first time that the tariff operated to the same end for the party of protection.

During the war the tariff had been elevated to the skies but afterwards the Democrats tried to have it reduced. By 1880 the Republicans had to notice the demand. They promised downward revision but in 1882 passed a bill making only slight reductions. The public got mad—just like it is now over the Payne-Aldrich bill—and in 1884 elected Cleveland.

When the Republicans got into power again they boosted the tariff, which had been lowered by the Democrats. Prices went up, the rank and file became indignant, and in 1892 again made Grover Cleveland president.

CONDITION MORE FAVORABLE. The condition of the three children of Major and Mrs. Wiley C. Rodman who have been critically ill for the past several days, are reported to be more favorable today. Drs. Rodman and Blount are the attending physicians.

FOUR ADDITIONS. At the morning service of the First Methodist Church last Sunday the pastor announced four additions to the church roll by letter. The parties being present were invited to the chancel where the right hand of Christian Fellowship was extended by the pastor and the members of the church.
